STEEL STRIKE SETTLED; 27,000 RESUME JOBS

FAIR Enough

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Of all the occupations that lure young men I can think of none off-hand which takes more and gives less than prize fighting and wrestling. Most fighters and wrestlers do not make as much as a fair living in their active years, a fact which is obscured by talk and publicity regarding big gate receipts at the few important productions.

They live in cheap hotels or rooming houses when they are on the road, they suffer great pain from broken bones and other injuries, and many of the fighters become feeble-minded from blows on the head which injure their brains. The great majority of them wind up broke and unfit for common working jobs, and have nothing to show for their careers but a few old and brittle clippings and their scars.

Blindness is an occupational disease of both fighting and wrestling, and even those stars who collect fortunes usually lose them one way or another, although that, of course, cannot be held against the professions themselves. These fortunes are exaggerated, however, for people think of them in large, round numbers and forget that a champion or near-champion pays a manager from one-third to one-half of his earnings, and is subject to the federal law, and, in some cases, state income taxes.

He also is expected to give away money in proportion to his reputed earnings, and, in (See PEGLER, Page 2)

BOMBS RAIN ON BILBAO AGAIN

BILBAO, Spain. (AP)—An insurgent air fleet roared over this besieged Basque capital three times today and rained bombs on the Erandio district. Two persons were killed, 10 injured.

Eight miles to the north, in the Solube mountain sector, the insurgent army smashed at Basque defenders in a dawn attack. Airplanes aided the column.

Bilbao's defenders clung to their positions on Mount Solube.

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU—

BY BOB BURNS

You may not always get a reward for being courteous but at least if you're discourteous, you usually have to pay for it. My Uncle Hod used to be station agent at Sycamore Junction and early one Monday mornin' when he went down to open up, he found a city man there jest stornin' and ravin' because the waitin' room wasn't open. The man said he was waitin' for the north-bound train and demanded the right to go in where he could sit down until the train came.

Uncle Hod didn't say nothin'. He jest unlocked the waitin' room door and the man went in and sat down. Along towards the middle of the afternoon the man started to get impatient and he started to pace up and down in the waitin' room and then when it got along about dark, he couldn't stand it anymore.

He went up to Uncle Hod and he says, "For goodness sakes, what time is that north-bound train due here?" Uncle Hod says, "Well now, it usually git in here along about Wednesday."

SUPERVISORS INVITE 50 TO MEET

Seek Opinion on Total Amount of Proposed
Finance Plan

Fifty water leaders from all parts of Orange county will gather tonight in the courthouse to discuss the $15,000,000 water program, The Journal learned today.

Members of the board of supervisors have invited 10 representatives from each supervisorial district to attend the session tonight, it was learned from an official source.

Main object of the meeting, it was announced, is to secure a cross-section of opinion from water leaders of the county as to whether the county should call a $2,500,000 or $3,500,000 bond election to finance Orange county's share of the army's dam construction program.

The meeting tonight is one of a series being held throughout the county in an attempt to decide on the amount of the proposed bond issue. The session will be held in the room of the board of supervisors, unless it becomes too crowded. Otherwise it will be transferred to a courtroom.

Supervisors N. E. West and Steele Finley have said they favor the smaller bond issue, which they said is ample for Orange county's share in the cost of construction of the eight dams to be built.

Other supervisors feel that the extra million should be added in order to do channel improvement and supplemental work in connection with the water program.

LEGISLATOR KILLS MAN

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Representative B. E. Quinn, of Beaumont, gray-haired veteran of the Texas legislature, was charged with the hotel slaying of Herman Hicks, Houston civil engineer, shortly after dawn today, in a complaint filed with a justice of the peace.

Quinn was immediately released under $1000 bond.

Hicks, Quinn said, was one of two men who rapped on his hotel room door. He told the Associated Press he fired in self defense when the pair threatened to kill him.

The representative said he complained to the room clerk that noise "going on all night" in another room would not allow him to sleep and that about daybreak two men began beating on his door.

When he opened the door there was a scuffle, he said. He was struck several times and a small caliber pistol he had was discharged.

Dick Merrill and Lambie End Ocean Hop at New York

FLOYD BENNETT FIELD, New York. (AP)—Dick Merrill and Jack Lambie landed their twin-motored monoplane here at 3:30 p. m. today, to complete their round trip transatlantic flight. Hurtling through the "white darkness" of a drizzling fog, the fliers arrived here 24 hours and 22 minutes after leaving Southport, England.

They were compelled to make a brief landing at the Squantum Naval Air station in Massachusetts to re-check their bearings before proceeding to the starting point of their flight.

Dark clouds hung low over the rain-drenched field when the silvery monoplane glided swiftly in from the north.

Approximately 5000 persons, keyed to a high pitch of excitement by several hours of waiting, watched the landing.

The two fliers clambered out of the cabin almost as soon as the plane came to a halt on the concrete runway and grinned toward the cheering crowd.

CARRY CORONATION LETTER TO PRESIDENT

LONDON. (AP)—Dick Merrill, flying the Atlantic to New York City today, carried a "coronation letter" from Special United States Envoy James W. Gerard for President Roosevelt.

The letter will have special interest for the President, who is a philatelist, because it bears one of the new coronation stamps issued yesterday.

ECKENER VIEWS SHIP'S RUINS

LAKEHURST, N. J. (AP)—His face a mask, the old master of Zeppelin, Dr. Hugo Eckener, saw for the first time today the gaunt ruins of his flagship, The Hindenburg.

Silently he surveyed the almost shapeless remains of the great dirigible on the sandy naval air station landing field.

The chief of the German Zeppelin Company prepared for his inspection of the wreckage by first viewing motion pictures and photographs of the Hindenburg's flaming destruction May 6 in which 35 lives were lost. Members of the official six-man German investigating committee which he heads watched the photographic chronicle of disaster with him.

The German commissioners surveyed the blackened skeleton. They have indicated they would accept the findings of the commerce department investigation on the cause of the disaster.

Braddock-Louis Match Is Okehed

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Federal Judge Guy L. Fike denied today the application of Madison Square Garden for a temporary injunction to restrain James J. Braddock, world's heavyweight boxing champion, from fighting Joe Louis in Chicago June 22.

The New York sports arena had sought to block the fight on the grounds Braddock was under contract to fight Max Schmeling, German challenger, in the Garden earlier in June.

Pupils Stage One-Day Strike

TEMPLE CITY, Calif. (AP)—School children of this city were back in their classrooms today after staging a strike in protest against the discharge of six teachers.

The pupils paraded through the streets yesterday carrying signs reading: "We want our teachers back or W. W. W. (we won't work)."

A group of mothers of the students asked C. Frantz Mercer, principal-superintendent of the school, to resign. He declined.

Family Watches As A Heroic Mother Dies

FISH BILL TO ASSEMBLY

Legislature to Vote
On Preserve in Few Days Now

Political observers were marveling today at unexpected action of the state legislature yesterday afternoon in removing Orange county's fishing preserve bill from committee and placing it before the assembly for a vote within a few days.

It was agreed that the bill was doomed to die in assembly fish and game committee, where negative votes were recorded on two occasions when Assemblyman Clyde Watson sought for approval.

Forty-one votes favored the move, it was reported. If this plurality can be held for vote on the bill, there is no doubt but what Orange county will get the fishing preserve, which will extend either one or two miles to sea along the entire coastline and will prevent operation of purse seiners within the sanctuary.

However, Watson and Assemblyman Thomas Kuchel, Anaheim, mustered sufficient force on the floor yesterday to bring the bill from committee and before the lower house.

Forty-one votes favored the move, it was reported. If this plurality can be held for vote on the bill, there is no doubt but what Orange county will get the fishing preserve, which will extend either one or two miles to sea along the entire coastline and will prevent operation of purse seiners within the sanctuary.

Watch Sardine Bill
Considerable attention of local supporters of the bill was focused on the so-called sardine bill, presented by Senator Thomas, approved by the senate and now before the assembly for a vote this afternoon or evening. If the fish measure, which would bring offshore floating reduction plants under state jurisdiction, is approved, a favorable vote probably will be given the Watson measure, it was believed.

The county's bill is similar to one adopted two years ago and later found unconstitutional by the fourth district court of appeals on a technicality.

Judge 'Holds His Fire' In Battle Over Speeding Fines

By KENNETH ADAMS

Judge Mitchell had said that the "drive" on speeders has given Santa Ana a black eye, and furthermore that the amount of traffic tickets being written give him plenty of work to do without adding two more motorcycle officers, as has been proposed.

And there are only five officers, instead of the seven mentioned by Judge Mitchell yesterday.

Police Chief Howard remarked that the judge might work eight hours a day as do other city employees, instead of five hours a day.

And after reading which suggestion yesterday, the judge remarked that come to think of it, he did come down to work a little early today. And then he chuckled some more!

Laurence Loses $150 Because He Refuses to Bet

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Laurence N. Polk's three companions in a golf foursome agreed to pay each other $50 for any hole-in-one scored during their match. Polk declined to join the wager.

Polk held his tee shot on the 143-yard ninth.

FIX RANKING FOR WALLY

Duke's Bride Is to Be
Eighth in Royal
Precedence

LONDON. (AP)—The future ranking of Wallis Warfield as Duchess of Windsor apparently has been definitely fixed, informed persons disclosed tonight, by changing the duke's Order of the Garter banner to a position behind that of his three younger brothers.

That, it was stated with seeming authority, would make the future Duchess of Windsor eighth lady of the realm.

How They Rank
She would rank below the present queen, Elizabeth; the queen mother, Mary; Princess Elizabeth, the heiress presumptive; Princess Margaret Rose, the king's second child; the Princess Royal, sister of the king; the Duchess of Gloucester, wife of the third Windsor brother; and the Duchess of Kent, wife of the youngest brother. That is the order of precedence.

It was disclosed that the duke's banner had been removed in secret from its premier position in St. George's chapel, Windsor, and hung in fourth place.

Thus the duke himself now ranks below the king, George VI, the Duke of Gloucester and the Duke of Kent.

"H. R. H." Title Doomed

Informed persons said the question of whether the duke's bride-to-be would be called "Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Windsor," had been thrown back upon the government. The government is said to be opposed to the "H. R. H." designation.

One unofficial source said Edward apparently had no chance of gaining "H. R. H." for Mrs. Warfield.

Sources close to the Duke of Windsor intimated the deadlock, over which the royal family has been said to be divided, was considerably eased if not broken.

Accident Driver Faces Accusation

An information charging Vance Reed with felony drunken driving was filed today in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court. Reed recently was held to answer in the Costa Mesa justice court.

Reed is charged with injuring six persons in an accident on the coast highway near Newport Beach on April 18.

MINE KILLS 8 ON WARSHIP

20 Others on British Ship
Hurt By Blast in Spanish Waters

LONDON. (AP)—The admiralty tonight announced that a preliminary investigation "suggests" the destroyer Hunter struck a floating mine prior to yesterday's explosion, off Almeria, Spain, which killed eight of her crew.

Spanish government sources at Valencia and Almeria insisted that the blast was caused by an attack from "a German submarine."

The official announcement came as the admiralty launched an investigation at Almeria to determine who laid the mine and fix responsibility for what observers believed would be a stern protest.

Twenty other members of the crew of the warship were injured, some of them seriously, by the shattering explosion which ripped open the Hunter's bows in mid-afternoon.

Dispatches from Gibraltar said the destroyer, one of Britain's newest men-of-war, was on duty as a unit of the international "hands off Spain" patrol when she struck the floating mine about four miles off the southwestern corner of Spain where it juts out into the Mediterranean.

Fire Menaces Peralta School

Instant action on the part of State Forester Joe Scherman from Orange saved the Peralta schoolhouse in Santa Ana canyon from destruction by fire yesterday afternoon.

Sparks from an incinerator fired weeds in the school yard, it was reported, and the building was endangered before Scherman and Rollo Hazeltine arrived in the state forestry truck, stationed in Orange. About an acre of weeds and grass was burned and a number of orange trees scorched, it was reported.

All highway and rail communication to the outside was severed, and the airport was flooded, preventing takeoff and landing of planes.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska. (AP)—Half of Fairbanks' 2100 residents were surrounded by water varying from a few inches to three feet deep today, as the Chena river sent a swirling mass of water and ice into the city's business and residential districts.

Twelve members of a Hollywood motion picture company, led by Director Norman Dawn of Republic Pictures Corp., were marooned on a nearby island, unreported since early yesterday. They were said to have sufficient supplies.

A forecast of cold weather gave refugees hope that the waters would recede. Many flooded homes were evacuated. Residents sought shelter in hotels and a large concrete school building.

WALKOUT BUT 2 DAYS OLD IS ENDED

Five-Point Agreement Is Signed By J. and L.
Firm With Union

PITTSBURGH. (AP)—The nation's first major steel strike in 18 years ended today with a tentative peace agreement between the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation and John L. Lewis steel union forces.

Chairman Philip Murray of the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee ordered pickets withdrawn from the company's plant and an immediate resumption of operations by the 27,000 workers.

He said a tentative agreement signed with the company provided for an election by next week to determine whether the union should have sole collective bargaining rights in the company's mills.

Five Provisions

The agreement, Murray stated, made these five provisions:

1. Immediate ending of the strike.

2. Return to work of all employees on the company's payroll May 12 (the day the strike started) without discrimination.

3. A consent election under supervision of the national labor relations board not later than May 20 to determine who should be the exclusive collective bargaining agency for the workers.

4. Agreement by the corporation to cooperate with the labor board in preparing for the election.

5. Pending results of the election, agreement by the company to observe the terms of a collective bargaining contract made by the union with Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation last March.

First Pact In 30 Years

Settlement of the strike was announced at conclusion of a conference between Murray and Chairman H. E. Lewis of the corporation, in which James F. Dewey, a federal labor conciliator, and Clarence Moser, of the state department of labor, participated.

Lewis said it was the first agreement made by the company with organized labor in more than 30 years.

Lewis said the employees would lose only two days work because of the strike and that between one and three months of back-log orders were waiting for resumption of production.

FARM BUREAU PICNIC WILL ATTRACT 1000 TO IRVINE PARK

STATE CHIEF IS TO GIVE ADDRESS

Music and Games Will Be Features of Big Event

Nearly a thousand persons from Orange county's farms and ranches will hear R. W. Blackburn, president of the California Farm Bureau federation, speak on "Agricultural Influences in a Period of Great Economic Changes" tomorrow at the annual farm bureau picnic in Irvine park.

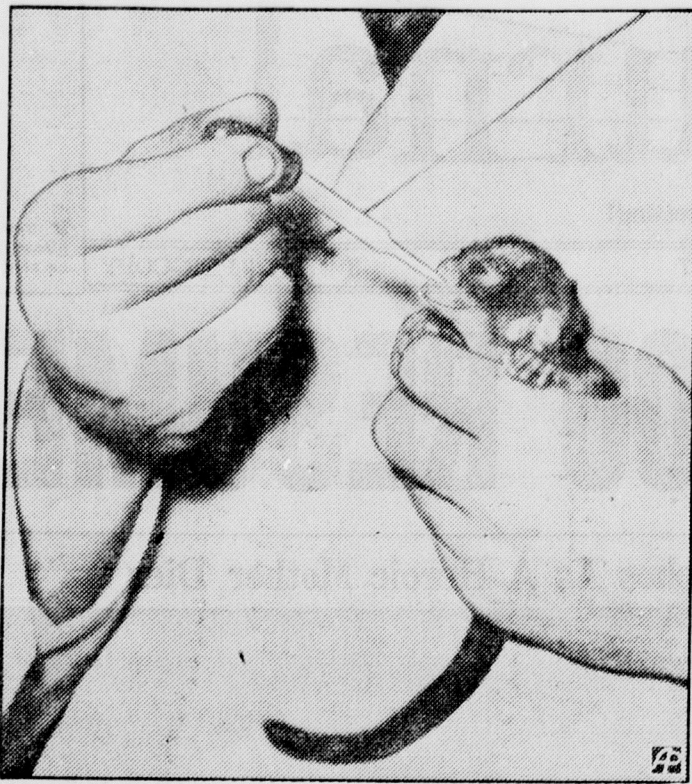

Blackburn, a director of the American Farm Bureau federation and active in legislative matters, will be principal speaker on a program that also includes music by the 50-voice farm bureau chorus, games, and a picnic lunch.

Each farm center will have its own table where members will spread their lunches. Coffee and ice cream will be furnished by the bureau, with each family bringing its own basket lunch.

L. P. Halderman, vice president, is in charge of the picnic committee. W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, will direct the fun program for adults, with Ross Crane, assistant farm advisor in charge of 4-H work, directing games and stunts for children.

Families will gather at the park at noon.

Caesarean Monkey Lives

"Wally," said to be the first baby monkey to live after a Caesarean birth, was active enough in a few hours to climb the sides of an incubator at the Massachusetts S. P. C.A.'s Angell Memorial hospital in Boston. The mother showed little interest in her owl-faced offspring so the baby was fed by medicine dropper.

Abandon Hope for Black White Man

Physicians had practically abandoned hope today for the recovery of William L. Morrison, Riverside citrus worker whose skin has turned black from a rare disease, melanosis.

Morrison's condition was reported still critical at St. Joseph's hospital, where he has been since a second attack of the disease last month. He was first stricken in February while working in citrus groves during the cold weather.

Since he has been in the hospital, Morrison has been examined

General Motors Strike Settled

CLEVELAND. (AP)—Lincoln R. Scafe, plant manager of General Motors' Fisher Body plant here, announced today a temporary agreement had ended a dispute which threw its 6300 employees into idleness yesterday.

Scafe said the men agreed to return to their jobs next Tuesday, and that any grievances will be taken up after their return to work.

FOOD CLERKS' PAY SCHEME OUTLINED

A new wage and hour schedule for food and grocery clerks has been adopted by the food and grocery division of the Food and Grocery bureau of Southern California, of which a number of Orange county stores are members. The schedule goes into effect Monday.

The Journal today contacted a number of Santa Ana food markets, none of which had received any direct information regarding the schedule. No announcements were made of intention to put the schedule into effect here.

Executive Secretary Carl M. Grayson of the food and grocery division of the Food and Grocery Bureau of Southern California announced the new schedule through The Journal today.

Grayson said many markets are paying more than the schedule calls for and that in Orange county wages have been higher than has been the case in Los Angeles.

Sweeping increases in wages are provided for in the new schedule, Grayson said. The schedule established for bureau members minimum wages and maximum hours of employment and it also was announced that stores now paying above the standards fixed by the bureau will continue to do so.

The wages, hours and other working conditions are fixed for men and women workers in the retail grocery, meat, fruit, vegetable and delicatessen stores. The time maximum is 34 hours per week for men and 48 for women. The nine-hour day is to be within a 10-hour period, allowing one hour for lunch. No split shifts are provided for.

Accuses Guardian In New Lawsuit

Jesse Edward Holderbach, Jr., today launched his second attempt in superior court here to obtain an accounting from John H. Mosley, who was until recently his guardian.

Holderbach, who became 21 years of age on Oct. 22, 1936, charged recently in a suit that Mosley withheld $2250 in royalty interest from him. The suit was barred by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel on grounds it was improperly drawn.

Today Holderbach filed an action to quiet title to the one-fourth interest he claims in oil property in the Richfield oilfield, and demanding $2250 from Mosley. The complaint was prepared by J. E. Walker, deputy district attorney.

La Guardia Won't Take Words Back

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Mayor Fiorella H. La Guardia of New York arrived today and remarked that he never retracts any statements he makes.

Asked if his criticism of the Nazi government, an international incident, still stood, the little mayor said: "I'm not taking back anything I've said. I never take anything back."

Youthful Vaulter Fractures Arm

recent years, has been dragged into politics and litigation which absorbs his income. The income taxes cut deep, because the gladiator makes all his money in a few years, and the law allows no spread for those after years when he has lost his earning power.

His whole career is compressed into a brief time, usually his early 20s, whereas a man in some other line of work makes a gradual rise, and thus pays less income tax on an equal amount of earnings.

Remember Joe Demelfi

I recently saw a reference to a little ex-fighter named Joe Demelfi, once known as the young Zulu Kid, a nice little Italian from Brooklyn, who fought Jimmy Wilde for the flyweight championship of the world during the World war. Wilde knocked out the Zulu Kid in 11 rounds, and the Zulu nearly choked on his tongue until medical aid was received.

The Zulu and his manager, Joe Sarno, got $2500, and that was the best purse they ever received, although the Kid was always fighting, and was almost a champion. He fought for eating money for himself and Sarno, and barring his two-thirds of the $2500 purse, never had much more than enough for his current expenses in third class hotels. The Zulu is now a bootblack.

Clowning Wrestlers

Last fall when Jack Dempsey was out with Jack Curley and a troupe of heavyweight wrestlers campaigning New York state for Franklin D. Roosevelt, a graduate of Fordham university wrestled 30 minutes for $20, and the pay of the athletes ranged between $15 and $25 plus railroad fare, a few mediocre meals and a room one night. Some of the wrestlers were rather well known, all of them had skills, and the work, though decidedly frivolous, was hard and painful.

The customers think that because the wrestlers nowadays go in for clowning they suffer no pain. Yet there is no man who can be hoisted aloft and slammed to the floor half a dozen times or dive through the ropes into a tangle of chairs on a concrete floor without some wear and tear. The wrestlers are always bruised and scuffed, and their wounds become infected in addition to which they all fear and many catch a disease of the eyes which is supposed to come from dirty wrestling mats.

Gummy Hotel Rooms

The career of the average fighter or wrestler is a succession of gummy hotel rooms, poverty, dirty dressing rooms in dirty fight arenas, hard, painful competition, injuries and victimization at the hands of all manner of cheap and brutal swindlers who have a hundred schemes for stealing money which he has earned with the sweat of his brow and the blood of his veins.

He sees his name in the papers occasionally and enjoys a little prestige in his home neighborhood, but he can't eat old clip-pings, and when his hands or his eyes fail or he finds himself lurching in his stride and mumbling in his speech from the effects of the head-punching he is worse off than he would have been if he had avoided the ring in the first place to take that job as wagon-helper.

Speed Urged in Strikers' Trial

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Judge Edward T. Bishop urged opposing attorneys today to accelerate selection of a jury in the trial of 22 men who participated in a sit-down strike at the Douglas aircraft factory last February.

A total of more than 200 peremptory challenges remained for both sides. Judge Bishop expressed the hope that a jury could be obtained by next week.

The attitude of prospective jurors toward labor disputes and "radicalism" formed the basis of questions from both sides.

CAR STOLEN

Theft of a car from Laguna Beach yesterday was reported to the sheriff's office by the Auto Club of Southern California. The car was registered to Richard M. Marriner of Laguna.

BUDGET HERE ON WELFARE TO SWELL

Orange county's welfare budget is due for a large increase next year, but in an amount which cannot be estimated at this time. Welfare Director Jack Snow said.

Snow, returning from the California conference of Social Workers, held this week in Fresno, said a number of bills now in the legislature and apparently expected to pass will add new burdens to the tax roll.

Old Age Costs

One source of increase will be from applicants for old age security who previously have not applied because they would have been required to give liens against their property.

Assembly bill No. 1, which Senator Harry C. Westover introduced yesterday is likely to be recommended by his senate committee on social security, eliminates the provision of a lien and orders discharge of liens given in the past two years on old age security applications.

Another provision now pending in the legislature to make no deduction from old age allowances for free rent, will increase the average case allowance from $31.50 per month to $33 per month, according to state department of social welfare estimates reported by Snow. Average allowance here is $31 per month.

Bills Boost Cost

Bills intended to liberalize children's aid and blind aid also add to the welfare needs here if they are passed, Snow said. One will continue aid to children to the age of 18 instead of 16.

Although county supervisors and department heads soon will start drawing up the 1937-38 budget, Snow said he cannot estimate the needs of his department until the legislature has disposed of the current bills affecting relief.

States Protest Liquor Trade Law

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Governor Merriam announced today receipt of communications from Gov. Clarence D. Martin, Washington, and Charles H. Martin, Oregon, protesting enactment of the Peyer bill imposing retaliatory bans on liquor trade with states which discriminate against California alcoholic beverages.

The Oregon chief executive urged Governor Merriam to veto the bill. The Washington governor said he hoped the California chief executive would "consider this bill as an unfriendly barrier toward the neighboring state of Washington."

House Mover Tells Of Union Threats

Asserted threats by union organizers resulted today in an appeal from Walter Moldenhauer, Stanton house-mover, to the sheriff's office for protection.

"If your men don't sign up by the first of June," Moldenhauer quoted organizers, "there won't be a truck pull out of your yard."

Moldenhauer said his employees had been discussing organization. Sheriff Logan Jackson, who conferred with Moldenhauer yesterday afternoon, said his officers would protect property if any trouble arises.

BEAUTIES STAGE STRIKE

Eighty girl dancers and actors in a revue staged a strike at a theater at Novosci Vilono, Poland, after municipal authorities closed the playhouse because of a political satire. The girls occupied stage seats and refused all food and drink. Six girls fainted, but they refused to call off the strike.

Students at the University of Oregon chose Betty Fowall, attractive brunette and campus activity leader, as queen of the junior weekend, the highest honor accorded at the institution of learning.

FILM STRIKE SETTLEMENT IS NEAR

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—As leaders of the film strike considered a new peace proposal offered by the producers, a spokesman for the strikers said today that "things look very rosy."

The spokesman declined to amplify.

Charles Lessing, strike chairman, said that the executive board of the striking Federation of Motion Picture Crafts "probably will reach some sort of a decision after relatively brief deliberation."

"Then," he added, "we will call a general meeting of the strikers, probably for tomorrow night in the Hollywood Legion stadium, and present the board's decision to the members for ratification and rejection."

That a quick end of the two-weeks' walkout is "virtually certain" was admitted by union conferees who debated settlement terms four hours last night.

ASSAULT CHARGES AGAINST 'GOD OF HARLEM' ARE DISMISSED

ATTACKER OF MAN IS NOT IDENTIFIED

Case Against Father Divine and 'Angels' Fails to Hold Up

NEW YORK, (AP)—Amid tumultuous shouts by his negro followers, Father Divine, self-styled God of Harlem, was dismissed on charges of felonious assault today as an aftermath of a stabbing fray in his "No. 1 Heaven" in the upper Manhattan black belt.

Magistrate Leonard McGee dismissed the case when none of the witnesses could identify any of the assailants in the wild surging melee that followed the assault today on a white contractor, of Weekhawken, N. J., to the hospital with serious stab wounds.

Three Others Freed
Three other defendants in the case, "Happy Boy Job," Roosevelt Perry and Charles Calloway, were also dismissed.

The ebullient cult leader, a meek little figure in a bright green tie, sat hunched in his chair, with his bald head sunk on his shoulders, as Green described the uproar that broke loose in Divine's meeting hall on April 20.

Still weak and newly released from a hospital, Green had to be helped to the witness chair. He spoke with visible effort, recounting the assault which climaxed his visit to the "No. 1 Heaven" where he accompanied a process server to hand Father's "god" a summons in a civil suit.

All At Banquet
The hall, he said, was jammed with about 1500 cult "angels" seated at a horseshoe-shaped banquet table.

"Dinner was served," he said, "and after the meal, Father Divine got up at the head of the table. I refer to that man," he added, pointing to Divine, "with the yellow color and green tie. He addressed the congregation and said that if the people would follow him they would be resurrected and live forever."

"He repeated the same thing over and over again. He talked for an hour. Then he made a motion as if he were about through and my friend went up to him with a blue paper, containing the summons and started to hand it to him."

"Go Get Him"
"Then Major Divine jumped up in the air, both hands upstretched," he said, "and my friend, who was crouching, and Divine hollered or screamed out, 'go get him.'"

But Green said he could not positively identify any of his assailants in the wild-swinging chaos that followed Divine's exhortation. He was stabbed in the side, he said, with an ice pick and then rushed headlong down stairs into the street.

Youths and Stolen Laguna Car Found

Two youths, captured in Cedar City, Utah, driving a car stolen from Laguna Beach, are to be returned to Orange county for trial. A police message from the Utah sheriff told of their capture last night.

Santa Ana police were told last night by Sheriff H. E. Christensen that he was holding Clyde Lester Kear and Eldon Belstrapp, who he said were driving a car registered to K. Perrin, 228 Forest drive, Laguna, reported stolen Wednesday night. Local officers called Police Chief Abe Johnson of Laguna, who said he would go to Cedar City to return the prisoners.

Parking Meters Earn $17,350

Santa Ana merchants, divided strongly on the parking meter question, today were studying a report from Long Beach on receipts of 396 meters installed in the downtown district there.

The meters, Police Chief J. H. McClelland of Long Beach reported, have taken in $17,350 for the general fund in five months and 10 days of operation—an average daily "take" of $133.

Long Beach's investment in the 396 meters, Chief McClelland said, is $22,000. He said the meters have been so successful in entirely eliminating the double-parking and congestion problem that 500 more meters are to be installed soon.

TO REHEARSE FOR SACRED CONCERT

Eighteen church choirs of Orange county will hold their second joint rehearsal here Sunday in preparation for the first annual Festival of Sacred Music, to be presented Sunday afternoon, May 23, in the Santa Ana municipal bowl.

Whitford Hall, director for the event, announced today that the Santa Ana municipal band under the direction of Leland Auer has been secured as an added part of the program.

Two-Fold Purpose
All the vocal program, to be presented by 400 voices, will be given a capella. It is believed that the festival of sacred music is the first for which so large a group of voices has been assembled for the purpose in Orange county.

"The proposed program, termed a festival, will fulfill a two-fold purpose," Director Hall said. "It will increase the capacity of the singers for finer music and afford the public the opportunity to hear all of the choirs together in one inspiring program of beautiful music dedicated to the glory of the Almighty."

The program is sponsored by the ministerial associations of the county and will be presented with no admission charge.

Choir Directors
Churches and choir directors participating in the event are: Fullerton First Methodist, Glenn H. Lewis; Anaheim Calvary Baptist, Mrs. Winifred Sloop; Anaheim White Temple M. E. J. J. Coleman; Anaheim Salem Evangelical, Ernest H. Elmer; Anaheim First Christian, Mrs. Mary Everhart; Placentia First Presbyterian, Miss Mertie Wilson.

Schmeideberg, Joan Huelskamp, Agnes Kelleit, Pauline Bissott, Rita Humphrey, Mary Therese Meyer, Barbara Lee Markel, Mary Jo Devenney, Dorothy Osterkamp, Goldie M. Sekeris and class groups.

Urges Action on Truck Tax Bill

Santa Ana merchants today were urged to contact Assemblyman Clyde Watson at Sacramento, to urge passage of S. B. 773, which exempts retail store trucks from a proposed additional transportation tax. Phil M. Brown, manager of the Business Men's association here, called attention to the bill.

It was passed by the senate May 11. On Tuesday it will come up for hearing in the assembly motor vehicle committee. S. B. 773 is an amendment to S. B. 953. Under the latter bill retail store trucks were not exempted from the tax.

Pair Arrested Following Fight

Arrested by Officers C. S. Gross during a fight in the 2000 block on West Fifth street early this morning, Valentino D. Macias, 30, bartender of 902 East Fourth street, and Salvador Solis, 25, laborer of 609 Adams street, were booked at the county jail on peace disturbance charges at the county jail.

The prisoners were treated at the county hospital, Macias for a cut on the arm and Solis for a wound on his thigh.

Truck Economy Run Held Today

Dealers and owners of Ford trucks in Orange county today were participating in a gasoline economy contest run. The George Dunton agency represented Santa Ana.

The contest started about 9 a. m., from a spot on 101 highway about opposite the county hospital.

The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching had resources of $26,794,272 on June 30, 1936.

RABID DOG AT YORBA LINDA

Discovery of a mad dog yesterday in Yorba Linda, where there was a mild rabies epidemic several months ago, was made known today by Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer.

He said the dog was not known to have bitten any person, but that it had been missing two days before it was discovered. Dr. Sutherland warned anyone having suffered a dog bite recently to report to the health department.

Seal Beach still has not eliminated its rabies danger, the health officer reported. A dog in that city was discovered rabid last week after exposing eight persons.

Dog owners in Seal Beach should continue to keep their pets tied or confined to a yard for several weeks to prevent spread of the disease, according to Dr. Sutherland.

The saliva of a dog carries the rabies germs, and these may be transferred to persons or other dogs by licking as well as by bites, he said.

Chamber Aviation Group Will Meet

Chamber of commerce members of the aviation committee will meet today at 4 p. m. to arrange further details for the gigantic aviation show to be held here June 20.

Dale Decker, chairman of the committee, is laying plans for the show now, according to reports. Present plans call for a one-day exhibition showing the latest designs and types of planes of almost every airplane factory and distributing agency.

Demonstrations will be staged all through the day and a contingent of national guard men will be on hand to guard the more than half-million dollar of planes that will be on review.

Police Reports

A woman in a red dress, cutting red and blue flowers from Birch park, was sought by officers today. Russell Rowland, 1025 West Camille street, reported the woman gathered a bunch of flowers from the park last night and took them across the street, where she entered a house.

Thomas Allen, 708 Fairlawn street, asked police for a check on the license number of a car which he said struck his house several days ago.

Two drivers escaped injury but their automobiles were damaged last night in a collision at South

Cartoon Ridicules Old Law

One of Santa Ana's goofy old ordinances received national notice this week when distribution of the June "American" magazine was made.

In Dick Hyman's cartoon feature, "It's the Law!" he says: "In Santa Ana, Cal., it is unlawful to pass a fire truck while riding a bicycle."

There's a picture of a complacent gentleman, on a high-wheeled bike, passing a fire truck, watched by a glowering cop.

City Attorney L. W. Blodgett said today he doesn't recall the provision, which probably was included in one of the old fire code laws repealed recently with other ancient ordinances.

Mae West Buys Ranch But She's Not Going Rural

By HOMER MCCOY

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—The 50-acre tract of ranch land Mae West bought doesn't mean she's going to go rural and get an overdose of fresh, country air.

"The country air does something to you, but I'll take it in small doses," the blonde, very healthy-looking screen siren said today.

She is going to be extremely cautious about fresh air poisoning. "I'm not going to live on the place," she explained. "I'll just go out and look over the landscape once in a while."

Miss West purchased the land recently. It is located near Tarzana, about 20 miles west of Hollywood. It will be used for the training of her brother's race horses, she said.

Miss West and her brother, John West, jr., own another 10-acre plot, originally purchased for her late father, John (Jack) West. It used to be big enough for West, jr.'s small stable, but a degree of success stimulated him to add to his string of horses.

Hence, the new ranch. Miss West plans to build a large residence there soon—one of the Stores to Close Here on May 31

Santa Ana stores will set aside May 31 for their observance of Memorial day. It was announced today by Phil M. Brown, manager of the Santa Ana Business Men's association. Memorial day itself falls on May 30, which is Sunday.

For this reason, said Brown, a holiday will be observed on the following Monday.

Strawberries must be planted on fertile soil if they are to produce sufficient runner plants.

Ross and Russell streets, Carl E. Aldean, 1209 South Ross street, told police he was turning into his driveway when his car was involved in a collision with an auto driven by Mrs. J. E. Arterburn, 2007 South Van Ness street.

HOUSEWIVES FIGHT HIGH PRICES

Leader Of Women Says Increases Are Due To Taxation

CHICAGO, (AP)—Mrs. Wilbur Fribley, president of the Housewives League of America, called upon half a million members today to fight the increase in retail food prices.

The organized housewives, she said, will concentrate their efforts on national and state tax legislation affecting food costs.

"We have given up the little battles," Mrs. Fribley said after touring league centers, "for a major offensive against widespread increases in taxes on food."

"Due to Taxation" "Our studies show the price rise is due almost entirely to taxation," she asserted, adding: "The agriculture department reported retail food costs 7 per cent above last year and the highest in six years."

"We are going to oppose chain store and oleomargarine tax bills and any other legislation in the various states which would affect indirectly the housewife's purse," Mrs. Fribley said.

She said the league will promote an educational program to inform members of tax legislation.

Wage Boosts Small "Wages haven't been boosted sufficiently to warrant the wide price increases," she said, stating that league surveys showed the following price gains in some staple foods this month as compared with May, 1936:

Apples from 7 to 8 cents a pound; oranges from 38 cents a dozen to 39.7; oleomargarine from 19.2 to 22.2 cents; cheese from 29.3 to 32.3 cents; eggs from 38 to 40 cents and butter from 36½ to 40 cents.

The greatest increase, she said, was in canned goods which ranged from 2 to 5 cents higher than a year ago.

Report Duce And Hitler May Meet

VIENNA, (AP)—Persistent although officially unconfirmed reports today said Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy and Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler would meet Monday at Hitler's Berchtesgaden home in Bavaria.

The reports declared that Col-General Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Germany's air minister, would leave for Venice Friday or Saturday and return to Germany with Mussolini.

Osa Johnson To Make African Film

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Film adventure today beckoned Osa Johnson, widow of Explorer Martin Johnson, to darkest Africa.

She has been assigned by Producer Darryl Zanuck to head an expedition photographing scenes in the Congo as backgrounds for a motion picture, "Stanley and Livingstone."

Ten technicians and Director Otto Brower will accompany Mrs. Johnson, leaving Nov. 11.

READING

And Writing

By JOHN SELBY

You will be pleased to know that the publishers are mindful of the coronation ceremonies across the sea, and have been doing what they can to provide proper books about it all.

Hector Bolitho has rushed into the fray with a volume called "Royal Progress: 1837-1937," and will shortly rush again with a biography of the former Edward VIII. "Royal Progress" suffers a little from the "I do hope it will please their majesties" attitude, but has point just the same. It is a short history of the last century of British monarchy which treats the royal family as people rather than as historical figures.

Coronation Commentary As is usual with such treatment, the people emerge all the more strongly as historical figures. Mr. Bolitho's book is in the nature of preparatory reading. So is Geoffrey Dennis' "Coronation Commentary." This begins, oddly enough, with another treatment of the last century. But it goes into a considerable discussion of what the king is, what he does, into a history of the other Edwards and concludes with chapters on the abdication and the coronation itself. The book was written before Edward's abdication, but has not been changed—only added to.

J. G. Noppen narrows the field a lot. He writes directly of the scene of the coronation in "Royal Westminster and the Coronation." This is by far the most unusual book, and granted tolerance for a certain stodginess of style, the most interesting. For the abbey and the buildings and departments centering upon the abbey have had a long and curious history, which Mr. Noppen tells accurately.

Cathedral Murder He describes the burglary of 1305 as if it happened last week; there really was a murder in the cathedral, too, and this Mr. Noppen knows all about it. His illustrations run rather monotonously to tombs, but some of these are at least beautiful.

Lastly there is a good new guide to London by (of all people) E. V. Lucas. If any of your friends are being drawn to London for the first time, this spring, they'd probably like "London Afresh."

"Royal Progress: 1837-1937," by Hector Bolitho (Scribners, $3); "Coronation Commentary," by Geoffrey Dennis (Dodd, Mead, $2); "Royal Westminster and the Coronation," by J. G. Noppen (Oxford, $3.50); "London Afresh," by E. V. Lucas (Lippincott, $2.50).

Forced Children To Drink Oil

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Albert D. Goff, 31, who has pleaded guilty to forcing his two children to drink motor oil, will be sentenced May 21 by Justice Edward Miller of Huntington Park.

Goff pleaded guilty to a charge of inflicting unjustifiable punishment on a minor. He is accused of having compelled Delbert, 7, and Patricia, 5, to drink the oil as punishment for getting their clothes dirty.

COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—Claudette Colbert will, and so will Joan Crawford and Joan Brundell and—certainly—Marlene Dietrich.

But Kay Francis won't, and neither will Jean Muir nor Frances Farmer nor Marsha Hunt.

Will and won't what? Delight themselves in bathing suits, play-suits and other more or less revealing sports wear.

Sports poses are the modern equivalent of what lensmen still term categorically "leg art." Pictures of this type, provided the subjects are attractive, still are easiest to get published.

Ordinarily leg art does not become an issue with a movie girl until she has reached stardom or is pretty close. Then she says "yes" or "no" and what she says goes.

Newcomers Rarely Object

Big stars permit bathing suit pictures more rarely than newcomers or "stock" girls. They have less time, for one thing. For another, they don't need the publicity so badly.

Colbert will, and Crawford, and Brundell, and Carole Lombard, and Bette Davis, and many others—but always with reservations. They don't mind a few shots showing them in outfits they normally wear at play. When Lombard plays tennis in shorts, it's all right if the photographer happens by. But she was very particular about the distribution of the six negatives she permitted of her in that costume from "Swing High, Swing Low"—and that was from a movie.

The beginner usually will frolic on the beach or pose beside a swimming pool as readily as she will pose meeting a celebrity, dedicating a park shrub, or directing traffic during a safety campaign.

Not so Jane Bryan, nor Frances Farmer, nor Marsha Hunt. Jane Bryan made one set of bathing suit pictures, but won't any more. (Flash! She's relented!) Frances Farmer never would. Marsha Hunt posed once, but it was in her movie costume for "College Holiday." All of them consider "leg art" undignified. (Marlene Dietrich, never labeled that, obviously doesn't.)

Roles Dictate Policy

Sometimes a girl's type, or the role she plays, dictates her policy. Olivia de Havilland, who used to pose in swimming suits, won't any more. (Flash! She, too, has relented!) Janet Gaynor will pose at the beach, but anything "sexy" is taboo. Janet's role is sweet little girl.

Irene Dunne, who is Hollywood's first lady in dignity and graciousness, never has been photographed in a bathing suit. Now, whether she knows it or not, she's the object of a campaign. The lensmen figure that her new "modern" role ("Theodora Goes Wild," etc.) will for up-to-date, "humanizing" photographic treatment—at least for shots of her in playsuits.

"Why not?" they argue. "Pictures like that are natural and human, and certainly not undignified."

In "A Star Is Born" it is pointed out that only one in 100,000 extras become a star. . . . In the picture, and all other Hollywood pictures, the story deals with that one. . . . Seems to me the really good story would come from the other 99,999. . . . But after all failure isn't particularly appealing as a screen subject.

Kidnap Charges
Still Buzzing in Conspiracy Case

Three long days of court proceedings over, attorneys and court attaches rested today from the conspiracy case, against Robert Owen Ivan Jones and T. R. Gillenwaters, former Oregon district attorney.

Charges hurled in court by defense attorneys, that Jones was kidnapped and held a prisoner at the LaVida Mineral Springs while prosecutors attempted to get evidence against Gillenwaters on a bad check charges, were still buzzing.

Mrs. W. N. Miller, wife of the complaining witness in the original check charge, who is manager at the springs, was to be subpoenaed as a witness when the preliminary hearing resumes next Wednesday.

Jones, it was charged by Defense Attorney M. W. Shirley, was held prisoner for 10 days at the springs. Deputy District Attorney J. E. Walker said Jones "stayed" at the springs at the "direction" of the district attorney's office.

Gillenwaters and Jones were ordered held on conspiracy charges after Jones testified he accepted Gillenwaters' $1000 check on the understanding Gillenwaters would deposit funds later.

June Financing
Plans Discussed

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today he is conferring with the executive committee on June treasury financing operations.

The secretary also announced the treasury will accept bids next week on $100,000,000 of treasury bills.

BROADWAY BILL
CLOSES RUN

An unexpected switch in program plans brings a close to the bill now showing at the Broadway theater tonight. The double feature program, with "Melody for Two" and "Mountain Justice," was scheduled to have ended tomorrow.

"Melody for Two" features James Melton, golden-voiced idol of the air waves, and Patricia Ellis in a musical romance filled with comedy, drama and romance. "Mountain Justice" features Josephine Hutchinson and George Brent in a dramatic story of the mountain country.

Tomorrow the Broadway will open with a new bill, presenting "The Prince and the Pauper," featuring Errol Flynn, Billy and Bobby Mauch, Claude Rains and Barton MacLane. Second feature on the bill will be "Charlie Chan at the Olympics," with Warner Oland in the title role.

Heir Apparent to Spanish Throne
May Return Home

HAVANA. (AP)—The Count of Covadonga, former heir apparent to the non-existent throne of Spain, held the hope today for "an early return" to his homeland sometime after he weds Marta Rocafort this month.

"I have many plans, among them an early return to Spain," he said Monday on his 30th birthday. "For six years I have lived outside my country and it seems time for me to go home."

Miss Rocafort, to be his second Cuban commoner-wife, is a Havana society girl. The count's marriage with the former Edelmira Sampedro, for whom in 1933 he renounced any right to the Spanish succession, went to the divorce court.

S. A. Man Cleared
In Colton Death

A coroner's jury in San Bernardino county has cleared Austin G. Whitley, 32, of Santa Ana, of blame for the death of James A. Hill, 56, Fontana, in an accident near Colton Saturday night, it was learned today.

Whitley, it was reported, sustained a broken back in the crash between his truck and Hill's car. The coroner's jury held the crash to be an accident.

After treatment at a hospital in Upland, Whitley was removed to a Los Angeles hospital.

American Airlines
Tells Travel Gain

NEW YORK. (AP)—American Airlines has reported 8,952,029 revenue passenger miles flown in April, an increase of 46 per cent over that month last year. Passengers carried totaled 21,698, or 30 per cent more than in April, 1936.

Hull Sidesteps
Nobel Peace Prize

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Secretary Hull announced he had "eliminated" himself from consideration as a possible recipient of the Nobel peace prize.

DANCE FILM IS LIKED HERE

"Shall We Dance," new musical romance with Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, will show for the last time at the West Coast theater tomorrow night along with a second feature, "Find the Witness," a mystery melodrama with Charles Quigley and Rosalind Russell.

The bill at the West Coast will have shown for a week tomorrow, and patrons of the theater have found the new Astaire-Rogers film the most entertaining of any yet produced. "Find the Witness" is a fast-moving newspaper and mystery photoplay.

WESTERN FILM
ON AT STATE

Tex Ritter, one of the new stars of western films, comes to the State theater tonight in his latest production, "Arizona Days." Ritter is a popular singing cowboy of the radio and screen, and in this picture he sings five new songs.

The story of "Arizona Days" revolves around an old time minstrel troupe stranded in an Arizona cow town. Others in the cast include Ethelred Terry, Salty Holmes, Eleanor Stewart and William Faversham.

A Three Stooges comedy, Porky cartoon, newsreel and chapter No. 3 of "Flash Gordon" also are on the bill.

Child Murderer
To Die in Chair

NEW YORK. (AP)—Salvatore Ossido, 28, has been sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing some time in the week of June 21 for the murder of nine-year-old Elnor Sporrer.

Ossido was convicted of first degree murder by a jury that found him guilty of luring the little girl into his barber shop, mistreating her and hammering her to death. The body was found in a sack on a doorstep March 20, the day after the girl disappeared.

American Gold
Imports Go Up

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The commerce department said gold imports into the United States in April totaled $215,824,506, compared with $154,379,955 in March and $28,106,110 in April, 1936.

Silver imports in April amounted to $2,821,178, compared with $5,589,044 the preceding month and $4,490,222 in April, 1936. Exports of both metals were negligible.

Business Lures
Carlson to Sweden

Tage Carlson, pro-manager of the Santa Ana branch of the Security-First National bank of Los Angeles, has resigned his position to take up a new business in Sweden.

Carlson, who has been connected with the local bank for the past 12 years, will leave Saturday morning for Sweden, where he will engage in the importing business. He will import silks, linens, raincoats and cotton goods.

Townsend News, Views

By
WALTER R. ROBB

Here's a notice that fits in with the hot weather of the last few days. Beginning at 6:30 this evening, Santa Ana Club No. 11 will serve ice cream and cake in the Franklin school building at 1512 West Fourth street. There will be a charge of 15 cents. At 7:30 a business session will be called to order by Grant Henderson, president. Special entertainment has been arranged for the evening. Henderson suggests that the folks come early and stay through so as not to miss any portion of the program. The public will be welcome.

Santa Ana Club No. 10 is also serving ice cream and cake to night. John Jennings, Los Angeles Townsend speaker, is the special feature of this evening. The meeting will be held in the Townsend theater at 218 East Fourth street. But to pep everything up and put the crowd in the right frame of mind the Hurd-Lentz orchestra will start the meeting off with a concert. F. E. Marks, club president, writes this column that the club members, friends and the public are all invited.

C. A. Holloway of 2027 Cypress street sends word that Santa Ana Club No. 9 will meet at his home at 7:30 this evening. The membership is requested to be present.

W. B. Langford, of 624 North Bristol and member of Santa Ana Club No. 11, who was injured in an accident in Texas last October while visiting there, had the misfortune to fall and quite seriously injure himself again a few weeks ago. The accident recently suffered occurred at his home. But the writer is glad to report that Langford, who is 75 years old, is on the mend again. He had sufficiently recovered so that he could get down town again this week.

J. A. Yerger, former president of Santa Ana Club No. 5, paid the writer a visit yesterday. Yerger still is on the mend but only very slowly is he getting his strength back. He is also well along in years but has been exceptionally active until a year and a half ago. Yerger was out to the club yesterday night and says the Rev. George Wixom made a wonderful speech that evening. Wixom hails from San Bernardino and at one time was a member of the 19th district Townsend board. W. A. Zimmerman, who is now the club president, presided.

A letter from Jessie M. Robb, wife of the writer, who is visiting in Arizona, says she can't brag on the brand of weather being experienced over there just now. It seems that when it is hot in Arizona, there is no guessing about it. The weather man just dishes it out in such sizzling type that California people at least begin to think of coming home, as Mrs. Robb is doing.

The Rev. S. L. Wingert, president of the 19th District Townsend board, is the speaker who will address Orange Club No. 2 tonight. The meeting will be held in the 149 South Glassell street Townsend club building. Judge L. F. Coburn, 83, president, will preside. The public is urged to attend the meeting.

Harry Burman, 246 North Orange street, Orange, president of the Young People's Orange County Townsend club, reported to the writer that the club had sent $24,000 to the five million dollar Townsend fund being raised by Dr. Townsend. Mrs. Gladys Burman, his wife, is secretary, and Spurgeon Sparks of Santa Ana is the club treasurer. The club has discontinued meeting for the present but shows it is far from dead in its interest in the Townsend movement by this gift from their club funds to the national fund.

The word has come to the writer that there is a call for a coordinating council with one representative in the council from each congressional district of Southern California. From what little the writer has been able to learn about the matter, the purpose of the group to be formed will be to help formulate a coordination of all the Townsend forces in a similar program. Just what this means the writer doesn't know but one thing he does know, he will not contribute toward the formation of any group that will have for its purpose the assuming of any authority over the congressional district's own organizations.

As the writer understands this intended coordinating council, it is not intended to be an authoritative body. The present setup in our Townsend organization is the most democratic since the movement began and should be continued with each district looking after its own interests through carefully selected district boards. That gives all of us representation in our own affairs, as we should have had long ago. And that thought leads the writer to suggest that in our July meeting in Riverside it will be time to again elect from Orange county three members of that board for another term of office. Some thought should be given at once as to who our clubs are going to want to serve in that capacity.

The Anaheim club is having a card party at its 210 South Clementine street club house at 8 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents and a door prize will be given. Refreshments are to be served.

GIRL MAKING FORTUNE IN GAS WELLS

One Will Provide $1000 Income Daily but She 'Won't Be Rich'

AKRON, Ohio. (AP)—Attractive Julia Ellen Leathers, 22, talked about gas and did the obvious thing. In her white-washed basement office, she made plans for drilling a third well and hoped it would pour forth gas as enthusiastically as her first two.

I'm not a he-man, outdoor type at all," she said. "And I don't expect to become wealthy. But I do expect to have an income for the rest of my life and then I will be perfectly satisfied about 10 wells, I guess."

Miss Leathers doesn't know whether she is the first woman gas well operator in the state and doesn't appear particularly concerned about it. But she does have more figures at the tip of her tongue than many women figures in acres, cubic feet, pipe lines and such things.

Her father, A. C. Leathers, formerly of Wilmington, Del., who has 28,000 acres of land under lease in Huron county, 50 miles west of here, interested Miss Leathers in gas.

He gave her a half interest in 50 acres of Huron county soil with the provision that she finance the drilling.

Started Another

Her first well came in March 11, producing about 3,000,000 cubic feet a day. She started drilling another immediately. This came in last week with a flow of between 10,000,000 and 11,000,000 cubic feet a day.

Miss Leathers said she expected the second well to provide a "settled production" of 5,000,000 cubic feet a day when it has been piped. This would mean about $1000 a day for her and a few friends who helped finance the drilling, she said.

Neither of her wells is returning any income yet as they have not been piped.

ORANGE HOST TO RED CROSS

Eighteen foreign countries will be represented by young "ambassadors" at the luncheon tomorrow in the Orange Women's clubhouse, where 250 members of the Orange County Junior Red Cross will gather to observe International Good-Will Day, which is May 15.

Students attending will come as ambassadors from the various countries which were chosen by 30 schools they represent, and each group will have a part in the program following the noon luncheon.

Patriotic Songs

Miss Dorothy Voorhies, Junior Red Cross chairman in the northern Orange county chapter, will preside, and Stanley Kurtz of El Modena will lead patriotic songs.

Junior Red Cross songs will be sung by a Santa Ana High school soloist, a 10-piece orchestra from Santa Ana will play national anthems of the 19 countries, talks on Junior Red Cross work will be given by students.

To Give Play

A Good-Will day play will be presented by 14 students from Lathrop Junior High school, under direction of Miss Pearl Nicholson. Garden Grove George Washington juniors will give a first aid demonstration, under direction of Harvey Emley.

Richfield school of Placentia will present Mexican students in Mexican dances; Anaheim Juniors will have charge of a foreign food exhibit arranged by Miss Clara Mork.

Orange Juniors are selling tickets and doing the decorating, and the Brea Juniors have been making place cards and menus. Sixty schools of the county are now enrolled in Junior Red Cross.

Nesting Instinct Of Swallows Baffles Schoolmen

SOUTH PASADENA. (AP)—One swallow may not make a summer but a colony of several hundred of them have made a good trouble for the board of education here.

In an effort to discourage nest-building activities on the wall of the new high school auditorium, the school officials had cloth curtains hung in front of the niches the birds have chosen.

But the swallows, awaiting favorable gusts of wind, darted beneath the hangings with beaks full of mud and continued their building activities. Then the officials tied the curtains down, but students, aligned with the swallows, cut the strings.

To date the school board admits itself nonplussed.

Germans Donate To Helium Fund

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Dr. Georg Cysling, German consul in Los Angeles, reported that more than $1200 in voluntary contributions to purchase helium gas for a new German dirigible have been received by his office. The contributions were made following the Hindenburg disaster, he said.

cents and a door prize will be given. Refreshments are to be served.

Hitler's Camera Boswell

Nazi Discipline Relaxes When Heinrich Hoffman Shoots Fuehrer

Heinrich Hoffmann took this picture August 1, 1914, as a Munich crowd celebrated the proclamation of war. Fifteen years later he learned he had photographed the man he now serves as exclusive portraitist—Adolf Hitler.

CLOSE companion and official pictorial interpreter of Adolf Hitler is a 51-year-old Bavarian photographer, Heinrich Hoffmann. In railway coach or airplane, at parades or state dinners—everywhere Der Fuehrer goes—Hoffmann, candid camera in hand, follows. He eats, walks and rides with the chancellor, sleeps in an adjoining bedroom. The two men never discuss politics.

Willard Junior High News

At their regular meeting, held May 12 in the Scout house, Girl Scout Troop Three abandoned former plans to play indoor in favor of passing various tests in preparation for a court of awards to be held June 4. The girls are passing tenderfoot and second class tests.

"Never do anything that will land you here," stated Sheriff Jackson as he took the ninth grade Girl Reserves through the jail, May 12. The sheriff explained each room as they went through, letting each girl have her finger prints taken.

Plan for a trip to Catalina and a beach party, to be held on a future date, were discussed at a meeting of the Nos Amici club held at the home of Mary Catherine Friend, May 11. Refreshments were served to Jean Conliffe, Barbara Flower, Carroll Brinkerhoff, Frances Page, Virginia Campbell, Dorothy Frazer, June Tway and Marion Kenyon, by the hostesses.

Virginia Bruns and Shelly Horton were the leads in a two-act farce, comedy presented in the Willard auditorium, May 11, by John Daughters and DeMolay. Scenes from the city council were presented. The rest of the program was comprised of vaudeville featuring Katherine Hambricht and Betty Jean Koster, and several dances from the Putman school of dancing.

A classic orchestra of 48 members, a popular orchestra of eight, and a band of 30, directed by Louis Bonfeldt, instructor, provided the entertainment for the exchange assembly given by the Fremont Junior high of Pomona, in the Willard auditorium, Friday, May 7. The classic orchestra opened the assembly with "Let's Go," by Tchaikowsky. Several numbers were played, then, with a cornet solo closing its part of the program, the band then took over, playing several rousing numbers.

The four tennis matches played between Lathrop and Willard girls on the Lathrop tennis courts Tuesday, May 12, two of the matches were won by each school. Breaux (W) defeated Weatherell (L) 6-1; 6-2. Mize (W) defeated Martin (L) 6-3; 6-2. May (L) defeated Crawford (W) 5-7; 6-4.

U. S. REVENUE TO DATE IS PAST 1936

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The fiscal year 1937 to date has produced more revenue, a treasury statement showed today, than the entire fiscal year of 1936.

The treasury report, covering the current year through May 3, showed total income of $4,125,368,647. Receipts for the entire previous year were $4,115,956,615.

Customs receipts collected thus far this year have amounted to $403,086,892, in contrast with $386,811,593 for the entire previous 12 months.

Helen Butler's eighth grade team made up of Betty Joe Froeschle, Mary Jo Haskell, Flo Flo Plavens, Helen Garnett, Dorothy Raitt, and Geneva Sawyer defeated Carmen Hernandez' ninth grade team of Mary Lou Mann, Marieta Brown, Lucille Crawford and Audrey Johnson, 18-4. Betty Selbe's ninth grade team made up of Helen Tibbals and Isabelle Relistav were victorious over Janet Coffing's team of Janet McFadden, Betty Plat, Eloise Revills, Jean Hunter, Rosemary Chast, Pat Collins, Beth Thorndike and Mary Henderson with a score of 28-5. Helen Holzgarfe's eighth grade team composed of Mary Toyoda, Lillian Tucker, Doris Jacobs, Constance Halsell, Dorothy Eley, Betty Jo Froeschle and Flo Plavens tied with Marilyn Bear's seventh grade team made up of Margaret Lockett, Peggy Paul, Anna Mae Burks, Katherine Adams, Adele Reed, Frances Nall, Betty Stocker, Dorothy Winterbourne and Betty Hawkins 6-6.

Rankins will sponsor a girls' fashion show at the mothers' and daughters' tea, May 25, at the Y. W. C. A. from 3:30 to 5 p. m. All Willard and Lathrop Girl Reserves' mothers will be invited to attend. The Mexican Girl Reserves are presenting a nationality song and dance. Miss Porter, advisor, will give a talk on summer camp, discussing the possibilities of camp. Tea will be served after the talk, giving the mothers' a chance to get acquainted. Miss Porter and her committee of women who are interested in the girls planned the tea.

Sea specimens were collected by the Sea Fan club last Friday, May 8, on the trip taken by the club to the beach. Preserved sea life is worth a great deal, but the club preserved the specimens for the experience only.

Lillian Breaux, Willard's ace tennis player, came out victorious in the final match against Lucille Crawford with a score of 7-5; 6-2. There was plenty of competition and hard work, but just a little too much for Lucille. Lillian will be awarded the girls' perpetual trophy. In the semi-final matches Lillian Breaux defeated Marjorie Mize 6-4; 6-3; 9-7, and Lucille Crawford defeated Carroll Ejan Brinkerhoff, 6-1; 6-2.

Hollis Tibbals was elected president of the newly organized badminton club and Frances Nall secretary and treasurer Wednesday, May 5. The Willard club entertained the Lathrop club Friday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. A badminton tournament was played and then the girls went swimming. The Y. W. C. A. sponsored a mixed doubles badminton tournament last Monday. Four girls and four from each school participated in this tournament.

Thursday, May 6, Marilyn Bear's seventh grade team defeated Janet Coffing's seventh II team 24-6. Helen Butler's eighth I team conquered Helen Holzgarfe's eighth II team 12-2. Carmen Hernandez' ninth I team won over Betty Selbe's ninth II team 24-14.

Helen Butler's, Carmen Hernandez', Betty Selbe's, and Marilyn Bear's teams were victorious in the after school basketball games played Tuesday and Thursday.

Know what's inside a rebuilt machine!

We'll show you why we can GUARANTEE TIERNAN REBUILT typewriters

A used typewriter can look good on the outside and be full of "bugs" on the inside! You have to depend a lot on the concern that sells it to you.

Tiernan's has a standard of re-building that is well known in this part of the country. It includes many more features than the Federal Trade Commission specifies.

In addition to needed new parts, our rebuilt typewriters are rebuilt from the base up, every part adjusted as it is reassembled, assuring precision of operation and longer life for the machine.

We'll show you why Tiernan Rebuilt Typewriters are famous if you'll come in and spend a few moments with us.

OIL COMPANY IN $34,526 LAWSUIT

Richfield Accused Of Failing to Set Up
Offset Wells

Charging that the Union Oil company drained oil and gas from their property in the Richfield oil-field by producing in greater amounts from adjoining leases, Luman M. Bogue, Genevieve B. Coyle and Harold H. Coyle today started a suit for $34,526 in superior court here.

Their complaint, prepared by Rutan, Mize & Kroese, local law firm, and Harold H. Coyle, asserts that over a four-year period the oil company, to which their 11.25-acre tract is leased, has produced from the adjoining Morse and Chapman leases without properly pumping offset wells on the Coyle & Bogue lease.

Production for the four years is 276,208 barrels less than it should have been at full capacity, the land owners alleged. They charged that the value of oil, gas, casing-head gasoline and other potential production was $276,208, and that they were entitled to a one-sixth royalty share, or $34,526.

Gully, chef de gare of Riverside voiture 394; T. S. Estabrook, cheminot national of Los Angeles voiture 47; and E. S. Sullivan, chef de gare of Orange county voiture 527.

Danner, his committee and members of voiture 527 will make a tour of Orange county. They will arrive in Santa Ana again in time for dinner and a meeting at 8 p. m. in the Labor temple. This will be followed by entertainment and refreshments.

Goering Promises Hitler Visit

INNSBRUCK, Austria. (AP)—Col. Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, first ranking aide to Reichschancellor Adolf Hitler, cryptically promised members of the German colony today that "Der Fuehrer will come soon."

The elaborateness of the special train aboard which Goering is traveling led to reports it would be turned over to Premier Mussolini of Italy for a trip to Berchtesgaden, Bavaria, where he was reported to be scheduled to confer with Hitler.

When the train halted here, scores of members of the German colony crowded about the heavily curtained windows, chanting "We want to see our Fuehrer! We want our Fuehrer!"

Finally, Goering raised one of the shades and told the demonstrators:

"I give you my word of honor he is not here—but Der Fuehrer will come soon."

Wetherell Joins S. A. Realty Firm

John D. Kelly, manager of the Santa Ana Realty corporation, announced today the appointment of Harry G. Wetherell to manage the loan department of the local firm.

Wetherell, a former banker from Colorado, was for several years the local representative for the Mortgage Guarantee company of Los Angeles.

A man in Hamburg, Germany, has 25,000 tram and bus tickets, classified and mounted like stamps in 10 albums.

Accused

Stella Stevens, 14, of Grayson, Ky., is held in jail charged with the murder of Jimmy Scott, shot to death while playing "postoffice" in the farmhouse of Stella's father on April 14. Officers are seeking relatives of Scott, 16, a hitch hiker.

In Police Probe Limelight

Pete McDonough (right), San Francisco hall bond broker and his nephew, Harry Rice, were linked to alleged police graft when Edwin N. Atherton, investigator, told the grand jury he had recorded conversations between McDonough's office and the police after having tapped the telephone lines over a period of nine months during an investigation.

TEACHERS GET ONLY SCRIPT FOR PAY

JOHNSTON CITY, Ill. (AP)—Taxpayers might question the term "free public education" but not the 16 high school faculty members in this southern Illinois mining town of 6,000. For four years they have worked for nothing more tangible than scrip and groceries.

Their plight was a flashback to the day of pioneer rural teaching when schoolmasters worked for whatever they could get—usually meals and a place to sleep in homes of their pupils' parents.

Since May of 1933 the teachers have received no cash. The school board furnishes a cook and they eat two meals a day at the school.

A sympathetic grocer in Herrin, Ill., six miles away, accepts scrip for food supplies up to $23 a month per teacher, but he adds a 10 per cent price surcharge.

The local movie theater will accept the scrip and so will the drug stores, the dairy, the doctor and the beauticians but actual coin and currency is something the teachers never deal in any more.

"The situation is bad," Principal J. Lester Buford said today, "and it can't be remedied by the local community."

Mines Shut Down
"Coal mines which once gave employment to hundreds of men no longer operate, with the exception of one rather small mine," he said. "The men now are largely on WPA or direct relief."

The knockout blow came in January of 1936 when the $3,000,000 old Ben mine, one of the country's largest, was flooded and another large colliery was water damaged. School tax revenue fell from $60,815 in 1927 to $23,053 in 1936.

TO ADD THREE BOULEVARDS

At least three more roads in Orange county will be classed as boulevards and posted with stop signs under terms of an ordinance being prepared today by District Attorney W. F. Menton and County Highway Superintendent A. A. Beard.

Streets definitely slated for boulevard classification are Blue Gum street, north of Placentia; East street, Anaheim; and Russell street, north of La Habra. Supervisor D. Riley proposes to add certain streets in his supervisory district.

The new ordinance, intended to bring up to date one passed four years ago, specifies that all state highways are boulevards, and eliminates listing the local names of the highways.

Market prices of good work horses are from 50 to 100 per cent higher in Kansas than five years ago.

Chaplin's Former Wife Airs Marital Money Troubles

When Lita Grey Chaplin, former wife of Charlie Chaplin, film comedian, married Henry Aguirre, actor, here last Sept. 21, she set up a bank account so he could have spending money, she testified in Los Angeles superior court yesterday.

In her contested suit for divorce she asserted that Aguirre told her she was the meanest woman in the world.

Strings on Money
"Was that true?" asked the court.

"Well, it's not up to me, judge," she replied.

"I didn't want him to be embarrassed in public places by me

WOULD HAVE GUN OWNERS REGISTER

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Attorney General Cummings has asked congress to require every owner of a rifle, shotgun, revolver or pistol to register his weapon with the bureau of internal revenue.

Registration would be free, Cummings said, but a $1 tax would be payable to the revenue bureau for every firearm sold.

Proposing his small arm legislation, Cummings outlined in a letter to Speaker Bankhead several reasons for its enactment.

Possession and use of firearms by criminals constitutes "one of the pressing problems" of law enforcement, he said, adding that the present national firearms act which imposes a $200 transfer tax on machine guns, on sawed-off shotguns and rifles and on silencers, is "far too limited in scope."

LAWYERS SEEK ESTATE FEE

Attorneys who took part in the long litigation over the $100,000 estate of Ida Mae Zimmerman today asked the court to award them $3,000 as special fees in addition to their regular compensation.

The request for fees for "extraordinary services" was filed by George H. Gobar, Dee Holden and Newby & Newby. Superior Judge G. K. Scovel set the hearing for May 21.

A 41-acre orange grove, valued at $100,000, which Mrs. Zimmerman deeded to her husband, Dr. Allen E. Zimmerman, four months before she died in 1932, was returned to the estate after a court battle which reached the state supreme court.

Long Buys Home At Midway City

Eugene Long, circulation manager of The Journal, announced today the purchase of a home at Midway City. He and Mrs. Long have moved there and have established their residence in the five-room house.

The purchase was handled through Ed Hensley, Midway City real estate dealer. The home is located on Jackson street.

NAB BANDIT SUSPECT

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Because he wired his parents for money, Dale Holman, 27, is under arrest on the request of Sheriff Earl Shield of Mingo, Ia., who told local authorities the man is wanted in connection with a bank robbery there seven years ago. Iowa police learned of Holman's presence here by intercepting his telegraphed plea for funds.

Despite this he withdrew $1100 from the account for his own use before she closed it, she said. She testified Aguirre worked only two weeks in the four months from the time of their marriage to their separation.

At the time of their separation, she charged, he refused to leave the home she had provided with her own money, and threatened to "ruin" her in the newspapers if she forced him to leave.

Carl Owen Hubbell established an all-major league record of 21 consecutive victories with the Giants in New York yesterday, but it wasn't the fault of Floyd (Arky) Vaughan. The Fullerton shortstop whaled two home runs off the Oklahoma southpaw's slants. . . Fortunately (for Hubbell), no one was aboard on either circuit clout, and Bill Terry's champions went on to win, 5 to 2, from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Royal blue uniforms, striking ensemble of the Anaheim Valencias for the past two summers in the National Nightball league, have been discarded. . . You may not recognize Clair (String) McDonnell's 37 outfit in green jerseys with white collar and sleeves, gold lettering, gold satin pants, green socks and gold stripes, and gold caps with green peaks. . . The coats are of gold, with green collar, cuffs and pocket flaps. . . Pretty snappy, eh.

This department, for one, believes the Dons are making a mistake in not permitting all school children under 15 to see their football games free of charge. . . Such courtesy would be a boon to the college to the younger students, and at the same time would not detract a great deal from the "gate". . . Seats ($500) are plentiful at the Municipal bowl.

Seeking individual rather than collective glory, five Santa Ana High school trackmen will carry Saint colors into the Southern California prep track-and-field finals at Long Beach tomorrow afternoon. They are Capt. Herchel Whitney, miler; Wendell Tedrow, Class B high jump king who has soared 6 ft. 1 1/2 in.; Wayne Piper and Jerome Duffy, Class B sprinters, and Jack Clark, who will compete in the Class C, 120-yard low hurdles.

Ray Hapes, University of Mississippi backfield flash, has been offered a summer job down south, but probably will pass it up to visit with his parents in Garden Grove. . . Ray is expected back early next month, and will immediately join Irvine's defending champions in the County Nightball league race. . . His brother, Clarence (Moose), does not plan to return.

Crystal-balling tonight's round of National league football games: Santa Ana over Orange, Anaheim over Westminster, Colton over Riverside.

NORTHERN GOLF FINALISTS
SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Mrs. Roy Bozeman of San Francisco, a newcomer to big tournament competition, tied off today in 36-hole finals with the veteran Miss Marion Hollins of Pasadena for the northern California women's golf championship.

Fishing News by Earl Wilcox
The Outdoor Reporter
for the Western Auto Supply Co.
Conditions for local trout fishing are gradually improving, but limits are not the rule as yet. Most of the streams are still pretty high and in some places cloudy.

Lake Arrowhead is offering fair fishing to those who will work hard at it. . . Big Bear Lake is virtually out of the fishing picture at present, as the fish are spawning and refuse to be attracted by any lures. It will be two or three weeks before conditions can be expected to be back to normal. Water is still rising and clearing.

Fishing has improved some at Little Rock dam. The stream feeding the lake is lowering. Several large fish have been caught in the lake the past week. . . Although fishing has greatly improved on the San Joaquin since the opening, the water is high and fishing must still be classed as fair. Steelhead up to 30 inches are being caught regularly.

Newport-Balboa—The past week has been a good one for barracuda here. Yellowtail are getting more plentiful. White sea bass up to 35 pounds have been taken. Mackereel and halibut are abundant. . . San Clemente—Plenty of fish at San Clemente this week, barracuda, bass, halibut, white sea bass, and a few yellowtail, all within 25 minutes' run from the San Clemente pier. . . Oceanside—Surf fishing continues very good at Oceanside. Now is the time to get them. Bass and barracuda are being taken on the barge and the live bait boats. San Diego—Catches of yellowtail at the Coronado Islands are slower this week than they were a short time ago. The days are beautiful and the waters are alive with yellowtail, but they are not biting as well as they did earlier.

Cal-Tech Varsity Overwhelms Don Eleven, 26 to 0

SCORES ON 60 AND 73-YD. MARCHES

Santa Ana Wilts Under Speed and Trickery of 'Fox' Stanton's Boys

"How to Destroy Over-confidence," a football lesson in two acts, has been taught the Santa Ana Junior collegians, regardless of whether the defending southland champions will need it in the Eastern conference next fall.

As advertised, W. L. (Fox) Stanton's Cal-Tech Engineers, who fairly sparkled with speed and backfield trickery, polished off A. J. (Bill) Cook's Dons, 26 to 0, in Santa Ana's second spring practice game before a sprinkling of fans at the Municipal bowl last night.

The Dons showed a little more than in their 19-0 loss to Pasadena last week, but were simply outclassed by Cal-Tech's light, clever gridders, who staged uninterrupted marches of 60 and 73 yards for two of their touchdowns. The junior collegians, however, cannot be judged accurately on their spring practice performances, because A. J. (Bill) Cook has been mixing incoming freshmen with his hold-overs, with no thought of assembling his strongest lineup, which observers believe will be powerful next September.

Long-legged Bias Mercurio, junior, led Dons at quarterback for the first time, began Santa Ana's only drive to the Cal-Tech goal after the opening whistle. Oliver McCarter returned the kick-off from his own 20 to the 35. Mercurio broke over left guard for six yards, and on third down McCarter ploughed through for four and a first down on the 46. Mercurio passed to Bill Sem-nacher for 7 yards, and on a cleverly-executed lateral from Ed Stanley, Mercurio raced 21 yards to the Cal-Tech 27. The Dons made another first down, featuring an 8-yard plunge by McCarter, to Cal-Tech's 17 before losing the ball on a recovery of Mercurio's lateral on the 27. After that, it was all Cal-Tech.

A lateral, Jewett to McLean, netted 28 yards, and a 16-yard run by McLean featured Cal-Tech drive to Santa Ana's 3-yard line as the first quarter ended. Osborne lateraled far across the field to McLean for a touchdown on fourth down. Russell Zoquet and Virgil Stevens blocked the kick conversion attempt.

Smith line-bucked over left guard for the second score. . . Osborne kicked goal. . . Carstarphen, hard-driving halfback, plunged 8 yards to score in the third quarter, climaxing a 60-yard march by land and air. . . Cal-Tech final touchdown came on a 10-yard pass from Sharp to Osborne in the fourth quarter. . . Osborne kicked goal.

EIGHT RECORDS ENDANGERED AT FRESNO; TROY FAVORED

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—This city of grapes and raisins began working itself into its annual athletic either today over tomorrow's eleventh West Coast Relays, which this year holds promise for a bumper crop of new records. Experts figured that at least three world's records and five relay marks would be endangered in the athletic carnival, which starts in the morning and lasts far into the evening.

Among the records which may be shattered is the unofficial pole vault mark of 14 feet 8 1/2 inches set jointly last Saturday by University of Southern California's two great vaulters, Bill Sefton and Earle Meadows.

The two tied at that height in the Stanford meet and refused to attempt a higher altitude with the announcement they were "saving something for Fresno."

Other endangered records are the high hurdles mark of 14.2 seconds, which U. S. C.'s Roy Stanley has bettered this season, and the 1000-yard run time of 2 minutes and 10 seconds, held by Luigi Beccali of Italy, which Elroy Robinson of Fresno State expects to beat. Robinson did 2:11.9 minutes in practice this week.

U. S. C.'s powerful squad, coast champion, was top heavy favorite to win the team title. University of California will not have a full-strength representation, Coach Brutus Hamilton announced, but Stanford has six athletes scheduled for double or triple duty in an effort to upset the Trojans.

FIFTY RACERS IN HOSPITAL
But Only for Examination
INDIANAPOLIS. (AP)—Fifty automobile race drivers and mechanics went to the hospital at the Indianapolis motor speedway yesterday, but not a one had been hurt.

It was examination day at the track, and physicians put the drivers and mechanics through physical tests to determine their fitness for the 500-mile race here May 31.

Dr. H. R. Allen, medical adviser at the Speedway since the first 500-mile race was held in 1911, looked over this year's crop of drivers and opined they were about the same as usual.

"Race drivers are above the average physically," he said, "but we've got to be convinced they'll not only be safe themselves but won't endanger others because of fatigue."

When A. B. (Deacon) Litz strolled into the hospital, Allen looked over his 260-pound frame and expressed the opinion that "if the Deacon doesn't take off a little of that weight he'll have to get a midget for a riding mechanic."

Kelly Pettillo, 1935 race winner, showed up for a physical test, though he had announced he would not drive in this year's event. After looking over Babe Stander, the examining board wondered whether he, like Litz, might not

REESE, JONES TRIUMPH AT FIGHT CLUB

Comical Situations Add Sparkle to Stewart's Eight-Bout Program

By KENNETH ADAMS

A lot of funny things happened out at the Orange County Athletic club last night to provide an evening of superb and hilarious fun for all.

They had the judges back at ringside to help the ref with the decisions. A lanky colored boy fought himself clear out of one shoe. Another had claimed a foul and had the house in an uproar. And most of the boys who went on fought so darned furiously they had the fans yelling their lungs out.

John Hansen, the Riverside heavy, couldn't fight last night because of teeth extractions, but the fights were worth going miles to see. In fact, you can't see better amateur fights anywhere.

Jure Is Robbed
The top spot was filled by Everett (Cyclone) Jure, fighting Frenchman from Redlands, and the tough Sherman Indian, Rico Martinez. It was a brawl from start to finish and Jure won it. But the judges didn't know that and both voted for the Indian. Jure's wicket left hook to the body slowed down the Indian.

Newport's 170-pound batter, Jack Jones, fought the best fight of his career to whip the day-lights out of John James, L. A. negro. Jones hit the negro with everything but the ring-posts, and won by a technical kayo in the second stanza.

Anaheim's flashy mite, Patty Quillen, met Bobby Sloes of L. A. in a rematch, and beat him for the second time. The judges split on the decision, but Referee Steve Nilan knew who was "the win-ner."

For two and a half rounds little Barney Reese of Anaheim punched holes in a befuddled L. A. fighter, Rudy Varga, who outweighed the local lad by nearly 15 pounds. Near the end of the third Varga dropped to the canvas, clutching his groin and groaning loudly. He claimed a foul, but the club doc examined him and said no foul. So the bout went to Reese.

The dirty tactics of Louie Tucker, L. A. negro, aroused the ire of fans, but he won over the Shermanite, Uley Davis, by a technical kayo in the fourth frame. Tucker made a mess of the Indian's face, hitting him with his shoulder in the clinches.

Lanky Henry Moberly, L. A. negro, won a decision over Johnny Otaras of the same city in a battle which was a riot. It started slowly, but built up to a comical climax in the second when the darky's long foot pushed clear through the sole of Otaras' shoe. He fought the rest of the bout with the shoe swishing about his leg. Referee Nilan took a nice clout to the jaw when Otaras swung a wild right which landed on the official.

Baker Takes Beating
Nobody that ever fought at the local scrapphouse ever took as bad as Eddie Baker of Ontario last night. The burly Sherman Indian, Eddie Moore, sank sickening blows to his body, landed crashing rights and lefts to the jaw and punished the Ontario lad horribly. But Baker kept on coming in, taking them and dishing out plenty, too. It was a bloody spectacle. Moore won the decision and, Baker won the admiration of fans for his fighting heart.

The judges split on their decisions in the curtain-raiser between Joe Cabrera, Casa Blanca, and Manuel Valencia, but the ref gave the decision to the Casa Blanca batter. It was a well matched fight with plenty of action.

The state athletic commission again is enforcing the ruling regarding using two judges for amateur fights. For some time the referee has been making the decisions.

Washington Leads Bruins to 19-0 Football Victory
LOS ANGELES. (AP)—U. C. L. A. gridiron aspirants started their summer football vacation today after the varsity trimmed the Scrubs, 19 to 0, in the windup spring practice.

Kenny Washington, negro sophomore, was the sparkplug of the varsity attack, scoring a touchdown on a 60-yard run with an intercepted pass and tossing the ball to teammates for two other touchdowns.

Bob Feller Previews His Diploma

Van Meter (Iowa) High school officials allowed Bob Feller, American league strike-out king, a preview of the diploma he will receive tonight. Cleveland's youthful hurler has been spending his time cramming for the examinations.

FELLER REJOINS CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND. (AP)—It probably won't be necessary, but if advisable baseball's most publicized rookie, Bob Feller, will be required for the entire season with an injury to his "million dollar" pitching arm, the Cleveland Indians' vice president and general manager declared today.

"We're not taking any chances on that arm and we're not going to allow him to pitch again until the last trace of soreness has disappeared," said C. C. Slapnicka, who also is handling the 18-year-old strikeout king's business affairs.

Iowa Bob suffered the injury in his first American league start this year and retired after six innings during which he fanned 11—virtually equal to his record trisection pace of 17 in a single game last season. He has not pitched since—that was 20 days ago.

Slapnicka, after reading a published story quoting Feller as saying he "might not pitch again this year," said "I don't believe that. I think a couple of weeks' rest will fix him now."

Feller, his high school diploma laid away in the bureau drawer back home in Adel, Iowa, will rejoin the tribe in Chicago tomorrow or Sunday but will be restricted to batting, Slapnicka said.

Wally Hally Makes Rapid Rise Under New Manager
LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A year ago Young Wally Hally rubbed swollen eyes and a bruised nose and wondered if it wouldn't be just as well to give up the trade of prizefighting.

The little blond bulldog of the featherweight, who as a youngster shook a Salvation Army tambourine at Fifth and Main, had taken a shelling for 19 rounds at the of a year before, Arizmendi.

Hally decided to keep plugging away, and eventually he came under the management of veteran Gus Wilson. "Things began to brighten up, and just a month ago Hally came back to deal out a merciless beating to his conqueror of a year before, Arizmendi."

Today Wally seems to have attained the dubious distinction of reaching the top peak—where the jumping off place is located. For the Alhambra kid meets Henry Armstrong on one of the three 10-round main events May 24 at Wrigley field.

But Wally seems unafraid. "Everyone seems to think Henry will slaughter me, but I'm not so sure," said Hally. "After all, he's only got two hands, and so have I. And besides, I don't believe Mr. Wilson would put me in with him if he didn't think I had a chance."

Los Angeles fight fans like Wally as a clean, game youngster, who starts throwing gloves when the bell rings and stops only when a round ends. He's rugged and stronger with added pounds.

His main worry, however, is that Armstrong, the most dangerous man in the featherweight ranks today, also throws punches from bell to bell, and undoubtedly tosses them faster and harder.

Fast Track Expected For 47th Running; Eight To Run at Pimlico

By ORLO ROBERTSON

BALTIMORE. (AP)—The $50,000 Preakness, which will have its 47th running at Pimlico tomorrow, held a War Admiral tinge today.

Trainers of seven other three-year-olds marched boldly into the secretary's office today and answered the challenge of the Kentucky Derby winner by dropping the names of their charges in the entry box.

Early arrivals, however, joined the experts in predicting a close battle for second money with the diminutive son of Man O'War from Samuel Fiddle's Philadelphia-owned stable joining the select circle of five thoroughbreds which won both the Derby and Preakness.

Only track conditions figure to prevent War Admiral from being the shortest priced favorite since Mrs. Dodge Sloane's High Quest and Cavalade ran one, two in 1934.

Thundershowers last night threatened to make the racing strip muddy, but the weather man promised War Admiral a fast track over the mile and three-sixteenths test.

His 64-year-old trainer, George Conway, wants the going to be as it was last week at Churchill Downs, when War Admiral ran the second fastest Derby in history.

Two other sons of Man O'War himself, winner of the Preakness 17 years ago, also will parade to the post at about 2:30 p. m. (Pacific Standard Time). Only Walter M. Jeffords' matey figures to offer War Admiral any kind of opposition, however. The other Over The Top, was the lesser of two Riddle stars until sold to Mrs. W. H. Furst of Chicago a few days ago.

Matey, winner of the Pimlico future last year through a disqualification, has yet to meet the derby winner while Over The Top was beaten by his then stablemate in the Chesapeake a month ago.

J. H. Louchheim's Pompoon, second in the Derby, and with Eunice G. Rand's Merry Maker the only ones seeking a return engagement, probably will battle it out with Matey for runner-up honors both in the wagering and running. They shape up as 4 to 1 shots with War Admiral held at the short odds of 1 to 2.

Pretty Catherine Hines, 21, competes, and holds her own, with the best male jai alai players in Miami, Fla.

ILLINOIS TO BURY 32,000 'GHOSTS'

Dead Corporations to Be Laid to Rest By the State

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—Few mourners were rallying today for Illinois' largest official burial—the legal laying of some 32,000 corporate ghosts.

Attorney General Otto Kerner is the executor for the job, one of the biggest of its kind ever undertaken.

Wanting only live, active corporations on its books, the state is spending up to $26,000 to "kill" all moribund ones. Some have been dead for all purposes scores of years.

Matter of Names

Many were chartered in a pitch of enthusiasm for a particular objective and languished as the fervor of its incorporators cooled. In many cases the names give little inkling of the now forgotten aims, notably "The American Wifehood Society," "The Comic Motto Club," "The Lone Star Association."

It was the matter of names which helped spur the last rites. New groups spring up from time to time, frequently bent on a particular title, find it denied them by a dead hand.

Under the statutes no two incorporated bodies may select the same names.

75,000 'Dead' Ones
Thus the burial will release thousands of apt phrases for present day charters.

Kerner estimates Illinois has 75,000 inert corporations—one of the largest lists in the nation.

The legislature finally decided in 1935 to provide for their final legal interment. Under its authority, Kerner's office brought suit to eliminate 32,000 from the records. Sheriffs reported they were able to locate representatives of only a small number of the organizations.

NEW PASTOR IS WELCOMED

A rousing welcome and reception was extended to the Rev. J. S. Bash, new pastor of the Orange Avenue Christian church, and Mrs. Bash Wednesday night, when more than 100 congregation members and friends gathered in the church hall.

After presentation of the new pastor, who spoke briefly, the Rev. Dr. A. E. Kelly, president of the Santa Ana Ministerial association, was introduced. He announced as theme for several subsequent addresses given by the Rev. W. S. Buchanan of the First Christian church, Joseph Grimshaw and Charles Morgan of the Orange Avenue church, the following text from Nehemiah 4-6: "So built we the wall and all the walls were joined together unto the half thereof, for the people had a mind to work."

After the speeches and a reading by Mrs. Vivian Smith, a refreshment course was served in the flower-decked hall. Mrs. B. Curney and Mrs. Lillian Lowen were chairmen under Mrs. Hugh Gerrard, who was in general charge of the refreshments.

School Population Shows Decline

WASHINGTON, (P)—The office of education said a falling birth rate brought in 1936 the first decline of public school enrollments in the nation's history. An estimate showed 130,000 fewer children were enrolled last fall than the 28,434,193 in grade and high schools two years ago.

CONTESTS WILL

CHICAGO, (P)—George M. Higginson, Hawthorne, Calif., is contesting the will of his mother, Mrs. Kate Higginson, who died March 5 at the age of 88. The will left $35,000 to relatives, but nothing to Higginson. A codicil said he had already received $150,000 from his mother.

Germans Bested by Jinx on Americans, British, Italians

THE U. S. SHENANDOAH

When the dirigible Hindenburg blew to bits over Lakehurst airport, Germany joined the list of nations whose attempts to navigate the skies in lighter-than-air craft have ridden to disaster.

Some early zeppelins crashed, but not since 1913 had serious accident befallen a German blimp.

American efforts with dirigible have failed consistently. Latest disaster occurred on Feb. 12, 1935, when the navy ship Macon was destroyed off the Pacific coast. Before that the Akron went down in a thunder storm off the Jersey coast on April 4, 1933, and the

THE ITALIAN ROMA

Shenandoah broke in half over Ohio on Sept. 3, 1935.

Britain's R-101 exploded over France in 1930 with a loss of 16 lives, and England also lost the R-34 and the NS-11 by accident.

Italy's airships have suffered similar fate. The Italia crashed into the Arctic in a flight to the north pole in 1928; and the Roma, bought by the United States from Italy, came down in flames near Hampton Roads army air base in Virginia in 1922.

EXTRAVAGANT EXPANSION DEPLORED

WASHINGTON, (P)—Secretary Roper has cautioned American industry against expanding plant capacity extravagantly in the belief that business flowing from huge world armament expenditures will endure.

He urged constant research to gauge expansion so that industrial recession would not result. "Under the present world outlook," the commerce department chief told his press conference, "many billions will be spent throughout the world during the next 12 months for plant expansion and armament product requirements."

"This will tend to create abnormal demand conditions that cannot last and naturally will be followed by recessions if advance precautionary methods are not used."

COURT COMPELS FLAG SALUTE

ATLANTA, (P)—The Georgia supreme court ruled yesterday school boards may expel a pupil for failure to salute the United States flag.

It made the ruling in upholding the Atlanta school board's expulsion of Dorothy Leales, 12, for refusal to salute the flag.

The defense contended here family belonged to a religious group and had instructed the girl not to worship anything except almighty God.

Twins Are Born to Blonde Mothers Oftener Than To Brunettes, Research Finds

ITHACA, N. Y. (P)—Science has found that blonde mothers have twins oftener than brunettes, and that the mother's age at the birth of twins is likely to be between 35 and 40.

So said Dr. Margaret Wylie, of the family life department, New York State College of Home Economics at Cornell University, today in summarizing some of the "findings" of various researches on twins.

The fair-haired Nordic race is more apt to have twins than Alpine or dark Mediterranean women, Dr. Wylie explained, hence "blonde mothers more often than brunettes."

72 Sets in City

Soft-spoken Dr. Wylie, a specialist in child development and parent education, said it was not surprising that the city of Jamestown, N. Y., where she is adviser to the "Cornell Twin Study Club," should have 72 sets of twins. "For approximately 57 per cent of Jamestown's population is of Swedish descent"—in other words, of the Nordic type.

Of the 27 mothers of twins comprising the twin study club, 20 were over 30 when their twins were born, said Dr. Wylie.

More findings from scientific studies of twins:

There are about 2,500,000 twins in the United States. Approximately 1 birth in 93 is a twin birth.

For every single birth, there are 1057 boys to 1000 girls. In the case of twins, there are 1043 boys to 1000 girls.

Much Research

Important research on twins has been conducted by experts of the University of California, the universities of Chicago, Minnesota, Tennessee and Yale, among other centers, but most twin studies so far have been concerned with factors of heredity and environment.

The Jamestown, N. Y., project organized under the extension division of Cornell at the request of Jamestown mothers carries the study of twins into the practical realm of family life.

A visit to the high, sunny campus of Cornell, and to the big Georgian yellow brick building here housing the New York State College of Home Economics, discloses that the Jamestown twin study project is integrated in a vast program that spreads all over New York state.

39 Communities Served
In farm communities, villages and cities over the state are 25,000 "home bureau" members of the college of home economics, studying family life, food, clothing and every phase of home management. Last year the extension division

CANADA TO GET BOOK ON DUKE

OTTAWA, Ont. (Canadian Press)—The book "Coronation Commentary," withdrawn in England after protest by the Duke Windsor, will be admitted to Canada, Revenue Minister Iseay announced.

The book by Geoffrey Dennis deals with former King Edward's reign and circumstances of his abdication. The duke has filed suit for libel against the publishers, who withdrew the book in England with an apology after Edward's protest.

It referred to his reign in part as marked by asserted "muddling."

Wedgewood Stoves Demonstrated At Horton Store

There is an interesting demonstration going on at the J. C. Horton Furniture store which the women of Santa Ana and Orange county should not miss, said Horton today.

A representative of the Wedgewood Stove company, Miss Lucile Corriston, is not only explaining the new features but giving an actual demonstration of its cooking advantages. Along with the many modern improvements that the Wedgewood company has made on the new range it has also been increased in its cooking methods, and these Miss Corriston will be pleased to explain to visitors.

Economy and labor saving devices are embodied in the new Wedgewood. In this connection, the Wedgewood Stove company is celebrating its 55th anniversary, and The J. C. Horton company its 30th anniversary as local representative.

An invitation is extended to the public to visit the Horton store and inquire for Miss Corriston, who will demonstrate today and Saturday from 10 a. m. to noon and from 2 to 5 p. m.

The bidding began with an offer by Hollywood Plans, Inc., of $1100 and rose speedily.

The plans included some of the outstanding hits of the last 20 years. Among them "Stepping Stones," "Bulldog Drummond," "Miss Information," "Chin Chin," "The Fortune Hunter," "The Century Girl" and "Hitchy Koo."

NEW YORK, (P)—Referee John E. Joyce sold at public auction for $10,500 a group of 111 plays and musical comedies owned by the late Charles D. Dillingham, to Howard E. Leinheimer, attorney, who represented Irving Berlin, Jerome Kern, Oscar Hammerstein and others.

The bidding began with an offer by Hollywood Plans, Inc., of $1100 and rose speedily.

Agents Make Offer For Leeds Property On Long Island

NEW YORK, (P)—An English syndicate reported to represent the Duke of Windsor, has inspected the William B. Leeds estate, Kenwood, at Cove Neck, Long Island, with the object of purchasing the property.

Arthur C. Sheridan, who will conduct the auctions of the estate, said agents of the syndicate have made an offer for the estate which had not been rejected, but which he requested that they renew at Saturday's auction.

While Sheridan was not prepared to say the agents represented Windsor, the World-Telegram said Miss Sadie Lack, secretary to Leeds, had confirmed the report that Windsor's agents had inspected the Long Island showplace for which Leeds, son of the "tin-plate king," paid around $450,000.

JUNE ECLIPSE GREATEST IN 1000 YEARS

Handful of Scientists
Will Be Only Ones
To Witness It

CHICAGO, (AP)—The greatest astronomical show on earth in the last 1000 years will play to an audience of a mere handful, Dr. Oliver J. Lee, Northwestern University astronomer, said today.

The first of the two 1937 solar eclipses will occur June 8, but a less favorable setting from a scientist's point of view could hardly be possible, he said.

"With the exception of a few small, uninhabited islands in the South Pacific ocean and a small part of Peru," Dr. Lee said, "the entire eclipse from sunrise to sunset will be visible only from ships in the Pacific. And astronomical observations must be made from land since most instruments will be erected on a stationary, immovable base."

One of Greatest
This eclipse will be one of the greatest in history. Its duration at mid-totally with the sun and moon on the meridian and only 13 degrees north of the zenith will be seven minutes and four seconds. This is within 26 seconds of the maximum possible for any eclipse, he said.

Astronomical records show that eclipses run in series. The interval between them, termed the eclipse Saros, is 18 years and 10 or 11 days. A complete series requires about 13 centuries to run its course.

The first eclipse of such a series will be a small partial one at either the North or the South Pole, with each succeeding one of greater magnitude and a little nearer the equator. After a few centuries the first total eclipse of the series occurs when the axis of the moon's shadow cone touches the earth. Then follows a long series of total eclipses at 18-year intervals, each of greater duration and each nearer the equator.

Other Dates Told
"The coming one comes near the middle of one of these 13 century cycles," Dr. Lee said. "The central eclipse of this series will occur July 22, 2009. Those of maximum duration will be the present one, and those of June 20, 1955, and June 30, 1973. The eclipse of 1955 will last seven hours and six seconds, or two seconds longer than the one next June. The first eclipse of this series occurred at the South Pole June 14, 1369."

"The June eclipse will travel a path nearly one-tenth the circumference of the globe in the Pacific equatorial regions. It will be 153 miles wide. The only land it will touch is a few coral atolls in the Ellice and Phoenix islands and a small part of Peru."

The next 1937 solar eclipse will occur Dec. 2 and 3, but is will be annular, Dr. Lee said. There also will be a partial eclipse of the moon on Nov. 18.

Bay City May Get New Subway

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—The chamber of commerce in a letter to the board of supervisors, urged immediate submission of a $52,000,000 bond issue to the voters for construction of a subway system here.

The chamber endorsed the subway plan of E. G. Cahill, manager of utilities, calling for eight and one-half miles of subways in the downtown district.

'I Was Thugging'

Bill "Thug" Johnson, former mine guard for a Harlan county, Kentucky, coal company, told the Senate Civil Liberties committee in Washington that Merle Middleton, cousin of the local sheriff, was "chief thug" for county coal operators for two years. "When I was thugging in Harlan county," said Johnson, "Merle Middleton was the chief of the gang."

BISHOP HITS SOUTHLAND HABITS

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—To the Rt. Rev. W. B. Stevens, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles, Southern California is a land of empty bottles.

Obligations of all kinds take precedence over obligations to the church, he said. And Southern Californians "jump from one 'ism' to another."

"It doesn't make much difference if one changes the labels on these empty bottles, and Southern California is full of empty bottles," he added.

With Bishop Irving P. Johnson of Denver, Bishop Stevens criticized Americans for "wearing tags of organizations without caring to stand for principals of these organizations."

The bishops will attend a conference of the Pacific province at Seattle.

PLANS SURVEY OF HIGHWAYS

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A survey of the nation's 3,000,000 miles of highways is under way, Secretary Wallace said today, with a view to planning large governmental projects "when the next depression comes."

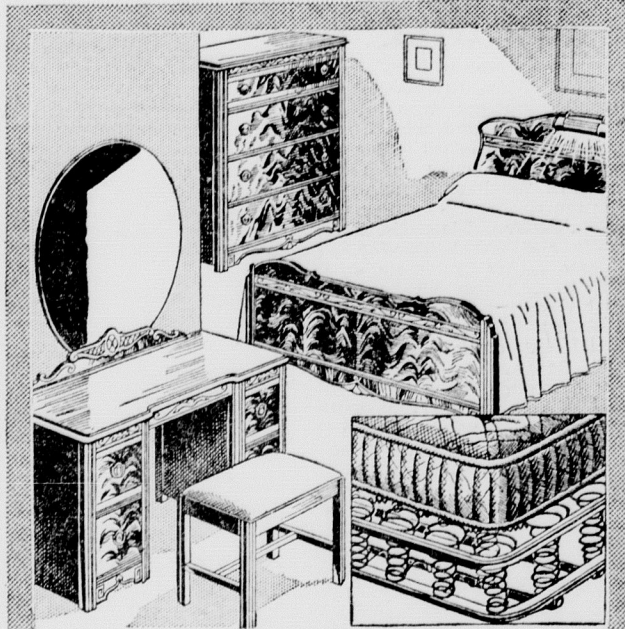

The cabinet member told a radio farm hour audience that "road building is one of the best ways to spend federal money in time of depression to take care of unemployment in a way to prime the pump and get things going again."

654,000 Bushel Wheat Crop Seen

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The agricultural department announced this year's winter wheat crop as indicated by conditions May 1, would be 654,000 bushels.

A month ago 656,019,000 bushels were indicated. Last year's crop was 519,013,000 bushels and the 1928-32 average was 623,220,000 bushels.

Something new in Brea? There, in Corb Sarchet's town, they have a woman police radio announcer!

If that isn't something new, what is? She's reported to be Mrs. Gladys May, who's also city clerk. The radio is on the same wave length as the county station, I'm told, and it still amazes officers to hear a woman's voice giving police directions on the air.

And then we have the sad case of Dr. J. M. Kolisch, who was popped in the face with a fish down at Newport.

The papers were full of Dr. Kolisch and the fish the other day. It seems that it's more news than a man gnawing a canine or a worm turning, or something.

The unfortunate doctor, it seems, was flitting about in a racing boat, which angers thought was cruising too close to their barge. Someone unleashed a shower of fish, one of which broke the doc's glasses. He's talking about suing somebody.

Before passing judgment on the case, I'd like to know what sort of fish did the damage. If someone popped him with a tomcod, say, or a mackerel, I don't blame him a bit. But if it were a nice yellowtail, or even abracadabra, I think he should lay off.

Because why should he become expected because an angler heaves a potential supper into his boat? Sort of looking a gift fish in the mouth, isn't it?

Incidentally, dentists had a convention at Balboa yesterday.

And spent most of the time yanking each other out of the bay. And filling in their time by gumming up boat races.

I never knew before there were so many girl-dentists! Especially in bathing suits!

And now we'll get around to Marion Speer, author, historian, collector of relics, and all-around good guy.

You might remember that George Kellogg, highwayman from Yorba Linda, has been running this department for his copy of "Western Trails." Speer's book on his amblings over most of the West.

Well, the author read about the way George has been pestering me. He writes:

"I always enjoy your column," (mat, pat) "but yesterday's made me feel a little wider note. With pleasure I read about the 'Western Trails,' and that the copy you have belongs to the Imperial Highway association.

"That statement made up my mind to get you a copy if I can, for your very own, with no strings attached. I felt like I just wanted to find a copy the other fellow will part with. Now, how does this promise sound to you?"

It sounds good, because I know only a certain number of his books were printed, and no one wants to give up a copy. Also, he automatically disqualifies himself as a member of the Society for Prevention of a Picture at the Top of this Column by his following remarks: "The new decoration at the top of your column is much better. But, you should be in your shirt sleeves, with them rolled up. You'd more natural. Otherwise, it is fine."

And then he does a little back-patting, which I'm running in the hope The Boss sees it. Thusly:

"When I read that column yesterday, I felt like I just wanted to drop you a line and let you know that I, for one, read it from top to bottom. Your way of expressing your point suits me and I love it. The new Journal is much better and is really on its way to higher mountain peaks. When you render a real service to mankind, unafraid and void of highbrows, mankind will flock to your door for more and bigger things. I have watched The Journal do this thing from the beginning, I love history and those who make it, so I watch The Journal and its history in the making."

Many thanks to Historian Speer. If I ever find an arrowhead or a mastodon or anything, I'll give it to him!

Yesterday I sat for a half-hour and listened. City Councilman Lloyd Claire and Harbormaster Tommy Bouchey talk about food and the right way to cook it.

Things became real interesting when they reached a soup which is made from cows hoofs (or is it hooves?) and if so, what's the plural of hoof? And is very delicious. We discussed about every special dish cooked for royalty and then worked down through pickled eggs to pickled clams.

And then went out and ate a pork sandwich!

GRADES ANNOUNCED

YORBA LINDA.—Eighth grade students of the local grammar school who received the highest grades in the civic examination on the Constitution of the United States are Both Anderson, 100; Bob Cochran, 99; Julia Lee Murray, 99; Mary Jean Vetter, 98; Virginia Davidson, 96; Mariana Apalategui, 96; Marilyn Johnson, 95; Alene Barnes, 93, and Wendell Marshburn, 91.

TUSTIN'S ANNUAL COMMUNITY PICNIC SET FOR MAY 22

CELEBRATION
IN PARK

Committees Named to
Be in Charge of 20th
City-Wide Fiesta

TUSTIN.—Plans have been completed here for the annual community picnic, which has been set for May 22 at Irvine park.

With stores and school planning early closing, that pupils and employees may take part in the event, one of the greatest crowds in the 20-year history of the event is anticipated.

Free Transportation
Buses will leave the elementary school at 12:30 o'clock, with arrangements being made for transportation for all parents and children who have no way to reach the park. Official opening of the affair is slated for 2 p. m.

A program of sports is planned for the afternoon, with a picnic dinner to be served at 6 p. m. and dancing in the evening.

20th Meeting
The annual community picnic was inaugurated in 1917, when merchants closed stores and schools were dismissed. Since that time the entire community has turned out each year for the event, which continues to grow in popularity.

Official hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greenwood and Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Brooks. On the sports committee are Miss Stella Yocum, Miss Mildred Staples, George Gaylord, Raymond Dawson, Vincent Humeston and Robert Korff.

Other committee members are Mrs. J. L. Marshall, high school; Mrs. Earl Sharpless, Presbyterian church and elementary school; Mrs. Lyle Forney, Advent Christian church; Mrs. Merle Thompson, Knights of Pythias; Mrs. Orlo Householder, American Legion; Mrs. Kenneth Connor, primary school; Mrs. Marshall Burke, general chairman; Mrs. O. L. Jacobs, publicity and Ernest Harwood, awardee.

Incidentally, dentists had a convention at Balboa yesterday.

And spent most of the time yanking each other out of the bay. And filling in their time by gumming up boat races.

I never knew before there were so many girl-dentists! Especially in bathing suits!

And now we'll get around to Marion Speer, author, historian, collector of relics, and all-around good guy.

You might remember that George Kellogg, highwayman from Yorba Linda, has been running this department for his copy of "Western Trails." Speer's book on his amblings over most of the West.

Well, the author read about the way George has been pestering me. He writes:

"I always enjoy your column," (mat, pat) "but yesterday's made me feel a little wider note. With pleasure I read about the 'Western Trails,' and that the copy you have belongs to the Imperial Highway association.

"That statement made up my mind to get you a copy if I can, for your very own, with no strings attached. I felt like I just wanted to find a copy the other fellow will part with. Now, how does this promise sound to you?"

It sounds good, because I know only a certain number of his books were printed, and no one wants to give up a copy. Also, he automatically disqualifies himself as a member of the Society for Prevention of a Picture at the Top of this Column by his following remarks: "The new decoration at the top of your column is much better. But, you should be in your shirt sleeves, with them rolled up. You'd more natural. Otherwise, it is fine."

And then he does a little back-patting, which I'm running in the hope The Boss sees it. Thusly:

"When I read that column yesterday, I felt like I just wanted to drop you a line and let you know that I, for one, read it from top to bottom. Your way of expressing your point suits me and I love it. The new Journal is much better and is really on its way to higher mountain peaks. When you render a real service to mankind, unafraid and void of highbrows, mankind will flock to your door for more and bigger things. I have watched The Journal do this thing from the beginning, I love history and those who make it, so I watch The Journal and its history in the making."

Many thanks to Historian Speer. If I ever find an arrowhead or a mastodon or anything, I'll give it to him!

Pioneer Days Festival Queen

June Barbara Burch, 14-year-old Ogden girl, will be queen of the Ogden, Utah, Pioneer Days celebration July 18 to 24. The festival is held annually in memory of the arrival of Mormon pioneers July 24, 1847. Miss Burch is shown here with her pinto pony, Skippy.

NICHOLS TALKS SLATE RECITAL TO G. G. CLUB IN SANTA ANA

GARDEN GROVE.—Interesting incidents concerning his arrival in Garden Grove 50 years ago were told members of the Garden Grove Lions club by E. E. Nichols, a guest at the luncheon meeting Wednesday. Mr. Nichols only recently established his home in Garden Grove again after having lived in Berkeley for some years, where he practiced law.

Charles Lake, as scheduled speaker for the luncheon, discussed geological formations, particularly as they pertain to oil. Mr. Lake was formerly employed as a geologist in oil fields of Texas. H. A. Lake gave a brief resume of recent developments on the flood control bond issue.

PLAN CARNIVAL AT ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM.—May 21 has been selected as the date of the annual carnival to be staged on the athletic field of Anaheim union high school. The event is sponsored by the junior and senior classes of the high school and the Parent-Teacher association.

Concessions will be under the direction of students, with members of the P-T. A. in charge of the supper and other food sales. The carnival will open with a parade at 1 p. m. and close following a penny dance to be given in the gymnasium at 9 p. m.

Included on the committee of arrangements are C. G. Hedstrom, Frank Kellogg, Mrs. Walter Ross and Mrs. William LeVecke.

Ball for the two has been set at $1000 each.

Yorba Linda Methodists Meet

YORBA LINDA.—Members of the Challenge class of the Methodist church held their monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the social hall of the church, opening at 6:30 o'clock pot-luck dinner.

After a short business meeting at which Herbert Worsham presided, Leonard Young of Anaheim played violin selections, accompanied by Olive Gale. Displayed several pictures which she took while on a recent trip to Washington, D. C. Hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. W. Chance, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Holland and Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Brown of Fullerton.

REBEKAHS PLAN ELECTION

WESTMINSTER.—Nomination of officers marked the regular meeting of Aloha Rebekah lodge Tuesday night. The second nomination is scheduled for May 25.

Mrs. Hettie Murdy, in charge of the Mothers' day program, introduced Mary Lou Hare and two of her pupils, Elianae Hytton and Frances Durd, who played several piano numbers, and Mrs. Nellie Morgan gave a reading. Refreshments concluded the evening.

Grove Bible Members Meet

GARDEN GROVE.—Bible section members of the Woman's Civic club were guests Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. S. Virgin when Mrs. Lewis Gaul of Santa Ana discussed the life of Hannah.

Attending were Mesdames H. E. Mills, J. T. Lunsinger, E. F. Hud, E. G. Maier, E. E. Nichols, G. R. Heyburn, W. O. Broady, Edward Chaffee and Harry Berman.

TUFFREE BACK FROM TRIP ON NILE

PLACENTIA.—Rivers that flow diamonds, natives who average seven feet tall and who cover themselves with ashes to keep off mosquitoes; lion cubs in herds sometimes reaching a number of 30 or more.

John Tuffree, Placentia orange rancher and world traveler, says that those things and more on his latest trip, which he completed with his arrival home Monday.

Guards are stationed along the entire length of the Nile river in Africa, because the river actually flows diamonds, he said. Tuffree added that already the British have enough diamonds to ruin the world market in a short time if they wished to do so.

He talked to the discoverer of the famed Junkers diamond, second largest in the world, which he said was found by Colonel Tuffree the old man now has nothing, the Placentia man said.

Tuffree left Placentia last Jan. 22 and on Monday completed a 30,000-mile trip, during which he traveled the length of the Nile river, saw many strange sights and took hundreds of feet of motion pictures.

Outstanding features of his voyage were a trip down into a diamond mine, side trips into regions where wild game abounded and his 24-day trip on the Nile, Tuffree said.

He traveled more than 30,000 miles. Hired a car in London and traveled the exact route of the coronation parade, with only workmen constructing grandstands to cheer him. He rode on the Nile, and took pictures of a herd of more than 30 nearly grown lion cubs from a distance of five feet.

The citrus industry in Africa is growing, he said, but ranchers there have great difficulty because of their continual fight against parasites. He visited the government citrus experiment station at Nelspruit and the famous game preserve, Kruger park, where a type of animal life is undisturbed.

His motion pictures will be developed within a short time.

HONOR PUPILS HAVE BANQUET

ORANGE.—Dr. Cass Arthur Reed, pastor of the First Congregational church, Pomona, and president of International college, Smyrna, Turkey, for 20 years, was speaker at the annual banquet of the high school honor societies Thursday evening at the Woman's club.

The topic of Dr. Reed's talk was "Modern Youth in a Troubled World." Miss Katherine Sutherland, president of the honor society, was master of ceremonies. George Stoner is the faculty advisor.

Life membership pins in the national honor society were presented six students by E. R. Forbes. They were awarded to Son, Mary Spennetta, Phyllis Kog-Katherine Sutherland, Harold Larleg, Edward Bergemann and Evelyn Elliste.

A string quartet made up of John H. Stout, Blanche Patton, Bernard Cook and Virginia Wilber played, and a skit was presented by Elizabeth Welsh and Donald Kruger, directed by Melba Estes. School board members and faculty members also were present, the total group numbering about 150.

GROVE LEGION AFFAIR TOLD

GARDEN GROVE.—Invitations to an extended and prominent Legionnaires to attend the next meeting of the Garden Grove post on May 26, according to plans made at a meeting here Wednesday evening. Included will be the candidate for department commander from the fifth area, Joe Long of Riverside, the 21st district commander, Frank Bishop of Corona, and the fifth area commander, B. A. Liebermann of Santa Ana.

Plans also were made for sending Tom Sullivan, Garden Grove High school boy who recently placed second in the county finals of Legion oratorical contest, to the boys' state encampment at Sacramento June 19 to 30.

Visitor Feted At Park Picnic

GARDEN GROVE.—Mrs. A. J. Kelly entertained with a picnic dinner at Anaheim park Thursday honoring an old-time friend, Miss Ruby Lively of Denver, Colo., who is spending several days as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly.

Other guests were Mrs. Art Scott of Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. W. H. Johnson of Orange, Mrs. Howard Johnson of Long Beach and Mrs. R. L. Stringer of Garden Grove.

Party Held In Midway Home

MIDWAY CITY.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lowery were hosts at a buffet supper and bridge party recently. Guests were Harold Dillehunt, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark and Mr. and Mrs. William Kolhorst, Orange; G. R. Heyburn, W. O. Broady, Edward Chaffee and Harry Berman.

After the Sitdown, a Bath

The first place that Mrs. Genevieve Johnson visited, after police ended her 15-day sitdown strike for alimony, was a tub. Here she is at the home of a friend in Longmont, Colo., sponging away grime.

CENTER GROUP G. G. GIRL WINS VISITS HOMES AT SHORTHAND

ORANGE.—The home department of the West Orange Farm center met Wednesday noon at the home of Mrs. Otto Schroeder, 2227 Lincoln street, Santa Ana. Luncheon was served out-of-doors, with the president, Mrs. J. F. Mueller, conducting a business meeting.

Mrs. C. S. Minter gave the director's report, and Mesdames J. F. Mueller, A. F. Schroeder and Joe Witt reported on the new kitchen at the Farm Bureau headquarters.

A tour of gardens was conducted by Mrs. A. F. Schroeder. The Holmes Bishop garden on Fairhaven avenue, that of Roy E. Johnson, North Tustin avenue, the garden of G. B. Darnell, Flower street, Santa Ana, and the new home of A. C. Honer, 615 Santa Clara avenue, were visited.

Present were Mesdames F. H. Gerdes, O. E. Sharer, W. M. Cory, C. W. Todd, Carl H. Feldner, R. Deane Smiley, L. J. Sherwin, E. E. Piper, D. P. Leonard, Lucie Leonard, Melvin Witt, Joe Humphrey, A. Goetz, Ivan Elliott, W. L. Vose, W. M. Todd, C. Woertz, C. M. Hinrichs, J. W. Underwood, W. C. Hafer, Dessie Anderson, R. E. Gross, G. H. Juenke, Oscar Ristow, Mary M. Parker, W. J. Richardson, W. Goetz, H. J. Hinrichs, Della Bishop, Perry Groat, Roy E. Johnson, G. B. Darnell and A. C. Honer and Misses Jessie C. Kempton and Claudine Minter.

The late Marcus Trent of Miami, Florida, has left a million dollars to his nephew, Rodney Burton, provided he is unmarried when he reaches twenty-five.

Other money was bequeathed to a society headed by the unscrupulous J. Montrose Pettigrew. In accordance with Trent's wishes, Rodney, out at Gunnison, Colorado, is not informed of his uncle's death, nor of the terms of the will.

Dr. Speizenwitz, "Study of Stone Through the Ages" to check his own theory concerning the antiquity of the find.

UNDER the pine, Sari sagged against the back of the bench and tried to decide how best to handle Rodney. There was something definitely queer about him. Well staying out in the mountains alone was a queer thing to make any sane man a little queer.

She wondered what earthly reason Pettigrew could have for waiting since he married before July 24th. Ever since leaving Miami, she had been racing her train for an answer to the mystery. She had imagined all sorts of wild possibilities. None of them seemed to make sense—less so now that she had met the man whose wedding was worth ten thousand dollars to Pettigrew.

On the train, she had conjured up images of all sorts of men to fit the character she would discover at the end of her journey, but in her wildest imaginings she had not pictured such a person as Rodney Burton seemed to be. He was utterly different from any man she had ever encountered, and she had thought she had met all types. Rodney was a new one to her.

It was clear that he wasn't used to talking to people, and she shrewdly suspected he hadn't had much to do with girls. That was going to make a conquest more difficult. However, her determination did not waver. She had come to the end of her journey, and Rodney Burton, and earn ten thousand dollars—and she meant to do it.

She wondered what he was doing alone in the cabin? Brooding because she had been cool to him?

SHE arose and tiptoed toward the cabin. She reached an open window and peered into the dim interior.

Then he was seated at a rough table, feverishly turning the pages of a thick book and mumbling to himself. He seemed to be utterly oblivious to the fact that he had a visitor. His hair was disarranged, and he began nodding his head excitedly as Sari watched him.

His fingers groped over the surface of the table to fondle a slender object that was shaped somewhat like a paper-knife. He picked it up and stared at it, his eyes gleaming.

He looked up toward Sari at the window, a faraway expression on his lean face as though he had been transported into another world.

"Bureka!" he suddenly shouted. He leaped up and dashed to the open window, brandishing the obnoxious knife.

"The greatest find of the century!" he shouted at Sari. "From Speizenwitz's diagrams, I am convinced it is of paleolithic origin. Here! I must show you."

He dashed for the door.

Sari, however, didn't wait to hear any more. She fled down the mountainside toward the stalled train. She'd had enough of this crazy guy!

PRORATE IS URGED BY BISHOP

VILLA PARK.—Orange growers must continue to regulate the market by proration, although they must keep up the quality of the product and do much more advertising, said Holmes Bishop, speaking before the Foothill Farm center Thursday evening.

The small grower is the backbone of the industry, he added, as he compared the difference between the industry here and in Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Bishop recently returned from an eastern trip which included Florida, and most of the large eastern cities.

California must not allow chain stores to dictate to them concerning their packing, he added, saying that in Florida the chain stores have put their recommended box in the packing houses, holding about 10 pounds more fruit than the California box. He also named the type of fruit as the greatest danger to agriculture.

The annual chamber of commerce-farm bureau picnic was announced for the latter part of June, with the county Farm Bureau picnic to be held Saturday, W. C. Armstrong presided, and Thomas High was program chairman. The dinner was prepared under the direction of Mrs. J. R. Porter.

HAS BIRTHDAY
YORBA LINDA.—Mrs. Glenn Perkins celebrated her birthday anniversary Tuesday evening with a chop suey dinner in Anaheim. Later in the evening the party attended the theater.

Guests were Mrs. E. M. Young, Mrs. Laura Burchett, Mrs. L. Timm, Mrs. Astrid Oas of Anaheim, Mrs. Louise Starr and Mrs. Hilda Milhaus.

BORAH RAPS FASCISM IN AMERICA

Letter to Editor Says Sailing Under Two Flags Won't Work

CHICAGO. (AP)—A letter in which Senator William E. Borah of Idaho wrote that he felt certain advocates of Fascism living in America "will not be permitted indefinitely to sail under two flags" was made public here by Salmon C. Levinson, attorney and friend of Borah.

The letter was written under date of May 11 to Ettore Patrizi, editor and publisher of L'Italia, an Italian newspaper in San Francisco. It was a reply to Patrizi, who wrote Borah taking issue with the senator's recent attack on Fascism in a senate speech.

Borah wrote in part: "You profess to believe, and so state, that 'there is no incompatibility in believing in Italian Fascism and a loyal American citizen'."

Questions Freedom Beliefs "Do you believe in free speech? ... Do you believe in suffrage? ... Do you believe in a free press ... and the right of labor to organize?"

"Fascism in Italy has denounced all forms of parliamentary government, all forms of free government, all right of the people to govern, all right to vote, and Fascism has made good its declarations, as the highest authority has declared, 'by sending those in opposition to island prisons.'"

The letter cited an assertion by Patrizi that "it is a pity that in this country Italian Fascism is so thoroughly misunderstood and interpreted, which is due to the fact that no one ever took the trouble of making a serious and serene study of Fascism as practiced in Italy."

Tells of Study

Borah continued: "I confess my study of Fascism 'as practiced in Italy' has not at all times been serene, but it has been both serious and persistent. ... From the march on Rome and the inspired, if not directed, murder of Matteotti to the frightful carnage of Guernica, where helpless men and women were slaughtered, the practice has been true to the theory of Fascism. ...

"And I may say to you that I feel very certain that those who are advocating Fascism in this country and at the same time professing to be good Americans will not be permitted indefinitely to sail under two flags."

RED CROSS FLAG TO WYOMING

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Wyoming has received the Red Cross membership honor flag as a reward for enrolling 9.73 per cent of its population in the organization last year.

Nevada, which won the flag in 1934 and 1935, was second in the membership ratings, with 9.20 per cent. New Hampshire was third with 6.64.

Miss Mabel Boardman, national secretary, was honored at a banquet Tuesday night. She has served without pay or traveling expenses for 37 years.

Security Act To Be Studied For Amendments

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The senate finance committee and the social security board have appointed an advisory committee of 24 representatives labor, industry and the public to study the advisability of amending the social security act.

Chairman Harrison (D., Miss.), of the finance committee said, however, that no fundamental changes in the act would be recommended at this session of congress.

NYE ASKS PROBE OF 'SPY RING'

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Senator Nye (R., N. D.) has urged in the senate an investigation of what he called a "spy ring" in this country "serving the Spanish General Franco and his Fascist state."

Nye filed with the senate translations of letters which he contended showed former Spanish diplomats and members of a New York shipping firm were involved in "activities which violate and threaten American neutrality."

Naming former Ambassador Juan Francisco de Cardenas and two former officials of the Spanish embassy here, Nye said "they have carried on in a way to indicate that they constituted the clearing house for the Spanish insurgents in the United States."

PAPA MUST AID WITH BABY

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—New York state reminded its new or prospective fathers today that their responsibility in this business of having babies goes well beyond the distribution of cigars and acceptance of congratulations.

"The responsibility for having a baby is just as much the father's as the mother's," said Dr. Elizabeth M. Gardner, of the state health department, "and each husband should help his wife follow the doctor's instructions, raise her spirits when she is depressed, and relieve her of worry and heavy physical work."

Prison Fund Bill Advances a Step

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—The bill by Assemblyman Martin, Pasadena, to appropriate $2,000,000 for the construction of the first unit of the Southern California prison, advanced a step yesterday when the senate finance committee gave approval.

The money is to be expended by the state board of prison directors, and a part of it may be used in the purchase of land.

BABIES WILL AID INCOME IN ITALY

ROME. (AP)—The government is going to give Italian parents 13 to 38 cents a week for each new baby.

The scheme is part of Premier Mussolini's plan to check the decline in Italy's birthrate.

The original announcement of the baby subsidy said the government's contribution would be progressively larger as families expanded, but gave no figures. Now the amounts have been disclosed and married couples are calculating.

If the prospective daddy is a factory worker, for instance, it will work out like this: one baby will add 25 cents to his normal weekly salary, two babies 63 cents. Three babies 94 cents and four babies $1.50.

When he acquires a brood of 10, he will be eligible to receive a supplemental wage of $3.75 a week.

NEGRO SUES FOR HIS EJECTION

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Representative Mitchell (D., Ill.), only negro member of congress, announced he had filed a $50,000 damage suit against the Illinois Central Railway Company, the trustees of the Rock Island Railroad and The Pullman Company because he was ejected from a Pullman car near Forest City, Ark., April 21.

While on the way to Hot Springs, Ark., from Chicago, Mitchell said, he was threatened with arrest unless he left the Pullman car in which he was riding and entered a car reserved for negroes.

DIVERSION OF TOURISTS HIT

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Officials of the California State Automobile association and the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce announced today they may send a delegation to Salt Lake City to protest asserted diversion of tourist travel into California to the southern part of the state.

Officials of northern California civic organizations at a meeting here charged the head of the Utah State Automobile club is directing travel to the southern part of the state.

Arthur H. Breed, sr., of Alameda, chairman of the auto association's committee, announced final plans for protest will be formed at a meeting May 20.

Bus Driver Wins Alaska Ice Breakup Contest

NENANA, Alaska. (AP)—It took a bus driver to win the world's toughest contest—the far North's annual ice breakup guessing contest.

When the ice started moving out Wednesday night in the Tanana river here at 10:04 p. m. (PST) about $75,000 came in to Mervin E. "Buster" Anderson, 31, Fairbanks bus driver, who guessed within a minute of the actual time.

Anderson also tied with Billy Root, a bus line operator, for first place in the Chena river ice breakup guessing contest at Fairbanks. He split about $3500 when the Chena ice moved out Tuesday at 1:31 p. m. (PST).

To soundbatches the ice movement on the Tanana, the principal Yukon tributary, frozen from November to May each year, heralds spring in the North.

An elaborate timing device records the exact minute of the breakup. A pole is frozen in the ice. Wires attached from the pole to a bell and a clock are run out and when the ice moves the pole falls, the bell rings and the clock stops.

About 75,000 guesses were made in the contest this year.

Zenobia Sees Her Own Funeral; Then Stores the Coffin

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—Zenobia Campbell put her coffin back in storage today and reflected on the pleasant things said about her at her funeral. The negro farm woman was the "living corpse" at her own last rites in St. James African Methodist Episcopal church here last Sunday.

Hearse, coffin, pallbearers and preacher played their parts in the unusual drama. Absent only were flowers and a number of friends Zenobia had expected to attend. The small attendance was attributed to the fees Zenobia had arranged to collect to defray the expenses of her obsequies.

ELECTRIC EYE AT PRISON Finds Saws on New Convicts

They don't smuggle saws into McNeil's island federal prison. William S. Young, assistant county jailer who returned Wednesday from a trip to the Washington prison, told today of an "electric eye" that detects even a small bit of metal in the clothing of a person entering.

"They walk through an archway," Young said, "and if there's any metal on them a light flashes on."

Young was a member of a party of nine officers, headed by U. S. Marshal Frank Besser, who took 19 prisoners from Southern California to the prison, a 13,000-acre island. The party left Los Angeles Friday in a special car. No Orange county prisoners were included in the group, Young said, although three had been federal prisoners in the local jail. The convicts were taken to the prison to serve sentences ranging up to 25 years, the term given two of them for mail robbery.

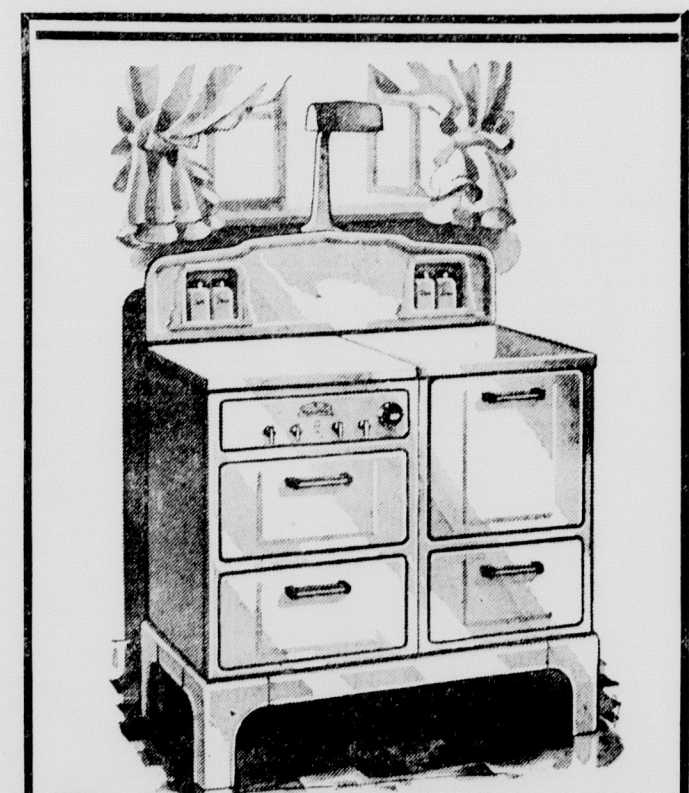

Ex-Follies Girl Denies Extortion Italy to Expel British Newsmen

NEW YORK. (AP)—Mrs. Betty Randolph Schweinhart, 40, one-time Follies actress, yesterday pleaded innocent, through counsel, to an indictment charging her with extortion.

Mrs. Schweinhart is alleged to have extorted more than $250,000 from Louis Bamberger, former broker.

Merchants Open Drive for Promotion Fund

PETITION WILL BE SENT TO COUNCIL

Will Ask Portion Of Business License
For Publicity

Business men of Santa Ana started a quiet but determined drive today to secure city business license funds for promotional activities.

The Journal learned from an authentic source that members of the retail division of the chamber of commerce are planning to circulate a petition to be presented to the city council.

Promotion Work

This petition will ask that the city set aside part of the business license fund paid directly by the merchants themselves for promotional work for the city.

Funds collected from the business licenses in this city amount to about $40,000 each year. What percentage of this fund the merchants will ask for was not revealed.

Unofficially, the proposal has been made to certain members of the city council that it set aside the funds for the promotional work, it was learned.

Expect Action Soon

The council is understood to want the petition to come from the business element of the city before officially acting on the request one way or the other.

Action on the matter is expected to be taken in the near future, inasmuch as the city council will start drawing up the budget for the next fiscal year in the immediate future.

A chamber of commerce committee already has asked the council for funds with which to have printed a pictorial map of the county, keynoting Santa Ana, for distribution to tourists and prospective residents of the city and county.

GOMEZ SEEKING RESTORATION

HAVANA, Cuba. (AP) — Dr. Miguel Gomez, ousted president of Cuba, asked the supreme court to restore him to office. Dr. Gomez was impeached and removed from office last Dec. 23 in a fight over a sugar tax measure for army-controlled schools.

Approve Law For Trial of Judges

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The house judiciary committee yesterday approved a measure that would permit trial and ouster of federal district judges on charges of misbehavior by a special tribunal. Impeachment trial before the senate is the only way now provided for removal of judges.

Premier Baldwin's Icy Heir Apparent Warms Up During the Fishing Season

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Specialist

Great Britain, casting about for a successor to aging Premier Stanley Baldwin, is taking no chances on youth.

Slated to become premier, Neville Chamberlain, the intellectual machine who has starred as chancellor of the exchequer, is an elderly statesman of the conservative school—not too conservative to take a really legitimate gamble but disinclined to undertake radical, untried experiments blindly. He is known as "safe and sane."

Like 'Em Old

England never has subscribed to the slogan of "Too Old at 40," and the retiring premier (sometimes known as "Farmer Baldwin") is in his 70th year of portliness, while Chamberlain is 63.

There was a time not so long ago when youth was clamoring, with some prospect of reward, for new blood in the political leadership, and even was saying unkind things about Mr. Baldwin's alleged Tory reactionism. However, since it now becomes necessary to change horses in the middle of a turbulent stream, the fresh mount will be a veteran war-horse who has been tried under fire.

Has Country's Confidence

One great asset Chamberlain will take with him into famous old "No. 10 Downing Street"—residence of many generations of prime ministers—is the confidence of his people. Indeed, he, more than any other man, is held by Britons to have pulled the country through the great depression and made her admired by the entire world.

It probably is equally true that the people follow Chamberlain more for his intellect than because of any warmth of personality. He is by way of being a genius, but he is also by way of being something of a brainy machine, inspiring ing awe rather than affection. He lacks that hypnotic appeal of a Lloyd George whom you follow through thick and thin even though you believe he probably is dead wrong.

Just Family Shell

However, most of this is merely the Chamberlain family shell. Neville's famous statesman brother, Sir Austen, who died recently, was a chip off the same block. The hemocled Sir Austen was about the most austere being ever to sit in the house of commons.

Beneath that veneer, though, he was warm hearted and friendly, as I know from long personal acquaintance. Neville is much the same. If you want proof that he is one of the crowd at heart, all you need to know is that his hobby is salmon fishing. A man who likes fishing is labeled as "regular" in most any language.

Calls for Master Brain

At this moment Europe is said by statesmen, like our own Secretary of State Hull, to be tending towards war or bankruptcy or both. England has just embarked on the greatest armaments drive the world has ever known, and the tax is going up to 25 per cent on little incomes—out of sight on large ones. The British empire is still suffering from the shock of King Edward's abdication and trying to estimate the damage which may have been done by one who loved well but perhaps not wisely. Chamberlain is credited with possessing the qualities necessary to guide an already sorely tried people over more rough ground.

RELAXER

It takes a fishing rod to make Neville Chamberlain, probably Britain's next premier, unbend from his icy manner.

Parole Granted Prison Author

FOLSOM, (AP) — The board of prison terms and paroles granted a parole yesterday to Ernest Booth, prison author, who has been credited with several unsuccessful attempts to escape from prisons, jails and institutions.

Booth, prison officials said, started his criminal career in 1915. In 1924 he was sent to San Quentin under a 25-years sentence following a conviction on a charge of robbing an Oakland bank.

Booth wrote a book entitled "Stealing Through Life" and short stories based on incidents in the look for a national monthly.

Tennessee Turns Down Local Option

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The Tennessee house of representatives tabled and killed a bill to permit local option on liquor. The vote was 52 to 42.

EXPERT TELLS FLOOD PLAN SET-UP

Thirty Attend Local Meeting in City Council Room

Orange county's proposed flood control and water conservation program was outlined last night by Murray N. Thompson, county flood control district engineer, to some 30 citizens who attended the mass meeting called at city council chambers by Supervisor Steele Finley.

Prado dam and the seven other dams provided for in the revised Elliott program were explained by Thompson, along with the re-routing of the railroad tracks and highway in Santa Ana canyon and the various water channel projects proposed below the dams at district expense.

Cost of the dams will be borne by the federal government, and will total some $13,000,000, he said. Cost of the damsites, the flooded areas, the removal of the tracks and highways, and the water conservation work adjacent to the dams must be paid by the county and will be paid for by a bond issue, he said.

The bonds were not discussed at last night's session, beyond the statement of Supervisor Finley that the board was still undecided whether to set the issue at $3,500,000 or $2,500,000.

Next mass meeting will be at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the same location.

State May Probe More Oil Rights

SACRAMENTO, (AP) — Assemblyman John O'Donnell has introduced a bill providing for investigation of the state's mineral rights in tidelands adjoining the Wilmington oil field.

It would create a board, consisting of the director of natural resources, the state controller and the director of finance, to quiet title to tidelands to determine whether mineral rights existed. It also would be given authority to make leases on the basis of 20 per cent royalty for tideland or littoral drilling where the state has an interest.

TAX EXPERTS SCORED BY PIERCE

State Board Official
Talks Before S. A.
Lions Club

"What have these imported so-called tax experts to say about California's tax system?" asked Dixwell Pierce, secretary of the state board of equalization, in a talk before members of the Lions club yesterday. "They want to set the tax system topsy-turvy because they have a lot of services to sell. The first thing we want to know is what is wrong with our present system."

Pierce traced history of the state board from 1879, when it was established to equalize real property taxes—the largest source of revenue then—to the present time, when it acts much as a tax commission and administrators $190,000,000 a year.

California's expenses, he said, are less than in other states. The sales tax, for instance, costs less than two per cent to administer while raising $90,000,000 a year in collections from 180,000 retailers. The entire tax administration expense, he said, is 1.75 per cent, and for strictly revenue measures—excluding liquor control—is less than 1.5 per cent.

Cooperation of Santa Ana and Orange county citizens with the liquor control officers, he said, has been excellent.

He classed receipts of the board as $50,000,000 from the gasoline tax, $10,000,000 from liquor, $2,500,000 from highway transportation, and $30,000,000 from utilities, which tax is collected locally.

Pierce was introduced by Inheritance Tax Appraiser James E. Ut. Ray Edgar, member of the board of equalization who has a home at Dana Point, was introduced along with County Assessor James Sleeper and a dozen officials and employees of the state board in the Southern California district.

Ranking officials included W. A. Shay, administrator for this district with headquarters in San Bernardino; T. E. Taylor, in charge of the Santa Ana office; Merle L. Templeton, chief liquor control officer for Los Angeles; and Jimmy Greens, Los Angeles, public relations officer for Southern California.

Twenty-Thirtians Turn Out En Masse for First Big Sport Dance of Season

Spring Sport Outfits on Parade

Ballroom at Balboa Is Setting for Informal Evening Affair

One of the first big sport dances of the season was that for which Twenty-Thirtians and their wives and invited friends gathered last night in the Rendezvous ballroom at Balboa Beach.

Choosing informality as the keynote, the ladies in the party donned their new spring sport clothes for the dance and the men turned out in white flannels, Palm beach suits, and sport stripes.

Mrs. Herbert Stroschein was in a sport blue outfit with hat and accessories of white. Mrs. Ernest Stump, Jr., wore a black crepe with a frilly white collar, and Miss Alma McClain was in a white peasant blouse with red embroidery and a skirt of bright blue.

Mrs. Fred Johnston wore a bright print with mandarin collar and a black sport coat and accessories. Another print was worn by Mrs. Clarence Ranney, who added black accessories and a black straw hat with turnback brim.

Mrs. Albert Harvey's white spring suit had a pretty flower print blouse. Mrs. Joe Winder's outfit was a black and white with matching accessories. Mrs. G. Stanley Norton wore a grey suit with navy trim and a straw hat with chiffon streamers and red flower and gloves.

Mrs. Q. L. Hardy was in a grey tweed mannish suit with white accessories. Mrs. Joe Zaiser wore a black sheer with a narrow red scarf belt. Mrs. Roy Wellman wore Kelly green, a suit of botany flannel, with green polka-dotted organdy blouse and a white hat.

Mrs. Crawford Nalle wore a robin red sheer with a red cape and little white and red hat. Mrs. George Spielman was in a smart black and beige sheer outfit. Mrs. Alvin Stauffer in a turquoise knit suit with matching accessories. Mrs. Robert Miller in a brown and white sport suit. Mrs. Carl Newman was in a striking green and black suit with a black hat and a gay contrast in a red patent leather purse.

Mrs. Ray Tarr and Mrs. Charles McDaniel, Jr., were both all in white, which color predominated in the costumes noted on the dance floor.

Foreign Affairs for Little Girls

(By The (A) Feature Service)

Four little girls, aged 4 to 6 1/2 years, gathered at the back fence for their daily gossip fest, wearing dresses influenced by four foreign countries. The young lady with braids looks very Dutch in her Delft blue frock trimmed with white piping. It has pink, blue and yellow tulips embroidered on the front.

Next is a Mexican senorita whose beige dress is trimmed with Aztec blue. Then a Persian miss in beige, decorated with a conventional flower design. And the fourth little gossip is dolled up in Czechoslovakian style—white dress with red rick-rack braid.

Mock Aristocrats Gather At Lavish Coronation Table

Because it was coronation day in England, Mr. and Mrs. E. Wagner gave a very amusing coronation dinner Wednesday evening at their home, 530 South Birch street.

As guests arrived they were met by "Baron Lido" (Norman Abrams) and "The Duke of Lido" (Frank Lorigan, a bay city visitor). These peers announced them to "King Santana" and his "Queen" (Mr. and Mrs. Wagner) who were seated on impressive thrones.

The king wore a red velvet cape with ermine bands (cotton) and the queen was attired in a blue gown of great splendor. Both wore gold jeweled crowns (homemade) and each guest was presented a similar head-dress by "The Duchess of Lido" and "The Baroness Francisco."

When all were assembled they were seated at a table upon which jeweled caskets spilled crown jewels from private collections and looted from the ten-cent store. Silver goblets filled with vivid flowers, a silver compote of exotic fruits, and a red velvet tablecloth completed a lavish medieval setting.

Place cards decked with gold crowns were arranged for "The Marquis and Marchioness of Main" (Mr. and Mrs. Urban Pavan); "The Count and Countess of Ross" (Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown); "The Earl and Lady Main" (Dr. and Mrs. Fred Earell); "Lord and Lady Tustin and the Dowager of Tustin" (Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanner and Mrs. Charles Dana); "Viscount Birch" (Frederick Dunstan); "Prince Boh of Birch" (Robert Dunstan); and the previously mentioned aristocracy.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR MISS RUTH BEEMER

Mrs. Luella Newman and Miss Florence Ulrich were co-hostesses one evening this week when they honored Miss Ruth Beemer at a surprise miscellaneous shower in the home of the former at 615 East Bishop street.

Dessert served at small tables preceded games of hearts and roulette, in which prizes were won by Miss Florence Warner and Miss Venna Goodwin.

Lovely gifts were presented to the honored guest, who on June 5 will become the bride of Robert McFarland of this city, in a ceremony at Laguna Beach.

Invited to honor her on this occasion were the Mesdames Dan Morehouse, Edna Smith, Ramona Rabe, Ruby Jones, Beth Maxwell, Margaret Lyons, Dorothy Newman, Margaret Guthrie Moore, Zella Walworth, Elizabeth Selvidge, Halstead McCormack, William Howell, and Mrs. Beemer and Mrs. McFarland, mothers of the affianced couple; Miss Dorothy McFarland, sister of the bridegroom-to-be; and the Misses Venna Goodwin, Betty Reade, Anne Detweiler, Katherine Budd, Florence Warner, Esther Vogt, Helen Wieseman, Dorothy Gutsman, Marie McGinnis, Dorothy Hannah, Marjorie Jacques, Clara Goeman and Charlotte Stewart.

FLYING NEEDLE CLUB MEETS

Two events were celebrated this week when the Flying Needle Club met with Mrs. Adolph Erickson at 1041 West Sixth street, for it was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. William Proush, and also a farewell to Mrs. Frank Brown, who, with her husband left today for a three-months motor trip through the middle west.

Members present at Mrs. Erickson's were Mrs. Catherine Yost, Mrs. Errol Barnes, Mrs. Bernard Snee, Mrs. Proush and three guests, Frank Brown, Adolph Erickson, and Errol Barnes.

W. C. T. U. HAS MEETING

Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet next on June 8, it was announced at a recent session over which Mrs. Effie Means presided. Mrs. Adaline Hersher, program chairman, read an interesting paper, and Dr. Clara Coleman talked on motion pictures.

Other highlights were a report on the school of methods and a recent convention given by Mrs. Elizabeth Warren, and a group of readings presented by Miss Ruth Hawley.

Confederacy Daughters Elect

To the hands of Mrs. Faye Gardner the United Daughters of the Confederacy consigned the duties of president of Santa Ana chapter yesterday afternoon when it elected new officers at the home of Mrs. John J. Harrison, 2040 North Broadway.

Others chosen to fill the offices during the coming year were Mrs. William Bates, first vice-president; Mrs. C. C. Violet, second vice-president; Mrs. Jessie Luchinger, secretary; Mrs. E. L. Rogers, treasurer; Miss Gertrude Montgomery, registrar; Mrs. P. Horton, historian; Mrs. R. A. Samuels, chaplain; Miss Percy Head, recorder of crosses and custodian of property; and Mrs. Ray Stedman, parliamentary.

Mrs. R. A. Samuels and Mrs. Lillian Pritchett were co-hostesses with Mrs. Bates for the lovely afternoon, which was followed by an interesting program.

Speaker of the day was Mrs. Rebecca Pope of Orange, who talked on the Indian excavations or the "enchanted mesa" of Colorado, regaling the ladies with historic Indians, showing specimens she had brought from an early visit.

Mrs. George Matzen, a guest, entertained with three readings; and Mrs. Lillian Pritchett read the tribute to the late Mrs. F. C. Montgomery which she will read also at the state convention in Sacramento next week.

At the end of the day, dainty refreshments were served to the members and guests, who included the Misses Percy Head, Pauline Duggan, Sue Rankin, and Blanche Cartmill, the latter a new member; Mrs. G. K. Evans of Mississippi, who is visiting Mrs. Guy Miller, Mesdames J. W. Taylor, Guy Miller, E. E. Rogers, Ray Duggan, S. T. Harris, Faye Gardner, Isabelle Tucker, Lela Shropshire, George Wells, Jessie Luchinger, C. C. Violet, Rebecca Pope, Minnie Baxter, and little Betty Rose Hamlin.

SIGMA THETANS TO DANCE TOMORROW

Sigma Thetans and their friends are donning cords and gingham for an informal dance tomorrow night over at the Isaak Walton clubhouse, in Fullerton Amusement, in addition to dancing, are planned by Miss Valerie demetriou and her committee.

Final plans for the affair were made at the business meeting held Wednesday night at the home of Miss Betty Wiswall on South Main street.

After the business meeting, the four pledges, Alma McClain, Pauline Berry, Lois Murray, and Dorothy Van Deusen, presented a program and refreshments were served.

ALTAR SOCIETY PARTY IS GREAT SUCCESS

Nearly thirty tables were in play at a benefit bridge party sponsored yesterday afternoon by St. Joseph's Altar society. Concert, auction, and five hundred were enjoyed after a dainty dessert course had been consumed.

Tables for the refreshments were centered with lovely red roses, and attractive prizes were awarded at the end of the day.

Refreshments of approach maximum were enjoyed after a dainty dessert course had been consumed.

PROGRAM FOR MACDOWELL TEA

Twenty members of the Junior League of the Los Angeles Macdowell colony will come to Santa Ana Sunday to present a program for the final meeting of the Orange county league at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. rooms.

The Juniors have arranged a program of piano, vocal, and violin solos for the first hour, followed by an hour of their creative work and a talk on the origin of the Junior league. Several adult members of the Los Angeles colony will also be present.

Musical Arts club members will serve tea and light refreshments during the closing tea hour which they have arranged as hostesses for the day.

QUINNS ATTEND FAMILY PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Quinn (Maryville) and children, Bobby and Beth, and Mrs. Belle Cline, went to Arcadia recently to attend a barbecue at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Demming.

The affair was in honor of the latter's sister, Mrs. Margaret Gaylin of New York, and was a reunion of relatives and old friends. Mrs. John Rafferty of Los Angeles, her brother, John Rafferty, Jr., and Mrs. Rafferty, were others beside the Quinn family who were thus entertained.

PROGRAM AND TEA AT MANSE

Eighty ladies of the First Presbyterian church gathered Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. G. McFarland, 303 Orange avenue, with Mrs. M. B. Yonel presiding over the meeting and Mrs. H. K. Pollock and Mrs. R. J. Blee participating in the opening exercises.

Welcome among visitors were Mrs. R. E. Caswell of Tustin, president of the Los Angeles Presbyterian, and Mrs. A. Sutherland of Orange, president of the Orange county Presbyterian.

Mrs. Grace Heaney led devotions, and Mrs. W. C. Willett, a prominent Presbyterian worker in the city, spoke on "Contrasts: The Challenge of the Second Century to Church Women."

Miss Mary Toyoda played two violin solos, accompanied by Miss Betty Lenhardt, and Mrs. A. V. Gray gave the closing prayer. Tea was poured at a prettily table by Mrs. Daisy Kroese and Mrs. H. G. Wilson.

The Friday Afternoon

By DONALD BUTON

I've prefaced early summer with a visit to the Fine Arts Gallery, Balboa park, San Diego. I really recommend your doing likewise.

The ride down the coast beside the sea, past Torrey Pines, through that eucalyptus grove, and even past the leaning smokestack, become a splendid introduction to one of the finest galleries on the Pacific coast.

War conditions in Spain placed added value on the already splendid collection of Spanish painters, for one knows not what will survive that strife.

There is, for instance, Ribera's lovely "A Sybil," glowing with color and spirit. A Velasquez, now practically priceless.

Frans Hals' "Dutch Family and Landscape" in the San Diego collection is one of two extant paintings from an important period in the Flemish master's work.

Harlem, Holland, recently asked the loan of this picture for its very important tercentenary exhibition of Frans Hals' work, but because of the being painted on panel, its necessarily long absence from San Diego, patrons of the gallery forbade its going across the water. An honor, nevertheless, to be asked.

In this same room there is an excellent portrait by Lucas Cranach, to my mind an outstanding master of the Northern Renaissance.

One of the finest things done in any museum lately is San Diego's placing of local artists' work with the finest contemporary European and American artists.

There is Agnes Belton's "Primal Wing," a very spiritual abstraction.

There is Henry Varnum Moore's "Hellebore, et al." Moore, incidentally, is to teach this summer at Colorado Springs.

There is a Chirico that marks his post-surrealism period, Salvador Dali and Joan Miro having been asked to assume his surrealist cloak.

Currently important is the loan of Solana's "Fortune Teller," Solana having been the only painter asked for more than one painting for the 1937 Carnegie International.

There are paintings by Derain, Matisse, Dufy, Friez, Villon and Toulouse-Lautrec. In all, a representative showing of the modern masters.

Caviedes "Elvira and Tiberio" prize winner in the 1935 Carnegie show, and recently purchased by the San Diego gallery, seems, however, to dominate the whole room.

Comparison of the San Diego artists with these recognized masters helps to give a very valuable perspective to creative work on the coast. I liked it.

Highlight of the changing shows at the gallery is an exhibition of work by San Diego school children, modern handling of the medium, freshness of approach, maximum accomplishment with minimum.

Grade School Pupils In Operetta

Several hundred proud parents and friends witnessed a delightful operetta performed last night by the grade school youngsters of Woodrow Wilson school.

The musical presentation was given both afternoon and evening to packed houses at the little theater of Santa Ana High school, for so enjoyable was the matinee that word of mouth brought many more interested friends to see the children.

"Twilight Alley" was virtually produced by the pupils. Miss Florence Messamer and Miss Bonnie Kiser directed, but encouraged the children to great originality.

The set, an immense tumble-down shoe-house in a tenement district, was built and designed by two little boys, Donald Cumberworth and Calvin Ashford, and all the clever costumes, from rags and tatters to gold and ermine, as in all fairy tales with happy endings, were suggested by the children. Jeanne Hendrie was in charge of properties.

The children of the cast were utterly charming in their speaking and singing roles. Terry Ragan, the male lead, was a swaggering, swashbuckling gang leader, and Eleanor Young was his pretty little leading lady. Frances Becker was very good as mother of the children. In the shoe, and Dorothy Brush played her oldest daughter with great verve. Nina Kipa had the most prominent solo role, and did it beautifully.

Between acts several little dancers entertained together and singly. Those featured were Beverly Peterson, Joan Cole, Patty Lou White and Jimmy Dixon.

The supporting cast was made up of Shirley Hilyard, Beverly Russell, Norma Denner, Wayne Herzig, Jack Pickering, Orville Moses, Wendell Cole, Marguerite Trump, Kathleen Tiernan, Jeanette Steinmetz, Maxine Bird, Elizabeth Brown, Harriet Hall, Ethelwynne Davis, Charles Schlegel, Wayne Davis, John Francis, Donald Cumberworth, Sally Andrews, Elinor Herzig, Dorothy Thompson, Mary Ellen Ball, Wanda Parsons, Vivian Thompson, Billy West, Kenneth Anderson and Duncan Carmichael.

MRS. LOWE IS NAMED SECTION LEADER

A delightful tea party and informal program ended the season for Antiques section of Ebelt this week. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Drullman, who, with Mrs. A. B. Smith and Mrs. Alice Hill Hatch, served tea in her flower-bordered patio.

Members elected Mrs. Hugh Lowe leader for the coming year, and also named Mrs. A. B. Smith secretary, and Mrs. J. W. Ball and Mrs. Drullman as program chairmen. Diversion for the afternoon featured one-minute talks by each member on their favorite periods of furniture, and many brought prize antiques to display to the section.

Padua players begin "Yucatan," a story of the Mayas, Wednesday next.

Yucatan, separated from the rest of Mexico by dense tropical undergrowth and swamp, and reachable only by boat or plane, is least known, most interesting of the Mexican provinces.

Mrs. Garner spent much time there on her recent tour, getting authentic information and costumes for this next Padua presentation.

Almost choral music, fantastic masks and rituals will enhance the production. It portends well!

New Style Slip Covers Fun to Make Yourself

Dress up your living-room with these summery, easy-to-make slip covers. The latest word is—vary colors and fabrics, don't make your covers all alike.

For one easy chair, select a cretonne of dusty rose with a floral stripe in green and cream. For the sofa, beige crash; for another chair, willow green. Then, for clever harmonizing touches, use the cretonne for the cushion covers and box-pleated flounce for the sofa; get brown-covered cord as a finish for the seams of all three covers.

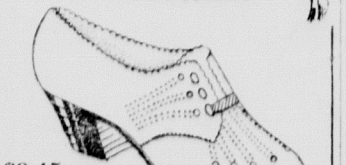

The fitting and sewing are simple. Smooth the material snugly over each piece, pin it down every three inches. Then cut outside the pins allowing 1 1/2 inches for seams. Baste, try on, stitch—your covers are finished.

For all kinds of slip covers our 32-page booklet gives step-by-step directions. How to estimate, finish, trim. New all-year styles.

Send 10 cents for your copy of how to make slip covers to The Santa Ana Journal, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Mary Stoddard

Daughter With Unloving Stepfather Is Handicapped From The Very Start

By MARY STODDARD

A divorcee in her early thirties, with a baby daughter, is in love with a young man of 24 who says he loves her. But he resents the fact that she has been married before, and says her baby would always be a constant reminder of it! Recently she wrote asking opinions as to whether stepfathers are so terrible and if the young man really loved her, wouldn't he overcome his feelings toward her child after marriage. An advisor today advises her against it, and asks an interesting question: Is a father necessary in the upbringing of a girl? What do our readers think of that?

Dear Miss Stoddard: B. H., who contemplates marriage with a man younger than herself, probably should not marry him. It would not be so bad for her if she were not a widow with a child. He may be asking too much of a young man to undertake to rear a child that is not his own. That he should love the child eventually is natural; yet from what B. H. said about him, he does not seem to be very affectionate by nature. B. H. is running a big risk if she marries him. He has proven himself hostile to the child already. Think how he'd be after he was head of the house! A child raised by an unloving stepdad has a hard fight in life. This daughter belonging to B. H. would be handicapped right from the start. The dad would hate her. B. H., if she has a normal woman's love, would learn to take sides with her own daughter at the expense of her husband's love. There could be nothing but dissension. After all—is a father necessary in the rearing and disciplining of a girl? I think not. A mother knows best the problems that face her daughter. A father knows best the problems that face his son. —SOLITARY.

GARDEN SECRETS

By WILLIS CADWALLADER Of Blandings Nurseries

"Surely the summer clothes, with all her arts. 'No other garden with such grace and grace and grace. 'And 'tis the poignant joy close-folded in our hearts 'That cries its life about from every flapping flower.' EMILE VERHAEREN.

By carrying the spring flower border over into the summer, it may be handled in several ways—as a distinctly separate garden or as the continuity of bloom of a mai garden.

Midsummer is a much-needed rest period for many of the perennial plants. It is a time when it is hardest to keep things watered, the old flowers nipped off, and gardens neat. It takes a great deal of work to maintain the beauty of spring. It is necessary to watch the pruning, watering, weeding, fertilizing, cultivating, spraying, etc., continually.

This short period of extra effort, however, is well repaid when the garden continues the beauty of spring.

Flowers for Midsummer Bloom

This midsummer period will include flowers blooming from the early part of June through September.

For the most part, the June flowering plants may be set in March or April. Of the annuals, these will include: Virginia stocks, pansies, violas, poppies, avarian river daisies, sweet suitans, calliopsis, ageratum, zinnias, marigolds, mimulus, calendulas, and portulaca. Sweet pea seed may be sown in February for June flowering.

Of the perennials, the old clumps may be divided from October to December or the new plants set in March or April. These are: gailardia, coreopsis, Kenilworth ivy, cardinal flower, lupine, Oriental poppy, Iceland poppy, perennial phlox, scabiosa, e.e.g. lavender, pentstemon, physostegia, dahlias, pyrethrum daisy, delphinium, verbenas, columbine, Canterbury bells, bluebells, hollyhocks, Shasta daisies, gerbera, gazania, rehnania, and convolvulus.

By planting the annuals just a little later, they will come into bloom in July. The established perennial clumps will continue blooming into July.

For annuals blooming in August and September, plants may be set out as late as June, but earlier planting will carry over into September. Chrysanthemums may be made to flower in September by watching if they are planted from rooted cuttings in May. For a very early flower, it may be necessary to shorten the days artificially by use of a dark cloth.

Commercial hatcheries set about 40 per cent more eggs than the number of chicks expected.

Disregarding Spots Is Dangerous

By CLAUD CHRISMAN, M.D.

N. P. H., of Chicago, is one of several patients who have uncomfortable sensations in spots over the body, not always pain, but "crawling" and "burning," and sometimes a feeling as if the skin had rubbed off. One adjective used was "loony"—some of you know how that feels.

The condition usually indicates a kidney disease. Bright's disease often causes these annoying centers of irritation, especially under the shoulder blade or between the shoulders. Sometimes the sensation extends over the entire body. They are often as if someone were constantly tickling you. Sometimes the spot is so acutely tender and irritated that it feels like a boil. In the case of N. P. H. the trouble began after a severe sore throat. This infection must have been serious, as it was later followed by removal of the tonsils. The trouble may have come from some toxic effect left by the throat infection. There is little relief in sight for the crawling under the skin unless the blood is rid of the toxins. Urinalysis and blood tests with appropriate treatment are indicated. About the only local application likely to help her would be alcohol or a hot pad of epsom salt solution over the spot repeated for a half hour.

It is true that these spots of irritation, when they are skin lesions or surface indications, are tormenting to a critical degree. A serious feature is that foiks rarely do more than fuss about them. No attempt is made to find what is causing them because they don't seem to do anything beyond their own center of annoyance. Thus some serious organic trouble may be under way and become established beyond remedy.

CITIZENS' CONCERT GROUP WILL MEET

Persons prominent in social circles and in the civic life of their communities, representing most of the important organizations of Orange county, will be present when the newly organized citizens' concert group meets at noon Monday in the Doris-Kathryn tearoom for luncheon and a short rally.

The meeting will launch the membership campaign for the new series, which will include such famous artists and groups as Marian Anderson and the Vienna Boys' choir, and will promise to equal the social brilliance of the season which just closed.

Mrs. Leslie Steffensen, president of the Musical Arts club, which sponsors the series locally, is expecting full delegations from organizations all over the county. Instructions for the campaign will be given, and materials given out, and the meeting will be short and snappy, the president states. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Jay Hamill, phone 3082-W.

FRANKLIN P.-T. A. MEETS TUESDAY

Franklin Parent-Teacher association will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the school, and will hear Miss Hazel McFarland's fourth grade pupils talk on wild flowers.

There will also be a Boy Scout demonstration under the leadership of William Carothers and John Dickey, and it will be Mrs. N. E. Wilson's first official meeting.

RIDING SECTION PLANS STEAK BAKE

Husbands and steaks will be combined in the climaxing event of the year for Junior Ebel's youngest section, the riding section organized since the beginning of 1937.

Plans for their final meeting, a steak bake for members and their husbands on the evening of May 26 in Orange county park, were made at the section meeting Wednesday, Mrs. Ray Tarr being named chairman of arrangements.

Husbands will join the section members for dinner following their ride in the park.

Mrs. Bernard Parker, Mrs. Chester Horton, and Mrs. Edmund West rode Wednesday, later joined by Mrs. Tarr and Mrs. Herbert Stroschein for tea in the West home.

TUSTIN WOMEN HAVE PICNIC

Members of the Home department of the Tustin Farm center enjoyed a picnic Tuesday at Anaheim park, and later went through the lovely gardens of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Johnson. Mrs. George Veeh conducted a brief business session.

Those attending the affair were the Mesdames Clyde Barger, Anna M. Belding, William Hazen, George Veeh, Raymond Prothero, L. R. Stearns, Fred Wilson, Charles Whitney, John Bunstan, Gaston Griest, Roy Runnels, Perry E. Lewis, E. H. House, Lee Ward, J. L. Hill, Robert E. Walker, Dr. and Mrs. E. Flint, and Miss Frances Dunstan.

GOLDEN STATE CAMP

Golden State Royal Neighbors of America camp welcomed Elmer Buffum as a new member at its meeting this week and enjoyed a visit from its district deputy, Mrs. Leonora Fletcher of Long Beach, who helped in plans for organization of a junior camp. A 6:30 pot-luck supper will precede the meeting on May 26, in the K. of C. hall, it was announced.

TUSTIN P.-T. A. BOARD

Mrs. J. L. Marshall has called a meeting of the executive board of Tustin Union High School Parent-Teacher association for 1:30 p. m. Monday in the school cafeteria. All members are asked to attend, if possible, as plans are to be made for an evening meeting on May 27.

News About El Toro Folks

By MRS. CARRIE G. DREWS Mr. and Mrs. Charlie M. Salter killed that "fatted" turkey; for their son Earl and his family were coming home. But that turkey weighed 25 pounds, so they called in some neighbors to help them out. Will M. Woodhouse, Frank Klappetzky, M. and Mrs. E. A. Whisler and Mrs. L. E. Whisler and daughter Marion responded to the call. After the feast, they all gathered around Frank, who entertained them with stories of his travels through South Africa and other parts of the world.

George Osterman is home again from the hospital after having his tonsils removed.

Just couldn't wait any longer to see mother and dad? So Clair A. Scott and his bride slipped in on them from Arizona, unexpectedly, on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Scott were all smiles while telling about it.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Drews and son Billy made a weekend trip to San Diego and down into the Mexican waters. They reported the mountains very colorful with the daintiest of wild flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bennett honored Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McDonnell at a Mother's day dinner last Sunday.

The El Toro Woman's club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Harvey Bennett, with Mrs. C. M. Salter as co-hostess. It will be entertained again June 2 at the home of Mrs. George Fox, with Mrs. F. G. Drews as co-hostess.

Smart Chair Set or Scarf Ends Use Only String

PATTERN 5711

When you see how beautifully this lacy chair set dresses up your chair, you'll thank your good fortune at having found so simple a pattern. Repeat it for other chairs! It's practical—lasting—inexpensive when made of string. The design—one of butterflies and roses—is set off in solid stitch against a background of airy mesh. If you prefer, use the three pieces as a buffet set or make two of the larger piece for scarf ends. In pattern 5711 you will find charts and directions for making the set shown; illustrations of it and of all stitches used; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Santa Ana Journal, Household Arts Dept., 117 East Fifth street. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

GUNMAN FLEES KNIVES

GOWANDA, N. Y. (AP) — The sight of L. C. Bowen, brandishing two butcher knives, was too much for a gunman who attempted to hold up Bowen in his store. "Get out of here," Bowen threatened, waving the knives when the hold-up man pointed a gun at him. The intruder fled.

Dairy cows require from one to three ounces of salt a day, depending on the amount of milk produced, says W. H. Riddell, dairy husbandry expert at Kansas State college.

Many Soaps Needed For Delicacy

By JACQUELINE HUNT

Face and hand soaps are not the only kind you need in your bathroom if you want to be immaculately dainty at all times. Keep a package of pure white soap flakes and wash out your silk hose and undies every night. While your bath water is running dissolve the soap in very warm water, cool slightly and put your things in it to soak.

When your bath is over, squeeze out your clothes, rinse thoroughly in a Turkish towel to remove the excess water, shake out and hang up to dry. You will know that there will be no body odor to spoil your chances for success in business and romance.

During the summer months, when you perspire a great deal more, you need at least two daily baths—a quick morning shower or a shower before you dress to go out and a warm tubbing at night. The latter removes the flakes of dead cuticle, the accumulated secretions of the pores and dust of the day.

Use a stiff bath brush to work up a good lather and scrub thoroughly from toes to your neck, giving special attention to the back, shoulders, upper arms and ankles. Rinse thoroughly and use an eau de cologne or alcohol rub. Use a deodorant dusting powder or a liquid anti-perspirant under your arms to make you exquisitely dainty the next day.

REBEKAHS HAVE BOX SOCIAL

Mrs. Maude Lentz, Mrs. Jessie Hirth, and Mrs. Minnie Squires received prizes for the most attractive supper boxes in the box social which marked Torosa Rebekah lodge meeting this week in the I. O. O. F. hall, with Mrs. Emma Cochran and Mrs. Lucille Rathburn as chairmen.

Irene Lancaster presided over a lodge meeting, welcoming Alice Talhurst and Mary Hillyard as transfer members. Mrs. Lydia Robertson, who has been a member of the lodge for 48 years, was honored as the member of longest standing. Mrs. Mildred Allen, as the youngest member, and Mrs. Dora Morrow, mother of eight, as the member with the largest family.

Minnie Squires sang solos, A. Demmick gave a radio reading, and Mildred Allen sang on the program following. Mrs. Laura Tranel won the prize in the bridge games at the close. Initiation will be held May 26, it was announced.

I COVER the SENATE

By
SEN. HARRY WESTOVER

During the past week the senate again disclosed its conservative tendencies. The assembly bills providing for free textbooks and free transportation for private schools were killed in the senate committee on education without a dissenting vote. At the same time the senate committee on revenue and taxation killed the assembly measure which would have reduced the sales tax from 3 cents to 2½ cents. There will be precious few radical bills passed by the senate during the present session of the legislature.

Political leadership is some intangible thing which is beyond price. Governor Merriam has made few political blunders during the present session of the legislature. He has consistently outmaneuvered the Democratic-controlled assembly and many times the assembly has found itself stymied behind some program sponsored by the administration.

However, the governor made a political blunder during the past week, or which he will hear for many days to come. Nearly every county delegation has introduced a bill raising judge's salaries. Governor Merriam announced some weeks ago that he would veto all such bills, and there was little hope of passing any of them over the governor's veto. However, during the past week, after vetoing a number of bills raising judge's salaries, Governor Merriam signed a bill raising the judge's salary of Humboldt county. It may be that it was a mistake but, assemblymen and senators alike are commenting upon the fact that the judge of Humboldt county was a close personal friend of the governor. If all of the delegations which have introduced bills to raise judges salaries would combine, they could gather sufficient strength to override the governor's veto. The governor is going to have some little difficulty in explaining just how it happened that the one bill was signed while the others were vetoed.

Speaking of political blunders, the Democratic-controlled assembly has been guilty of many. The Democratic leadership in the house during this session of the legislature has been nil. It is constantly repeated around the capitol that Speaker William Moseley Jones could not be elected to the speakership again. The rumor has gotten out that he will resign after the present session in order to take a $10,000 job lobbying for the Southern California Edison company. Much dissatisfaction has been expressed over the appointment of the assembly committees, and those who are familiar with legislation know that the appointment of committees many times determines the fate of prospective legislation.

During the past week, Assemblyman Clyde Watson attempted to get out of committee his bill establishing a fishing reserve off the Orange county coast. The bill was tabled by the committee. On the committee are found assemblymen from San Pedro, Monterey and San Francisco who represent the commercial fishermen, and such members have been able to keep in committee all bills detrimental to the fishing industry.

Democrat leader in the assembly brought down on their heads during the past week criticism because of the way the budget was handled. The Democratic bloc transposed an eight million dollar item from one column to another column and then claimed to have made a saving of that amount. Politics played by the Democratic assembly has succeeded in doing nothing more than extending the session of the legislature for two or three weeks longer than necessary. It would have been possible to have passed out the budget bill in plenty of time so the legislature could have adjourned on May 1. All legislation carrying appropriations was held up until after the disposition of the budget bill, and it was not until last Thursday, May 6, that work could be commenced on such bills carrying appropriations.

A visitor to the legislature immediately notices a difference between the upper and the lower houses of the legislature. The upper house conducts its business in a rather quiet and orderly manner. Twice during the past week the senate chamber was cleared of visitors because of the noise made by them. There is continually a hubbub in the lower house. However, it is not as necessary to keep quiet and order in the upper house as it is in the lower house because they have a loud speaker in the assembly by which speakers can be heard even though everyone else in the room is talking. Then, too, the assembly has officially recognized the "house of lobbying" and has provided parking space for all of the lobbyists on the floor. The assembly is the "promised land" for a lobbyist. During the past week one lobbyist was heard making the brag that there were four assemblymen whose vote he could buy for $10 each.

Some members of the assembly have become very prominent in a short period of time. They have gone up like a skyrocket and they are going down like a skyrocket. Unless assembly leadership shows a vast improvement during the latter weeks of the session new leaders will be steering the ship of state in 1939.

1939 SLUMP PREDICTED BY DAWES

Former Vice President Foresees Another Market Collapse

CHICAGO, (AP)—General Charles G. Dawes predicted today prosperity's return would be interrupted in the summer or fall of 1939 with another stock market collapse and a minor business recession.

The slump, he wrote in a book just released, will last one or two years and will be followed by a "period of prosperity" the duration of which he did not predict.

The book, "How Long Prosperity," reviewed the end of the depression, 1934, by the 71-year-old Chicago banker and vice-president in the "Coolidge boom" era. At that time he predicted that the summer of 1935 would bring a sustained demand for durable goods, signaling recovery. The upturn started in July.

Dawes wrote the theory he advanced then—that the major depressions of 1873, 1893 and 1929 had substantially the same history was the basis of his latest analysis.

BOMBING TOLD BY GERMANS

BILBAO, (AP)—The Basque general staff defending Bilbao announced that its troops had shot down a 23-year-old German pilot who admitted he helped bomb Guernica, the sacred city of the Basques, in an air raid April 26 which allegedly devastated the city and killed 800 persons.

(The Basques have contended all along that Germans bombed Guernica, which the Spanish insurgents now hold. The Germans and the insurgents have denied it; the insurgents have contended that fleeing Basques fired Guernica, cradle of Basque independence.)

The pilot, whose name was given as Joachim Hans Wandel, was quoted by Basque officers as saying he was recruited in Berlin on February 22, after the international ban on foreign volunteers, to which Germany subscribed, had gone into effect.

PRISONER CUTS OFF OWN FOOT

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A young prisoner whose right foot was chopped off with an ax insisted today he did it himself, Capt. A. N. Owen of Harlem prison farm reported, but the officer blamed another prisoner.

Captain Owen quoted the wounded youth, 19, who had been at the farm only three days, as saying "I just couldn't make it."

The mutilation occurred Wednesday in the prison brickyard. Guards did not see it, and other prisoners would not talk. Warden W. W. Ward said he had not seen an official report.

In the last several years occasional mutilations have occurred on Texas prison farms. A common method is for the prisoner to cut heel tendons.

Andrews Store Gets Franchise For Shelvadoor

The Don L. Andrews Furniture store at 116 East Fifth street has been given the franchise for the nationally known Crosley "Shelvadoor" refrigerator for this territory, it was announced yesterday by Don Andrews.

"It is indeed a pleasure to me to be able to make this announcement," said Andrews. "I feel that this refrigerator is already well known in this community; hundreds of Crosley Shelvadoor boxes are already in daily service throughout Santa Ana and Orange county, every one of them proving the satisfaction that any one may have by having one in his home."

"Ralph Githens, long associated with Crosley organization, coming here from San Diego, is in charge of sales and promotion, which assures to the buying public, intelligent information regarding the functions of this refrigerator. He is also well known in Santa Ana, being the son-in-law of Dr. Fred N. Willis, of 1321 Martha Lane."

"I am glad to be able to come to Santa Ana with the intention of making it our future home," said Githens. "It is certainly one of the most beautiful towns as well as the most friendly community I have ever had the pleasure of calling my home."

Ickes Would Like New Car-- Even a $2500 One

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary Ickes wants a new automobile—even if it's only a $2500 model.

He asked congress recently for $4000 to buy a new car so he could quit borrowing his assistant's. The house appropriations committee, in the midst of an economy campaign, turned him down.

Committee members indicated at that time they might let him have $750—the customary figure allowed departments for new cars when they have an old one to trade in.

Ickes' chief clerk, Elbert K. Burlew, cold-shouldered that suggestion as inadequate.

I rings on the interior department's regular supply bill disclosed, however, the request had been changed to $2500.

"We have not purchased a new car for over two years," he explained, "and, unfortunately, the secretary and I were in an accident that practically destroyed the car that he had used, which was a public works car. We have had only one interior car for several years. It is necessary to replace that because the car that the secretary is using now is about four years old."

Representative Rich (R-Pa.), a self-designated "watchdog" of the treasury, took exception to Burlew's idea about trading in government cars every two years.

"I would like to know why anyone should need to buy a good car today every two years," Rich said. "I cannot afford to do it. I can use a car four years."

Burlew explained that chauffeurs made a difference.

Seek $8902 in Car Accident Case

Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Ernst today sought $8902 damages from Carl E. Sandstrom in an action filed in superior court by their attorney, J. Parley Smith.

They based their claim in injuries sustained April 5 in an automobile collision at Walnut and Parton streets, Santa Ana.

liew's idea about trading in government cars every two years.

"I would like to know why anyone should need to buy a good car today every two years," Rich said. "I cannot afford to do it. I can use a car four years."

Burlew explained that chauffeurs made a difference.

EMPLOYEES GET $250,000

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Three hundred and fifty employees of the Elliott Addressing Machine company learned they had been made beneficiaries of a $250,000 trust fund established by President Harmon Elliott in an effort "to restore the harmony between employer and employee that existed in many small factories when I started in business."

The fund, estimated to yield an annual income of $17,500, would provide "by deeds instead of words," Elliott said, "a mighty answer to the politicians who are trying to stir up class hatred."

DON'T MISS READING THIS VALUABLE FREE BOOKLET

IT'S PACKED WITH FACTS
EVERY HOUSEWIFE CAN USE

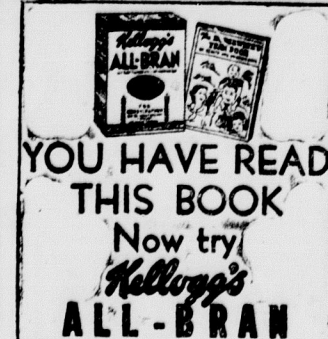

WE HAVE now distributed the HOUSEWIFE'S YEAR BOOK in your neighborhood. It's an encyclopedia of practical household information. You'll refer to it a dozen times a day.

It contains fourteen full-page articles on such practical subjects as removing stains, first aid, kitchen measures, beauty hints, gaining weight, reducing, games for children and grown-ups, budgets, gardening, and other useful facts.

In addition, it has a month-by-month almanac with important historical events, astronomical data, sun and moon rise-and-set times. Together with tempting recipes that bring your family healthful "bulk" in delicious form.

Your meals must have "bulk" to guard your family against common constipation. Serve Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Within the body, this delicious cereal absorbs twice its weight in water and gently sponges out the system. Buy ALL-BRAN at your grocer's.

If you failed to get your Year Book, write us for a FREE copy. Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Michigan.

NEW DEAL IS STILL AFTER OBJECTIVES

President Says Early Aims to Be Sought In Orderly Way

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt told a train conference yesterday he was going ahead with orderly progress to attain original New Deal objectives, including efforts to stabilize farm prices within reasonable limits.

While he did not mention the supreme court increase proposal, the President told a group of reporters as his train crossed Illinois his objectives included many not yet attained, as well as all those embraced in his pre-election Madison Square Garden speech.

He said he had talked with cattlemen from many states at the home of his son, Elliott, at Fort Worth, Tex., and outlined to them a desire to prevent extreme fluctuations in prices of all agricultural products. He added he hoped to bring this about, not through price fixing, but through the spirit of the old Agricultural Adjustment administration. The details of the AAA control may be changed, he said, but the objective of that agency remained the same.

CALIENTE READY TO REOPEN

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex. (AP)—The board of directors of the Agua Caliente hotel and resort had the authorization of stockholders today to reopen the palatial establishment "if reports and surveys now being made by department heads justify the move as a sound financial venture."

The resort, valued at $10,000,000, has been closed since 1935, when an anti-gambling ban was issued by the Mexican government. The race track recently was reopened on a schedule of four days a week.

The stockholders, meeting yesterday, elected Baron Long, Los Angeles and San Diego hotel operator, as president; Nate F. Miller, importer, vice president; Lou Anger, Hollywood, secretary-treasurer; E. S. Barnard, Los Angeles, and Wirt G. Bowman, Nogales, Ariz., directors, and Charles Baad, Los Angeles, comptroller.

"One of the points stockholders were called upon to decide was whether or not the company should attempt to operate all departments without the usual sporting attractions offered before at the casino," said A. S. Viethart, the new general manager.

He said this was left to the judgment of the board of directors.

APRIL ORANGE GROWTH SLOW

Although growth rates for Orange county oranges were much greater in March than in previous years, despite the severe freeze, the rate of growth was retarded a great amount in April, the Association Laboratories at Anaheim reported today.

Experts said the present size of fruit indicates that the predictions of February 1 will not be far wrong.

Data and predictions of the laboratory are based on monthly measurements made in 16 different groves, where records have been kept for 13 years.

Average growth of outside fruit in April was .015 inch, and of inside fruit .016. Average sizes for outside fruit were reported at 2.528 inches diameter and for inside fruit, 2.439 inches.

The growth rate last month was less than half the rate in the same month of 1936, the Association Laboratories reported.

BUYING CASE IN COURT TODAY

County Auditor W. T. Lambert's mandamus suit against Purchasing Agent Eugene Fenelon, to determine whether elective officers or the board of supervisors have the right to select office supplies for the former, was to be heard this afternoon by Presiding Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

Lew W. Blodget, Santa Ana city attorney, will present Lambert's case, backing up a petition which charges that Fenelon's refusal to deliver an L. C. Smith typewriter to Lambert was arbitrary, illegal and not based on grounds of economy or efficiency.

The decision will be the first in California courts to determine the powers of the county purchasing agent.

Terminal Island Airport Ready

SAN PEDRO, (AP)—With the completion of the seaplane ramp tomorrow, Reeves field, the navy's new amphibian airport on Terminal Island, will be ready for service.

Costing a total of $1,000,000, it is the largest Works Progress administration airport project in the state. It will be used as a service base for the 112 plane observation wing of the fleet. The field covers 225 acres and includes a 1400-foot breakwater.

CATERING TO TOURISTS IS HUGE JOB

Running Camps Now
One of Big Industries
In the Nation

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Running tourist camps has become a $25,000,000 annual business engaging more than 15,000 persons in the United States.
The census bureau said today 9548 establishments were catering exclusively to tin can tourists and nomads of the roads in 1935.
Commerce department officials estimated the number of camps, influenced by the popularity of the auto trailer, has increased sharply since the census.
More than a quarter of the camps are in four states—California, Texas, Colorado and Minnesota. California alone has 1440.

RECOVER BIG SUM STOLEN BY YOUTH

WASHINGTON. (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover said today federal agents had recovered $208,600 in cash stolen from Mrs. Martha Blous, wealthy Denver widow, last month.
A nephew of Mrs. Blous, Joseph T. Watson, 28-year-old former medical student, Hoover said, is under arrest.
Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, asserted that Watson left Denver about the same time Mrs. Blous missed $133,000 in currency and $80,000 in bonds. He was arrested aboard an ocean liner as it approached Los Angeles on May 6.
Hoover said agents recovered $58,000 in cash from Watson when the ship, the S. S. Santa Rosa, docked at Los Angeles May 9, and on May 12 recovered $100,000 in currency from a safe deposit box in New York. From a safe deposit box in Chicago agents recovered $50,000 in currency yesterday, bringing the total to $208,600.
Watson's arrest followed a nationwide hunt. Agents picked up the trail in Cheyenne, Wyo., April 15, where, Hoover said, Watson had taken a plane to Chicago under an assumed name. He was trailed from Chicago to New York, but before agents could arrest him, he sailed for the West coast via the Panama Canal.

Invite Public to See War at Muroc

MUROC DRY LAKE. (AP)—The public was invited into "No-Man's-Land" today for a four-hour demonstration of gas attacks and bombing by the army air corps.
This desert encampment, week-long scene of aerial onslaughts ordered open house from 1 to 5 p. m. Tear gas bombs were replaced for the occasion by bombs filled with water, so visitors would not need masks.
Muroc has been the main base of defending forces in the army's mimic sky warfare, which began May 10 and will continue another week. Offensive squadrons are hanged at temporary sites north as far as Hamilton field near San Francisco.

KILL $717,050 BILL
WASHINGTON. (AP)—Senate economy advocates with a chorus of "noes" voted down yesterday a proposal by Senator Copeland (D., N. Y.) to add $717,050 to the agriculture department appropriation bill for additional aviation weather reporting service.

TELLS MEANS TO CONTROL PESTS

Tubbs Outlines Pepper And Tomato Growers' Insect Problems

Outlining pest problems in this county and the best methods of their control, Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs released information today on the best methods of combating major pests to the field crops of tomatoes and peppers.

Tubbs labeled the tomato pin worm as the most dangerous insect for tomatoes in this area. It attacks both the plant and fruit when the young larvae are looking for food. They enter the fruit near the stem and eventually produce cuts. To date no satisfactory control method has been devised. Calcium arsenate dusts are only partially effective, and this method can be augmented by field sanitation in the off season, Tubbs explained.

Vegetable Weevil

"The most recent danger to tomatoes is in the form of the vegetable weevil," Tubbs stated. "This pest was first found in the summer of 1934, but has done most of its damage for this year."

In the areas of smaller cultivation this pest does considerable damage in eating the newly set out plants. Clean cultivation and annual crop alternation will usually help eradicate this danger. If these treatments fail, poison mash that has freshly chopped turnips or carrots mixed in with the poison will help. The poison applied to the mash should be either an arsenate or a fluosilicate.

Army worms and other chewing insects come in for their share of damage to tomatoes, Tubbs pointed out. These can also be best treated with poison mash of the arsenate and fluosilicate types.

Getting Worse

The vegetable weevil is getting steadily worse, Tubbs added. It has done an increasing amount of damage every year since it came in in 1934. He explained that cut worms may also be treated with poison mashes of the same type as is used for vegetable weevils.

He's Blind But He Won't Talk Without Audience

NEW YORK. (AP)—David MacLevy is 62 and blind but he's a man who likes an audience.

When brought up in general sessions court for sentence as a fourth offender, he inquired about the number of spectators when asked if he had anything to say before being sentenced. "You are the last man to be sentenced," his lawyer, Hyman Dickman, told him, "and all the spectators have gone."

"Well, to hell with it," quoth MacLevy. "I want an audience or I'll say nothing. Let's have the sentence."

Judge Donellan let him have it: "Fifteen years to life."

hordeau. This acts as a repellent to insects and is also beneficial in combating some diseases that are ordinarily transmitted by insects. The treatment for pepper weevils is somewhat different in that the host plants, those that support the weevil during the winter season, may be destroyed. These hosts are the food supply of the pepper weevil. Nightshade and the ground cherry plant are the most prominent hosts in this region.

The pepper plant itself is a host until frost sets in during winter and then the weevil moves to another plant. Tubbs indicated that there would be a decrease in damage from the weevil this season because of the severe frosts and heavy winter rains.

Destroy Hosts

The aphids and leaf hoppers are lesser pests. Orange county has sponsored work relief projects along river banks and other places where nightshade is prominent. There has been less work this year than last because of the frost damage that killed much of the nightshade growth.

Treatment for the pepper weevil is the almost complete elimination of nightshade. If the weevil is found on the pepper plants after budding has taken place treatment is usually to dust the field with calcium arsenate, using seven to eight pounds per acre per week for three weeks. If this does not deter infestation, the best treatment is to let the plants rest for a few weeks and then proceed with the same treatment again.

GIRL SCOUTS WILL ENJOY CAMPING

Another group of 30 Girl Scouts and Girl Reserves will receive their first taste of camp next week when the coordinating council stages its second camp for girls at the Boy Scout campground in Irvine park.

Buses will leave Willard and Lathrop schools at 4 p. m. Friday, May 21, and will bring the campers home at 4 p. m. Saturday, May 22, following 12 hours of camp program under the direction this time of Miss Mary Porter, executive secretary of the Girl Reserves.

Camp Staff

Mrs. R. R. Russick, who led the camp last time, will assist. Others on the camp staff will be Mrs. Evelyn Ames, nurse; Miss Vanche Plumb and Miss Evelyn Kent, leaders in nature lore; Miss Roberta Nichols and Miss Margaret Fine, handicraft and Miss Clara Spellman, music.

Jacqueline Morris and Barbara Rowell of the Girl Reserves, and Jean Russick and Irene Noble of the Girl Scouts will aid in the recreation program.

Only a small charge is asked from the girls, and donations are asked to defray the costs of transportation, cook, camp rent, and craft materials.

Donations Asked

Any who can help contact Miss Porter at the Y. W. C. A. office; H. G. Nelson, principal of Lathrop school and treasurer of the coordinating council or at The Journal office, 117 East Fifth street.

Donations of any size, as small as 25 or 50 cents, will help, Miss Porter said, and asked all organizations that can, to help in this work of providing camp for girls who have never been to camps before.

Pauling Succeeds Noyes at Caltech

PASADENA. (AP)—Prof. Linus Pauling, 36-year-old chemist, will succeed the late Prof. Arthur A. Noyes as director of the chemical laboratories at California Institute of Technology.

The appointment was announced by the executive council of the institution. Prof. Pauling won the Langmuir prize of the American Chemical society in 1931 for the most distinguished research by an American chemist under 30 years of age. Dr. Noyes died last year.

NOVELIST IS AMBITIOUS Would Be Fat and Amiable

ATLANTA. (AP)—Margaret Mitchell says she is "going to keep right on living as I always have lived," despite the fame and wealth won with her Pulitzer prize winning novel, "Gone With the Wind."

Her creed for the future: "I want to keep on being happy, doing things I have always enjoyed doing. And I want to be fat and amiable!"

"You see, I got down to 97 pounds last fall, and I'm going back to 110 now, and I want to weigh 117 or so."

Miss Mitchell and her husband, John Marsh, young advertising executive, live in the same apartment they occupied before the Civil war novel was published last summer. The sale of 1,300,000 copies of the book has made no apparent difference in their mode of living.

"Some fan letters suggest that I ought to buy a 20-room mansion, take round the world cruises, and visit fashionable places," said the former Atlanta Journal reporter. "I couldn't possibly use a 20-room house. A boat ride on a

U. S. Gas Control Bill Wins Favor

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Representative Lea (D., Calif.) said today his natural gas rate control bill met with administration approval and would receive strong support in the house.

Already recommended for passage by committee, the bill would place natural gas in interstate commerce under supervision of the federal power commission with a view to adjusting rates.

MILLION IN PLANES. LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Lockheed delivered $1,000,000 worth of airplanes to domestic and foreign purchasers in the first quarter of 1937, compared to $325,000 a year ago, President Robert E. Gross announced. Orders on hand total $2,972,000.

Lathrop Junior High News

The Lathrop Stamp club, under Miss Pearl Nicholson's direction, is very proud of Bruce Carnahan and Welton Pagenkopp, who received first prize in the junior and senior divisions for a collection of U. S. stamps in block, and for a frame, which took second place at the annual exhibit of the Orange County Philatelic society in Orange.

A program held during the home room period in Miss Mary Henderson's room included members of the high eight class. The numbers presented brought out the various talents of members of the class. Drucilla Clem and Norma Edwards gave a skit; Norma Edwards, Phyllis Deegan, Carol Chittcock and Warren Danielson told jokes; Anna de Groot gave a reading; Randolph Clark, Jimmie Dick Farren, Bud Dole and Robert Divine a song; Allen Flips, a poem; James Cruze, a violin solo; Glenn Jean Deardorff, a piano solo; Doris Faupel, a reading, and the entire class planned games.

On Friday, during the assembly period, the following girls will be judged for correct posture. Students and teachers were asked to observe them during the week: Virginia Cairns, Nina Lundak, Marilyn Munsel, Mary Zohn, Jean McWilliams, Nannette Hubbard, Nancy Steinberger, Lily Mae McDonald, Mary Doi, Betty Gowdy, Gertrude Knox, Lois Ernest, Phyllis Adams, Mitsuko Oahi, Emmy Lou Brooks.

Clothing classes, under Miss Foster's direction, have been interested in a silk worm which has been spinning its cocoon in the sewing room. The girls say that the workmanship is so perfect and the fibers so silky and fine that it is hard to realize how many cocoons are needed to make enough silk for a dress. The girls are waiting for this worm to come out of the cocoon, which will, of course, ruin the cocoon completely because the fibers will be broken.

At the last meeting of the Junior Literary club, a party was planned for the evening of May 21 at the home of Leila Slaback, one of its members. Several good books were suggested for reading by the various members, and a party committee was appointed.

Results of a reading contest held in Miss Elythe's high seven literary class showed Joan Wilcox and Dick Shafer to be the winners. In the final voting, Joan Wilcox took first place, reading Edna St. Vincent Millay's poem, "Afternoon on a Hill." Correlating with an introductory study of England before the Industrial Revolution, Mrs. Marguerite Hill's high seven social studies class presented an original play called "An Old English Bard."

Following the play, the class held a panel discussion contrasting England of the feudal period with industrial England today. The play was directed by Lawrence Worthen.

With the completion of Stanford achievement tests by all seventh and eighth graders, attention will be turned to final activities amongst the high nines, who will go to high school next fall. Their registration has been completed just this week.

Candid camera days, on Tuesday and Wednesday, brought out a flock of amateur photographers at Lathrop. None was safe—not even the teachers, and everyone is anxious to see which will be chosen for the Lathrop Highlights.

BATTLESHIP COST...

When the Louisiana territory was bought from Napoleon by the United States for $15,000,000 in 1803, a bowl of protest was raised. It would be interesting to hear what those objectors would have said today on being told that the sum would only pay for one-third of one of the battleships scheduled to be built in the near future by the U. S. Navy. Fifty million dollars apiece is the estimated price to be spent on the 35,000-ton vessels.

When Alaska was bought from Russia in 1867, the price was $7,200,000.

MAID OF HONOR... Anne Boleyn was chosen as maid of honor to Princess Mary of England when she went to France to become Louis XIV's wife. In Paris, Anne was taken into the household of Queen Claudia of France as maid of honor and later won a similar post in the entourage of Margaret of Navarre.

Returning to England in 1522, she became maid of honor to Queen Catherine who Henry VIII later divorced to marry Anne.

Former Sunday School Teacher Confesses After Arrest

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP)—Lester Brockhurst, 23-year-old paroled convict and former Sunday school teacher, said today, three men dead from his gun in what Lieutenant H. A. Gay of the state police called a six-weeks' crime tour.

His victims, named by Gay from reports received from police, were:

Albin Theander, 47, Rockford, Ill., tailor.

Jack Griffith, Fort Worth, Texas, tavern owner.

Victor Gates, of Little Rock, Ark.

Girl Nabbed, Too

Locked up in another cell of the county jail was Bernice Felton, of Rockford, who had accompanied Brockhurst on the six-weeks' trip through the Middle-west, the South and the East. Brockhurst also is from Rockford.

But she had nothing to do with the slayings, Brockhurst was quoted as saying by Lieut. Gay.

The ex-convict, who had served a short term in Joliet penitentiary, Illinois, for an armed robbery in Chicago in 1935, was arrested late yesterday near Brewster when a state trooper noticed that a license plate was missing from his car.

Chance Confession

When the trooper saw a loaded revolver in the car he took the pair to the Fishkill barracks of the state police.

"I looked him over," Lieut. Gay said, "and just on a chance, said: 'You've been pulling stickups all over the country, haven't you?'"

"He said, 'yes and I pulled a couple of murders, too.'"

Then, Gay said, the story came out.

WPA SURVEY TO START SOON

A new WPA project for extensive work in the Santa Ana city engineer's office will be started June 7, it was announced today by Fred P. Jayne, head of the PTWW division.

For this project the government will contribute $226,622 and the sponsor $466. Seven persons will be employed on the project. Work listed on the project form is to codify, classify and index all city ordinances; making field surveys, charts and maps for use of the city engineer's office and the public, showing width of all parkways and roadways, location of all trees and parkways, location of all sewer laterals, water services, etc.

Another project to start the same day is for the city engineer's office for use of the city engineer's office in landscaping and drawing up building plans for the Fullerton Junior college plant. The WPA will contribute $3251 and the sponsor $4068. Nine persons will be employed.

Two Killed in Oceanside Crash

OCEANSIDE (AP)—Two men were killed and three seriously injured late last night when a sedan in which all five were passengers sideswiped a truck four miles east of here.

Juan Bustos, 35, was decapitated. His head was found in the back of the car and the body 50 feet from the wreck. Gilberto Garcia, 30, was killed instantly. The injured are Masino L. Atillano, 32, Felipe Dominguez, 25, and Jerry Ferrara, 40. All are residents of Escondido.

Two men in the truck escaped injury.

Japan Fliers Hop Off From London

CROYDON, Eng. (AP)—The Japanese fliers Masaki Imamura and Henshi Tsukagoshi, hopped off today at 8:10 a. m. in their monoplane "Divine Wind" for a return flight to Tokyo, carrying coronation pictures.

The fliers landed at Croydon April 9, after a record breaking flight from Japan of 94 hours, 18 minutes.

Shippey Invites Poetry Entries

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The second annual poetry contest of the California Writers' Guild was announced today by Lee Shippey, president. The contest, for which prizes of $100, $50 and $25 are offered, is open to any resident of California, who may submit unpublished poems of 32 lines or less, he said.

Poems may be submitted between May 15 and August 15 to the Robert Browning poetry contest, in Los Angeles, Shippey announced. Last year's contest brought 3500 entries.

LUTHERAN GROUP ELECTS

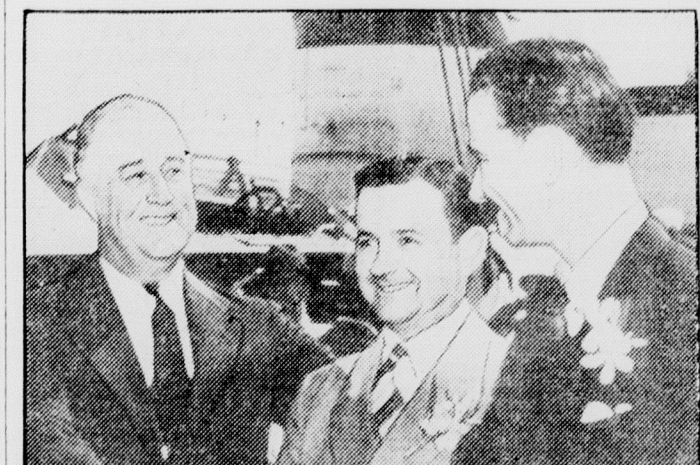

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Mrs. Elisa K. Frey, Hollywood, Calif., assumed the duties of president today of the Woman's Missionary society of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of California and Arizona, succeeding Mrs. E. A. Traub, Berkeley, Calif.

McIntosh Market Cheese Display

Featuring Kraft's cheese, the McIntosh market in the Empire market at Second and Broadway is showing a display of all varieties of cheese this week-end. The exhibit is in the form of a house. The McIntosh market, specializing in meats and delicatessen products, shows the cheese display each year. This is the fifth annual sale of cheese at the McIntosh market.

President Ends Cruise

Disembarking from the U. S. S. Potomac at Galveston, Texas, ending an 11-day fishing cruise, President Roosevelt was greeted by Governor Alfred (center) and Congressman-elect Lyndon Johnson (right).

Tax on Garbo Photos Is Big Puzzle to Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The austere senate finance committee is puzzled over whether it ought to ok an impost on the lovely likeness of Greta Garbo, Ginger Rogers and other feminine charms who sent photographs to fans.

Orchestra Leader Richard Himber suggested the tax plan to Committee Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.), claiming it would produce $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 a year. Himber's idea was that every picture sent out to a stage, screen, radio or sports fan by a celebrity would bear a dime tax stamp. The fan to pay the dime when he requested the picture. Harrison said he would think the matter over.

STANDARD HITS JEWS VICTIMS OF RIOTING

NEW YORK (AP)—Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) in its annual report for 1936 today launched an attack on the federal surtax of undistributed profits, charging it injects "another element of pure guesswork" into the tax structure.

Net income for 1936 was $97,774,583, or $3.73 a common share, compared with $63,863,192, or $2.43 a share in 1935.

Taxation, generally, the report said, "continues with increasing emphasis to provide a major uncertainty in business management."

The profits surtax, the report declared, put "heavy penalties" on the poor guesser in the matter of dividend determination.

Simplification of the federal revenue laws "is in the long run just as important to the government's revenues as it is to the corporate taxpayer," the report said.

If the surtax continues to operate on its present basis, it added, "corporate earnings will bear an excessive and a larger share of the tax burden than any other kind of income."

LOYOLA REGENTS ELECT

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Victor A. Rossetti, president of the Farmers and Merchants bank, is the new chairman of the Loyola university board of regents. He was named at the organization meeting of the board last night for a term of six years, together with Joseph I. Breen, West coast representative of the Motion Picture Producers association, who was elected vice chairman.

TO QUIT TITLE

Shizuo Mikawa today started suit in superior court here to quit title to property in the Springdale area. His complaint named L. N. Wheaton, De Graham, A. H. Soper, F. W. Bishop, Raymond W. Stull and the Long Beach Oil & Gas company as claimants of interest in the property.

DESERTS ARMY TO STAY

Declaring that he deserted in order to remain in the British Army, Rifleman Nisbet McLean has been sentenced at Bordon, England, to 56 days' detention. At his trial he said he was told by friends that he was unfit for foreign service and was to be discharged from the 2nd Cameronians.

JEWS VICTIMS OF RIOTING

WARSAW (AP)—Poland's Jews expressed grave fears today of a new wave of anti-Semitic violence after a night of rioting at the town of Brzesc had demolished Jewish shops, ruined Jewish merchants and left Jewish residents barricaded in their homes.

At least 53 Jews were known to have been injured, three of them critically, in the fighting.

An estimated $500,000 property damage was done to the city where the abortive 1918 peace of Brest-Litovsk.

The Brzesc riots began last night after a policeman, stabbed in a fight with a Jewish butcher, had died in a hospital.

Through the streets of the town, which is the capital of the province of Polesia, the cry spread: "A Jew has killed a policeman!"

The rioting continued until 2 a. m. today.

Passes the Picket Line

Andy Devine, film comedian in costume for his role, is shown as he passed through the picket line at his studio in the strike of the Federation Picture Crafts' unions in Hollywood. The pickets eyed him intently. Police stood by the picket line, but no incidents occurred. A strike of actors was averted by agreement of the majority of the producers to a "guild shop."

DEATH TAKES CIVIL WAR DRUMMER

SAN ANTONIO, Texas. (AP)—Chickamauga's drummer and bearer of the famous sawed-off musket died here last night.

The life span of John L. Clem, 86-year-old retired major general, embraced an enlistment in the Union troops of Civil war days at the age of 10 and retirement in World war days of 1916—a long military career possibly untouched for thrills and color.

Johnny Clem, an orphan lad, heard President Lincoln's call for volunteers with wide-eyed anticipation. His tender age and cherubic appearance denied him enlistment, but he found a way. The means was this:

Stowed Away

He stowed away in a baggage car bound for the Covington, Ky., mobilization camp where he attached himself to the 22nd Michigan Infantry. Charmed, the soldiers took the little tyke in as their own and gave him a drum, a misfit uniform and a sawed-off musket.

Stories of his exploits soon became legend. He made his sawed-off musket a fearsome weapon and beat his drum viciously even as it was shot from his hands.

Shot At Colonel

The young soldier became separated from his regiment after he had been at the front in the battle of Chickamauga. Soon he fell in with a command that was practically surrounded by Confederates.

Johnny sought shelter in a clump of bushes but was discovered by an enemy colonel. The officer gazed at the little figure in the over-sized uniform with the undersized gun and broke into a laugh.

Enraged, Johnny fired at the colonel and made his way back safely.

After that he was known as the "Drummer Boy of Chickamauga."

BANKERS HEAR BUDGET TALK

PASADENA (AP)—One speaker told the California Bankers association convention here today the national budget must be balanced if inflation is to be checked and another warned that "only the most far-sighted and earnest efforts can possibly avert disaster."

E. C. Harwood, trustee of the American Institute for Economic Research, reviewed the great inflationary periods of history and their results.

"Once again we have inflation with us," he said. "Obviously, it is of the government's forced variety, and the increased purchasing power in circulation which it has produced has come from the credits to the treasury's checking account, which in turn have resulted from the commercial bank purchases of government bonds."

"These credits have been forced into the channels of business in the course of the spending spree..."

"Once again it is necessary to learn the lessons which sharpened adversity has taught other nations at other times and places. I do not think it an exaggeration to say you will be fighting to preserve yourselves and your institutions."

L. A. Hospital Workers Granted Bargaining Right

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A group of 1300 organized hospital employees has given the right of collective bargaining by the county board of supervisors. The board yesterday referred to a committee the demands made by labor leaders who represented the employees.

The labor representatives' demands are for reclassification of salaries and personnel in county-operated hospitals, and payment to employees in cash the $40 allowed them for maintenance.

Journal's Finance, Citrus, Produce

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—With steel and rails in front, yesterday's sliding stocks righted themselves in today's market with recoveries of fractions to 3 or more points.

Quietly inspiring the relatively tight turn-around was the tentative settlement of the Jones & Laughlin steel strike, putting some 27,000 men back to work pending an employee election to determine whether the C.I.O. union shall be granted bargaining rights under the national labor relations act.

Brokers attributed much of the day's betterment to purchased by those who believed at least a technical rally was in the cards because of Thursday's sharp relapse. Profit selling reduced top quotations in some instances before the close.

Building and Loan Co. Loss Is Your Gain!

Here Are the Facts:

The property is Harbor Blvd. Park on South Main Street, corner of St. Gertrude Street. Only a few blocks from center of Santa Ana. Schools, Churches, Stores, Bus Service. Reason for cut price is, the Building and Loan Co. which owned them, is liquidating. Formerly these lots were held as high as $700 to $800, but the prices are slashed now to sell and liquidate at once. The terms are same as on all lots. That is $20.00 cash, and $5.00 per month. Lots sold to white Americans only. Reasonable building restrictions but temporary houses permitted on rear of lot. Build now and save rent. Later, when you have paid for your lot, borrow and build a fine house in front. The prices range from $75.00 per lot to $125.00 per lot. In addition to that price the buyer assumes unpaid taxes. They average about $145.00 per lot. This amount may be put on the California state installment plan and you will have 10 years to pay unpaid taxes.

SALESMEN AT YOUR SERVICE ALL DAY

Here Is Our Plan:
ROYAL ROAD TO GOLDEN PROFITS
FOR YOU

SALESMEN AT YOUR SERVICE ALL DAY

There were over two hundred lots in this tract HARBOR BLVD. PARK. Over half of them were sold at high prices before the depression. The Building and Loan Company foreclosed a large loan on the subdivider and took the property. Now the loan company is liquidating and sold us the lots which had not been sold. We got a rare bargain. We pass the bargain on to you. Every lot a beauty, clear title. Title Insurance Policy by TITLE ABSTRACT AND INSURANCE COMPANY OF SANTA ANA.

On Sunday, our opening day, we sold all the Main street lots which we had and a number of residence lots on other streets. We still have splendid lots on Sycamore, Broadway, Birch, Ross, Van Ness, Parton, Garnsey and Woodland Streets. Be your own salesman. On every lot, which we own, is a flag and a tag with a price and amount of unpaid taxes. FULL INFORMATION ON EVERY LOT. You won't be bothered by salesmen. However, a representative will be on the tract from 10:30 a. m. until dark. Come out after work. STOP, LOOK, AND BUY! Surely you can visualize this grand opportunity to make a profit as a home owner or investor. Santa Ana is a fine city and growing rapidly. You know that and when you investigate you will know the big value we offer you. Procrastination and hesitance has lost many a profit for you. THIS TIME BE A DECIDER. ACT TODAY, NOW, and get your GOLDEN PROFITS! ALL YOU PAY NOW IS: $20.00, and then only $5.00 per month. THIS IS A "NEVER TO COME AGAIN" BARGAIN AND YOU SIMPLY MUST HURRY OUT AND GET YOUR LOT AND YOUR PROFIT. Santa Ana is the fastest growing small town in California and big profits will be made in real estate. Get your share. Hurry out and get your profit on this tract. Representative on tract all day Sunday. Corner South Main and St. Gertrude Streets.

The Traffic Safety Tangle

THE temperature is pretty hot today in a good many spots over City Judge John Mitchell's blast against the traffic safety work now under way in Santa Ana as a part of the national campaign to prevent motorcar massacre.

Those hot spots are where citizens have been staggered by the ghastly toll of death and destruction due to reckless driving.

Automobile deaths in Orange county are up nearly 50 per cent this year compared to last. Instead of 25 mangled bodies in the graveyard as in 1936, so far this year there are 33 such bodies.

Motor deaths in the 85 major cities in the first 16 weeks of 1937 are up 28 per cent over the same period of 1936. Instead of 1687 deaths from motor crashes in those cities, there are 2,340 tragedies.

And it's getting worse.

The judge doesn't think so much of police efforts to make Santa Ana a safer place to drive, if we interpret his remarks correctly.

He threatens to reduce the size of fines if the number of arrests keeps up because he does not want the community to get the reputation of being hard boiled among visitors and people driving through.

He opposes an addition to the police motorcycle squad unless he is given another assistant, on the grounds that additional arrests will mean too much work for him.

And a lot of good citizens perhaps look at the matter like the judge does.

The average citizen, however, feels pretty sore and surprised at the judge's attitude, if we estimate public opinion correctly. The need for greater safety and the fear of sudden death have put plenty of people in a touchy frame of mind. They want the highways made safe—regardless.

As one man popped off at the meeting of the Orange County Safety council this week:

"I'll tell you what's wrong with law enforcement. It's these weak-kneed judges with their lousy $2 fines. What do I care for $2? What does my family care for $2? We laugh at it.

"But if we lost our licenses and had to go to jail, it would be a different story. We would have some respect for the law."

The whole remedy doesn't lie in cracking down on reckless drivers, of course.

It is even more important to see to it that the license laws are tightened, that automobiles and highways are made safe and that motorists are properly educated in intelligent driving.

But it may take a long time to do that, perhaps years. Meanwhile strict enforcement of the present laws is all we have to rely upon until the other preventative measures are taken.

Unless some working agreement is arranged between the police department and the city judge, however, Santa Ana's efforts to make the streets safe can't get very far.

Because our city court already has a reputation of being "easy," and if Judge Mitchell plans to make it much easier, reckless drivers may simply laugh at the police.

Indeed, if a law-breaking motorist knows that the judge is inclined to make it softer instead of harder for him, why should he worry about getting a ticket? Why should he show respect for the laws and for the life and property of pedestrians and other motorists?

The problem of ironing out the situation naturally goes to the newly appointed traffic commission. And the commission is at a great disadvantage because it has no real authority. It can't tell the judge or the police what to do. It can only investigate and give advice.

Good advice is a valuable commodity, however. The commissioners will perform a public service if they probe the whole affair and let the public know how many hours the judge is working, what his pay is, whether he needs another assistant, if he is right in saying that the town is getting a "black eye" because of the safety drive, if business interests should be considered above human life on the highway and other pertinent angles.

By the judicious use of common sense and diplomacy, the traffic commission is in a position to perform a real service to the cause of safety in Santa Ana.

Final showdown in the controversy rests with the public, however, just as it does in all similar issues in America.

Judge Mitchell must run for re-election next year if he wants to stay in office.

Unless he changes his present stand, he may find himself running on a platform of loose and lax traffic law enforcement against a man who promises to make the streets safe.

Then the voters can decide whether they want reckless driving encouraged here.

The list will not be complete until there is a sit-down strike by dentists' patients.

Fiesta Day—And More Of 'Em

IT'S FIESTA DAY at Junior college and the whole town is happy along with the students and faculty. It can well afford to be. Because Santa Ana Junior college is tops—whether you're talking football or journalism.

The Fiesta is tops, too. From the parade down through the "bull fight" along to the Don and Dona and winding up with the other festivities, one and all, it is a great event.

Fiesta day is still a youngster, having been launched just 9 years ago. Let's hope it gets happier and huskier every year for the whole next century until every boy and girl in today's celebration becomes gray-headed and can look back through the years, saying "I remember when Fiesta day was just getting started!"

DAY

With
O. O.
McINTYRE

Thoughts while strolling: Leon Gordon with side-burns would make a grand stage butler. Cock-er spaniel dogs everywhere—the Barretts of Wimpole street influence.

Rhyme: Baseball's best seller is young Bob Feller. America's youngest multi-millionaire: Joseph P. Kennedy. Worth 25 millions. Cole Porter's worst tune: "I've Got You Under My Skin."

Look alike: Basil Rathbone and Fray, the pianist. No actress' age seems to remain so stationary as Ina Claire's. Looks no older than in the Belasco days. If Mary Boland talked that way off stage, she'd drive me nuts. Few have the cucumber calm voice of Cecil De Mille.

They say the town's best non-professional ballroom dancer is Helen Hayes. Morris Gest ought to walk across town in a derby some day—just to fool his friends. The self-conscious groups who lunch at "No. 21," striving to look nonchalant. Gotham idea of celebrity: Be seen everywhere. Abel Green, who coins so much of Variety's slang, could be the leading hardware merchant of Plattsburgh, Neb. Limelight drop-outers: Peggy Fears and A. C. Blumenthal.

The last stand of Mah Jong in New York is in Chinatown, where it will, of course, never die. The Chinatown wives have their Mah Jong clubs just as Occidental wives have their bridge organizations. They meet at each other's apartments over the stores once or twice a week, but always play for small stakes.

Most Chinatown wives these days are American born—natives of New York, Chicago or San Francisco—as chic as a Peggy Hoyt model and scarcely any talk with accent. A recent survey revealed the modern touch when it was found four out of six had read "Gone With the Wind." When they go uptown they wear American clothes but their husbands' shops they dress as they do in China. There are many young girls there who have been sent back to learn Chinese. All speak it fluently. It is a mark against a Chinese not to have mastered the language. Those who have not are shunned.

Of Orientals, the Chinese interest me most. I was fascinated by them in the days of Sam Lee's laundry in our town and loafed there much of the time. One of my proudest achievements was picking up a few phrases and venturing them when boys from the country came in for their weekly wash. They thought I was quite a one. In New York I know several laundries and a number of merchants in Chinatown. A man named May Wong once promised to take me on a personally conducted tour of the Chinese quarter but we never got around to it. Chinese are careful with their tongue. I have yet to hear one criticize a person or institution. And back of it all they give a bland and baffling impression that they are not concerned over not being assimilated by the Occident. They have an enormous pride of race. And an enormous sense of humor.

Helen Morgan, sailing to London, intimated to ship news reporters that she may never return. The one-time Ziegfeld star and queen of the night clubs is miffed a bit, it is said, at the decline of her drawing power. Engagements of late have been a bit scanty, but should she retire tomorrow she has had more adulation than most stars with thin talent. Her torch songs stop a piano rarely varied, yet the public applauded them for many years. She could fill a night club in any part of America. One magnificent salon was built for her and called "The House of Morgan" at a cost of $100,000 for the decorations alone. She cast the engagement away simply because she did not like the set-up. Miss Morgan was perhaps the most generous entertainer of her time. On several occasions she has tossed parties for her orchestra and fellow performers that ran up checks for the night of $1500.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—There is a lot of speculation about the future political goal Jim Farley has his eyes on, but whatever it is, Jim is being extremely choosy about his financial preparations for it.

Jim has made no secret of the fact that his personal funds are about exhausted and that he is looking for a job. But he is not taking the first job that comes along. He has probably turned down more lucrative offers than anyone else in the New Deal.

One of the first he vetoed was the job subsequently accepted by the late W. Forbes Morgan as czar of the liquor industry. It drew a salary of $75,000.

Another which he declined was an offer to become general manager of the Hearst newspapers at a salary of $200,000 a year. Farley turned this down in less than five minutes, although the son-in-law of the President, John Boettiger, had accepted a tempting offer as publisher of Mr. Hearst's Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Mrs. Farley, learning of the Hearst proposal, remarked: "Tell Mr. Hearst that we're not Roosevelt."

INSURANCE MOGUL?
What Jim Farley seems to be looking for is a good job with an insurance company. Calvin Coolidge took an insurance directorship after he got out of the White House. Al Smith and Herbert Hoover also lent their names to big insurance companies.

Farley wouldn't mind being an executive in one of the bigger companies, but he wouldn't be keen about a directorship or some chair-warming job on the side. Insurance is highly respectable, and would carry no taint of liquor or anti-Roosevelt journalism if and when Jim shoots at the governorship of New York—or higher things.

Until the right job comes along, however, he is not judging from the post office department. Jim is young, only 49, and has plenty of time to go places. Also he is not without ambition.

And those who have seen him turn from the raw and hesitating speaker of 1932 into the polished, impromptu wielder of a dinner banter and political philosophy in 1936, think that he may go a long way.

Note: Mrs. Farley, who is always complaining that Jim would rather make speeches than make enough money to buy her a car, grouches privately against the Roosevelt. She thinks the President has not properly recognized her husband's ability.

BABY STARS

Most interesting group of registrants under the social security act are the child and baby stars of Hollywood.

The old-age pension system applies to everyone who works, regardless of age. So little Shirley Temple and the other starlets have a registration number and pay weekly assessments just like the oldest actor in Hollywood.

They can't begin drawing pensions until they reach the age of 65—which for Shirley will be 57 years from now.

HOT SUMMER

This is sad news for the boys in congress.

Air conditioning of the capitol, for which they appropriated $4,200,000 last year, will not be completed in time for use this summer.

With the certainty of the session continuing through July and possibly August, this means that the boys are in for a lot of hot sweaters. The house and senate chambers and some of the offices are cooled, but the rest of the great legislative plant is not.

Complete air conditioning was authorized two years ago to make the capitol habitable in Washington's super-heated summer months. It was expected that the work would be completed by January, 1936, but when bids were opened it was found that not enough money had been voted. This forced a delay until the 1936 session, when the balance was authorized.

As soon as congress quit late last year, work on the project believed by engineers to be the biggest of its kind, was started. Walls, floors and ceilings in the capitol and the office buildings were torn out and for months the structure lay under a heavy pall of dust and debris.

Owing to the massiveness of the walls, particularly in the century-old capitol, the estimated rate of construction could not be maintained. Also, the convening of congress in January slowed up work so that the engineers now find it will be impossible to finish the job by June.

The project is unique not only for its size but because the cooled and wasted air will be pumped through a mile-long tunnel from a central power plant. The system will operate the year around, cooled air being furnished in the hot months and warm air in winter.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The A. P. of L. has started organizing its women folk. At an unglamorous meeting in Washington, several hundred representatives of the mothers, wives and daughters of unionists affiliated with the Federation launched the American Federation of Women's Auxiliaries of Labor.

The declared purpose of the organization is to "use the collective buying power of the families of organized workers as a weapon to further the cause of collective bargaining."

Two teachers of public speaking, Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma and Representative Jennings Randolph of West Virginia, want to get the whole country oratory-minded. They are authors of a bill to extend to every state the public forums which the office of education has been conducting since 1917. The measure calls for a three-year forum program at a cost of $2,200,000.

It will be curtains in June for the consumers bureau, the agency that succeeded the ill-fated NRA's consumers advisory board. Kicked from pillar to post, the bureau has had three different heads in the course of the past year, now is finally to be extinguished. . . . Melvin Ryder, one of the editors of "Happy Days," a CCC publication, was editor of an A. E. F. paper in France. "Happy Days," despite its claim to be the authorized weekly newspaper of the CCC, is not the official publication of the organization.

What Other Editors Say

15½ HOURS TO NEW YORK
(San Francisco News)

United Air Lines and the entire aviation industry from designers to pilots rate a cheer for the installation of 15½-hour service between San Francisco and New York.

To realize that you can leave New York at 5:55 p. m. and land at San Francisco Airport at 9:00 a. m. the following morning—traveling in comfort and even luxury, on regular schedule—is to realize another in the whole series of miracles that aviation has given us.

Today timidity and the expense—although that has been sharply reduced to substantial equality with first-class train costs—keep all except the few from using this new means of transportation. Tomorrow will be a different story. And no man's imagination can foresee the social changes that will come with tea on the Atlantic and breakfast next morning on the Pacific shore.

Howdy, folks! Many a man marries a woman simply because he admires her good judgment in selecting a husband.

"What are you cutting out of the paper?"

"An item about a man getting a divorce because his wife went through his pockets."

"What are you going to do with it?"

"Put it in my pocket."

Bright Moments

Andoche Junot, duke of Abrantes and a field marshal under Napoleon, literally rose from the ranks to become one of the republic's greatest military leaders. How Napoleon came to hear of him was very peculiar. Junot and several of his fellow officers were dining in a tent one evening, and a shell fell into the midst of the group.

Junot scrambled for safety, but Junot seized a glass and exclaimed: "To the memory of those of us who are about to perish!" All rushed back, grabbed their glasses and drank the toast. The shell burst, killing one and wounding several others. As the man fell dead, Junot calmly tossed off his bumper, crying: "To the memory of a hero."

RIDING HIGH

Ever since I first saw one of them some years ago I've wanted to ride the upper deck of one of the long gray buses that scoot hither and yon all over America.

This week my chance came. One more objective reached after many years.

I learned what possibly everyone else already knew—that the upper deck of the double-deck stage coaches is for smokers. "No smoking on lower deck," said a big sign up over the driver's head. I didn't want to smoke, but went aloft anyway.

Now riding in the forward seat of the upper deck is like a coasting downhill behind them. And any fair-sized bump in the road makes your loose-jointed seat cushion toss you like (I imagine) a camel rider is tossed.

It wasn't so long ago that folks were saying among themselves, "Oh, the poor railroads; the motor buses and airplanes have them gasping for breath."

It wasn't a dying gasp, apparently, for the railroads have come back stronger than ever, and are making a real bid for supremacy in the matter of passenger transportation.

After my ride on the upper deck of the hump-backed motor bus I am willing to hazard a guess that the bus people had better get a hump on themselves or the railroads will take them to a cleaning.

Maybe I wasn't on the very tip-top bus of all the bus lines. Maybe I was riding on an old model. Maybe a lot of other possibilities and alibis. The fact remains that it was a major run between two cities in the far west—and that it wasn't any too great shakes of a ride. I can do without the bumpy, clattery, gear-shy ride I took on that double-decker.

The bus line I rode on was named after a call and a restful ocean and a very fast dog (crossword puzzle fans attention). The ride was neither very restful nor very fast. Dozens of flivvers passed us by in the course of an hour.

This is not written as a serious complaint. It's intended more as a friendly tip to motor bus men to watch their step.

Skinny Skribbles

Les Fountain, the Santa Ana Mexican explorer and local voice of experience, has reached the City of Mexico. An overcast sky assailed him from attending a bull fight. He said it looked like rain, and if it didn't rain the sky would be so cloudy he couldn't get a good color picture so he decided to get the color some other place. Les is a keen observer. He doesn't go several thousand miles just to say he's been in Mexico. That boy absorbs, he remembers what he sees and can tell you about it when he gets home. I rather get the impression he makes his vacations pay him back in information.

I am reminded that there appeared recently in this column a reference to Brad Hellis, and it wasn't spelled that way, but I was too polite to spell it the hot way.

Dave Shultz, grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, who passed through Santa Ana yesterday en route to San Diego, in a Los Angeles address, says Communism and Fascism and Nazism are entitled to no place in the American form of democracy, that they are incompatible with our traditions and should be removed, or words to that effect. Which rather gives me the opinion that the Floridian believes in Americanism first and other isms not at all.

Sam Sender is beginning to weaken. The weather is breaking down his resistance and he threatens to go fishing. If he hadn't read this column he said he would have asked me to go along.

Naw, I didn't hear the king's speech. Out until midnight and too tired to remain any longer, so I decided that God or some one had to be kidding. My dope sheet said he had a lot of fellows looking after him anyway, so why should I stay up and worry about whether he got his crown. Over here we are all kings. Pictures of the coronation were in our paper so why spend the money to go to London when they bring the coronation to you. All Ned Edwards can do when he gets home is to tell you about it, and that will be stale news.

And then there was the "kids" who sent a mother's day card after making several alterations and a P. S. apology that it came from the heart after it had added a cipher to the original price of 10 cents.

Mrs. W. L. A. wants something done about "the loose dog nuisance." So do I. Whose going to do it? I'm familiar with that old stuff about a dog being your best friend, but the dogs around my neighborhood are getting entirely too friendly. Rather gleamed from a conversation with John Estes that he feels the same way I do. Maybe Mrs. W. L. A. and John and I can form an indignation nucleus. And don't misunderstand me, I like dogs, but I like 'em better on a leash, or at least not quite so playful with the other fellow's lawn.

The American Legion "Hi-Lites" reports that a patron went into a third floor and asked the bartender if he thought the beverage would affect his eyesight, to which the bartender replied: "Not if you pay for it."

Jim Evans, who bends iron rods and evens horseshoes, don't have to worry where A tough steak wouldn't mean anything to him. If he had his teeth he would have to have some one "shoe the horse." Evans' strength may not be equal to that of Sampson, but he hasn't any disposition to pull down the pillars of the temple so it isn't necessary that he be as strong as Sampson. However, I wouldn't select him as a sparring partner, and it isn't because I dislike him. The physical differential is too great.

There are so many sales going on that I can't tell whether I'm on land or water. But the discriminating buyer can, so why should I be troubled. Santa Ana is an interesting and safe place to trade and that is more important than for me to know whether I'm drifting or just getting along.

Some day I'm going to find out how far I walk in a day. Les Steinkopf has loaned me a pedometer. I'm to put it under my belt, along with a lot of other things, and if there isn't any quarrel I'll get my answer. Heretofore I have had to depend upon my shoes. Usually wear them about two years. That's because they cost me so much I've got to get the most out of them. I figure out the mileage from the life of the shoes. But Les has the accurate test in the pedometer. It's a nice little piece of machinery, same as an ordinary watch. It doesn't tell the time of day but it tells about the perambulation. If it has a dictaphone in it Les will never get it back.
